Teachers Chant: 'Pink Slip Milliken!'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — More than 1,000 teachers rallied on the Capitol steps Monday night to protest widespread layoffs and a tight-fisted state budget for education.

The teachers gathered in a chilly dusk wind as lawmakers filed to their 8 p.m. session. They listened to several sympathetic legislators urge them to fight for more funds and the taxes to pay for them. The teachers carried signs like "Lay off politicians, not teachers," and "Stop playing politics with education." They chanted: "Pink slip Milliken!" expressing anger at Gov. William Milliken's recommended budget for the upcoming fiscal year.

"The problem has emanated right from this Capitol building," said David McMahon, president of the Michigan Education Association, which organized the rally. "We're here today to state clearly we're teachers who have been pinkslipped, sacked because of the governor's irresponsibility." The MEA claims up to 10,000 teachers have been told they may be laid off because of cutbacks in state aid.

The governor's new budget carried a guaranteed raise of 3.7 per cent in total state and local revenue, but was down $6 million in state funding. Education supporters say that would force local districts to increase their millage assements. The legislature also accepted a gubernatorial budget cutback this year taking some $40 million away from school aid.

Earlier this year, the Michigan Association of School Boards predicted districts would have to fire 3,100 teachers or raise property taxes an average of two mills to avoid cutting programs. McMahon assailed the governor and legislature for such financial gimmickry as extending the fiscal year and predicted the day of reckoning would come after the election. "That's when reality will hit the Michigan taxpayer like a ton of financial bricks," he said.

Several lawmakers who back higher taxes to provide the desired services, urged the teachers to press for that tax hike. "We cannot convince the people we are in a desperate situation," said Sen. Richard Allen, R-Alma, who has co-authored a bill raising the income tax from 4.6 to 6.6 per cent.

Following the rally, the teachers moved into the Capitol in hopes of buttonholing individual lawmakers to plead their case.

Horse Track At Three Oaks Gets 1st Okay

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

THREE OAKS — Plans for a proposed horse racing track near here cleared the starting gate last night.

After a near two-hour public hearing, the Three Oaks township zoning board unanimously voted to recommend that the site of the $10 million to $15 million development be rezoned to permit construction.

No major opposition was raised during the hearing against the proposed Michiana Raceway which is to be located on 480 acres south of US-12, about 1½ miles southwest of this community.

Chalmer Ackerman, township attorney from Three Oaks, said the proposed rezoning, from residential to planned development, must now be approved by the township board.

Ackerman said the township must also approve construction plans and issue a building permit before construction could begin. The township board is expected to consider the zoning board's recommendation at its June 7 meeting.

The proposed track must also obtain a license from the state racing commission and be issued dates on which it could run horse races.

The track would be for both thoroughbred and harness racing according to plans outlined during the hearing.

Principal investors in the development are Hanley Dawson of Chicago and Jerry Smith, Clarkston, Mich. Both were present for the meeting.

Over 300 people attended the public hearing on the proposed rezoning. The crowd was moved to the Three Oaks middle school from the nearby township hall after officials realized the hall could not hold the crowd.

Paul Hicks, of Spring Creek road, Three Oaks, was the only one to voice opposition to the plan and drew a small round of applause when he told the zoning board, "I just don't like race tracks."

Beryl Hinman of Three Oaks road, Three Oaks, drew a loud response of cheers and applause when he told the board, "I'm for it (the track)."

A battery of 10 men, including architects and engineers representing Smith and Dawson, various horse racing and breeding associations in the state and B. Dale Ball, state agriculture director, answered questions from the crowd.

Sanford Rossen, of the Detroit architectural firm of Rossen-Neumann associates, told the board that the track development would be confined to an estimated 230 acres of the 480-acre site.

Rossen said the proposed facility would include an enclosed, heated and air conditioned grandstand facing a ⅝-mile track. Parking spaces for 4,700 customer cars would be provided.

The raceway would also include a horse breeding and training farm with six barns housing 200 horses each and a one-half mile training track.

Estimated construction costs range from $10 million to $15 million, according to Victor Spaniolo of Cassopolis, an investment broker and former newspaper publisher who represents the investors.

Voters Prefer Milliken Over Legislature

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. William Milliken is nearly twice as popular with Michigan voters as the state legislature is, according to a polling organization. Market Opinion Research based the poll on telephone interviews of 500 Michigan adults during the period from April 21 to May 1. The copyrighted poll story was published in today's editions of the Detroit News. About 60 per cent of all voters approved of Milliken, compared to 21 per cent who disapproved. The state legislature got approval from 30 per cent of all voters, while 39 per cent disapproved.

Republican Milliken is approved by 73 per cent of Michigan's Republicans, 67 per cent of the independents and 51 per cent of the Democrats, the poll showed. The Democratic legislature was approved by 27 per cent of Republicans, 37 per cent of independents and 31 per cent of the state's Democrats.

Market Opinion Research officials said the poll showed 47 per cent of those who support Milliken list themselves as strong supporters. Some 17 per cent rated themselves as strong disapprovers. Milliken has strong support in the entire state and a majority in southeastern Michigan, pollsters said. They added the governor's strongest supporters are Republicans, women, whites, unionists and conservatives.

In the legislature tally, 24 per cent of those surveyed listed themselves as strong supporters and 33 per cent as strong disapprovers. The legislature got most of its support from areas outside southeastern Michigan, from independents, females, whites, unionists and liberals.

24-Hour Shock Generated By $10,000 Ticket

By DICK DERRICK
Staff Writer

Mrs. Geraldine S. Morton was in "complete shock" for 24 hours after her husband, Jack, scratched four instant lottery tickets and came up with a $10,000 winner. That was about 3 p.m. Sunday. After a sleepless night the couple went to Lansing Monday morning and turned in the ticket for verification and assurances from the state lottery bureau. The check will be sent in three or four weeks.

She is the second reported Twin City area winner of $10,000 in the new instant game introduced April 20. Sam Guardino of Fairplain won $10,000 April 29.

Mrs. Morton said she got the $10,000 winner at Hilltop Foods, Riverview drive, Benton Harbor. She said she had two $2 winners that were purchased earlier. She turned them in at Hilltop for four $1 tickets.

She and her husband went home and began scratching off the tickets. The first three were losers, then the last one produced six 6s to match the number at the top of the ticket.

Morton showed the ticket to his wife. She thought it was worth $50 or $100. It was after he pointed out it was worth $10,000 that the shock set in.

There were excited to calls to Morton's mother in Alma and his five brothers and two sisters in Florida, Ohio and Michigan and to Mrs. Morton's mother, also in Alma.

Lottery officials advised Mrs. Morton to check with Internal Revenue service regarding the federal tax. She plans to purchase a new car for her husband who commutes to New Buffalo daily. Morton is terminal manager of General Transport, Inc., formerly of St. Joseph.

Mrs. Morton, 52, is a bookkeeper at Cohen Iron and Metals Co. of Benton Harbor. The Mortons live at 3293 US-33 North, Hagar township.

Housing Short? Just Wait!

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — You think there's a housing shortage now? In the next 30 years, the United Nations says, 3.5 billion more people will need places to live, and that's enough to create 3,500 cities of a million residents each. There are fewer than 300 cities of that size now. Aware of that, 4,000 delegates from 120 nations meet here for two weeks beginning Sunday in the fifth United Nations conference to be held this decade — the U.N. Conference on Human Settlements, or Habitat. Delegates, in committee work and plenary sessions, will try to devise ways for coping with the worldwide urban crisis.

School Board Goes On $3,682 Junket

By LARRY MacINTYRE
Staff Writer

GOBLES — Gobles school district tax funds were used to pay expenses for six board members, the superintendent and all their spouses at a four-day national school board convention in San Francisco last month, school officials acknowledged this morning.

The total cost amounted to at least, $3,682 based on figures compiled from the officials by this newspaper.

The expenses included payment of the $175 round-trip air fare for all but the wife of Supt. Guy Leversee, according to information released by Karl Blaha, school board president.

Blaha released the figures this morning after being contacted by this newspaper. At the regular meeting of the school board last night, he and other board members had declined to answer audience questions on how much the trip cost.

Blaha, who attended the convention, is seeking re-election to a third, four-year term this November in the rural school district of about 1,100 students in northeastern Van Buren county.

The other board members who attended the annual convention April 10 through 13 were Linda Hurst, Carl Gilbert, Mary Sutherby, David Evans and Richard Markus. Board member Clyde Crawford remained behind.

In addition to air fare for 13 people, Blaha said school district funds were used to pay hotel bills, registration fees and meals.

Blaha said the cost of a double room for each couple was $22 a night and they all spent three nights there.

He said the district gave each board member and Leversee $20 a day for meals and the district paid the $75 convention registration fee for the six board members and superintendent.

This is the first year that school district funds have been used to pay spouses' air fare, Blaha said.

He said the total cost of the trip was not revealed at last night's board meeting because it still has not been compiled. He predicted the board would have a complete accounting of all convention expenses available for release at the next school board meeting, Monday, June 14.

He said the board had agreed to pay spouses' air fare and hotel bills this year so as not to encourage anyone who might want to use the trip as an excuse to get away from his spouse.

"We like to promote a family thing," Blaha said. "A good many people go to a convention just to get away from their spouse and have a good time — and we don't advocate that."

He said the district spends a

First Area Berries For BH Market

The first crate of strawberries of the new season reached the Benton Harbor Fruit market this morning, brought on by the fiancee of a young Dowagiac grower, Terry Ausra.

Miss Ruth Hassle, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hassle of Decatur, showed up at the trading lot with one 16-quart crate of Midway variety berries before 9 o'clock this morning.

Ausra raised the berries on ground he has rented from the Hassles. Mr. and Mrs. Hassle until three years ago were one of the largest strawberry producers in Michigan, but they have discontinued the crop.

Market Manager Al Braudo said the first crate will be sold at the traditional season-opening auction at 10 a.m. Friday on the market. In the interval, the berries will be held in cold storage. Arrival of the first crate today was eight days earlier that last year's initial crate, which showed up on June 2.

Mrs. Ford's Absence Stalls Meeting In BH

The Benton Harbor city commission will again attempt to transact business tonight after failing to obtain a quorum Monday because of the absence of Commissioner Helen Ford.

Monday's meeting was adjourned until 7:30 p.m. today by unanimous vote of the four commissioners present — Arnold Bolin, Edmund Eaman, Alfred Williams and Charles Yarbrough — after a 15-minute recess to see if Mrs. Ford would appear.

Mayor Charles Joseph and three other commissioners were removed from office in last week's recall election and all five of the remaining commissioners are required for a quorum capable of transacting business.

City Manager James Peeples Jr. said he had not seen Mrs. Ford since the night of the recall election and had been unable to contact her. He said her office at Berrien County Action, Inc., had indicated that she was out of town over the weekend.

Peeples also said he had been in contact with the office of Gov. William Milliken about the possibility of the governor making an appointment to the city commission in the event a quorum can not be obtained from the present five commissioners.

Under state law, the governor may make a temporary appointment to enable the commission to transact business and appoint other commissioners to serve until all vacancies can be filled by voters in the Aug. 3 primary election.

Maurice Bishop, chairman of the recall drive, charged that Mrs. Ford's absence was just a means of "punishing us" by preventing transaction of city business.

Mrs. Ford, executive director of Berrien County Action, was appointed Feb. 9 by vote of the four recalled commissioners to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of F. Joseph Flaugh.

Bishop has challenged her appointment in court on two grounds — that she owed the city back taxes at the time of her appointment and that she was in conflict of interest by being a member of a compensation board that recommended raises for the mayor and city commissioners.

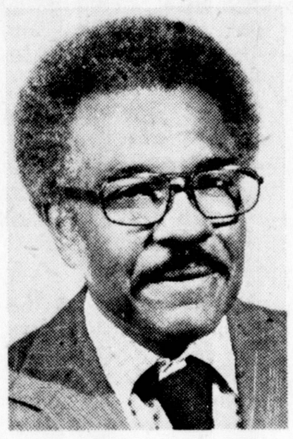

Former Commissioner Carl Brown, another leader of the recall drive, said that challenge will be pursued in Berrien Circuit court.

Election Slated August 3 To Fill Vacant BH Seats

Acting Benton Harbor City Clerk T.J. (Jack) Carter announced today that the Berrien county special elections scheduling committee has authorized an election Aug. 3 for filling four vacant seats on the city commission. Carter said he received notification of the authorizaation from County Clerk Forrest Kesterke, chairman of the elections scheduling committee. Aug. 3 is the same date as the state primary election. Nominating petitions for the vacant seats must be filed by 4 p.m. on June 8 at the Benton Harbor city clerk's office. The vacant seats are those recalled in last week's election — mayor, commissioner-at-large, Second Ward commissioner and Third Ward commissioner.

'Cut-A-Thon' Will Benefit Gard School Playgrounds

A 24-hour Cut-A-Thon will be held Friday and Saturday at Edd Gerring's Haircrafter shop, 715 Gard avenue, St. Joseph, with all proceeds going to the Gard school athletic fund, Gerring announced. The Cut-A-Thon starts at 3 p.m. Friday and goes continously until 3 p.m. Saturday. Appointment should be made by calling the shop. Men's and women's haircutting will be by Gerring, Ron Effner and Cindy Schmitt. Proceeds will be used for playground equipment at Gard school for the handicapped.

SJ Drops Appeal Of Tax Cutback

The St. Joseph city commission voted yesterday to drop its appeal to the State Tax Commission (STC) over a cutback in the city's 1975 property valuation because Berrien county has withdrawn its appeal to the STC.

The Berrien board of commissioners last week authorized withdrawal of the county's appeal challenging a $39 million increase by the STC in the county's valuation. Before the state made the increase, the county had cut St. Joseph's valuation by $2.6 million as part of a county-wide reduction of 4.5 per cent.

St. Joseph had appealed the county cutback because it lowered the city's tax base and meant $45,000 less tax revenue.

However, the state restored the cutback made by the county. The county appealed that restoration, then dropped the appeal.

St. Joseph City Assessor Dick Kiesel noted yesterday: "Once they (the county) dropped the appeal we had nothing to gain by continuing ours."

In other business at yesterday's meeting, the commission voted unanimously to ratify Tom Gillespie as St. Joseph police chief — a position he has held for 29 years.

Reason for the vote was that the city charter states no person can serve as police chief if he has a relative on the city commission unless the commission grants unanimous approval during each term of the relative. Chief Gillespie is a brother of William Gillespie who has been on the commission since 1974.

The commission also voted to enter into a contract for $30,205 with the State Highway Department for maintenance of state trunk lines in the city.

The city will receive the money for maintenance of streets designated as part of the state highway trunk line system. Last year's contract was for $27,635. In voting approval, the commission also named City Manager Gerald W. Heppler to act as representative for the city in dealing with the highway department in this matter.

The commission approved four licenses at $35 apiece to allow the Twin City Cab Lines to operate and four licenses for Action Ambulance to operate in the city during fiscal year 1976-77. The present licenses expire June 1. Rampart ambulance, as of yesterday morning, had not applied for any licenses for the upcoming fiscal year.

Approved by the commission were requests by the St. Joseph Art association to hold the Art Fair July 11 (rain date July 18) and from the Child and Family Services of St. Joseph to hold an ice cream social on the same date.

The commission adjourned until June 7 at 7:30 p.m. There will be no meeting next Monday because of Memorial Day.

Kechkaylo Adds New Service

William V. Kechkaylo, president of Kechkaylo Real Estate Co., of Berrien county, announced his firm has been elected to membership in RELO/Inter-City Relocation Service Co., a real estate relocation service.

RELO is composed of over 850 real estate firms serving some 8,500 communities by assisting transferring corporate personnel and individuals in selling and buying homes.

Kechkaylo said: "RELO membership will enable us to offer assistance to families moving to other sections of the U.S. and overseas as well as help families moving into Berrien county."

RELO headquarters are located in Chicago. It was organized in 1960 to provide individual and corporate relocation service throughout the nation.

Kechkaylo has offices in Berrien Springs, St. Joseph, Coloma and Niles.

Democratic Supervisor Battle Looms In Benton

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

A battle for the Democratic nomination for Benton township supervisor appeared set today with announcement by township Treasurer Joseph Postelli that he is a candidate for supervisor.

Postelli, 52, is the second candidate to announce for the post being vacated by retiring Martin J. Lane. Township Clerk Catheryn Sirk also is running for the Democratic nomination for supervisor.

No Republicans have declared candidacy yet, but the GOP is reported forming a slate to challenge Democrats who hold 5 to 2 control of the township board.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is Tuesday, June 1. The primary election is Aug. 3 and general election Nov. 2.

Postelli, of 2892 Territorial road, is completing his first term as treasurer. He said: "I beieve I can benefit the township more by sserving as supervisor."

He has farmed for many years and was employed by Auto Specialities Manufacturing Co. before becoming treasurer.

He is a member of Disabled American Veterans and the Knights of Columbus. He and his wife, Lucille, are the parents of two married children and one living at home.

There appears at least one another contest for a Democratic nomination in August. James H. Lechenet Jr., 2291 Benton Center road, and Jerry M. Campbell, 1924 Hatch street, have filed nominating petitions for one constable's post.

The township board of trustees several months ago voted to reduce the number of constables from two to one with this year's election.

Incumbent constables are Andrew Davis and Clayton Wallace. Davis, 45, said he is not seeking re-election. Wallace has not announced if he will be a candidate.

Deputy Will Seek Lincoln Clerk Post

Mrs. Christine Welch, Lincoln township deputy clerk has filed petitions for election as Lincoln township clerk in this year's township elections.

Mrs. Welch's announcement comes in the wake of Clerk Bernice Tretheway's announcement that she has filed nominating petitions on the GOP ticket for the office of Lincoln township supervisor. Ernest Hauch, current supervisor, is not seeking re-election. Mrs. Welch filed for the Republican nomination as clerk.

In announcing her candidacy, Mrs. Welch stated she feels her experience as deputy township clerk for the past 10 years is an asset to her in seeking the clerk's position.

Prior to being employed as deputy township clerk, Mrs. Welch, 44, worked as an executive secretary at Whirlpool Corporation and as a legal secretary in New Jersey.

Mrs. Welch has been a member of the township planning commission since its inception in 1965 and is a member of the county Republican womens' club and township GOP club.

She is president-elect of the Lakeshore Lianas; publicity chairman of the Lakeshore band parents; past president of the Roosevelt elementary school PTA; past president of the Lakeshore junior high PTA; was active in the scouting program; charter member and past president of the Lakeshore Jaycee auxiliary; and charter member and past president of the Fruitland chapter of the National Secretaries association.

Born in Bloomfield, N.J., she graduated from high school in Hasbrouck Heights, N.J., and attended executive secretarial school at LaSalle Extension university in New York, prior to moving to Berrien county in 1951.

She resides with her husband, Eugene, at 1862 North Donna drive, Stevensville. They have four sons, one a student at Western Michigan university, and three Lakeshore school students.

Malpractice Quagmire Remains Deep As Ever

The headlines have shifted from the doctors' slowdown in Southern California early in the year to which candidate is picking up delegate votes to the Republican and Democratic conventions, but the conditions behind the medical strike remain unchanged. If anything, they have deteriorated.

The slowdown was called to dramatize the unseemly rise in malpractice awards to patients and the premiums for insurance to protect the physicians and surgeons being hauled into court. Prior to and since the strike, 22 states have created government operated liability insurance pools. Governor Edmund G. Brown, Jr., is trying to induce the California legislature to adopt a similar plan. The principal divergence is Brown's proposal to establish a $1 million ceiling per law suit which is considerably higher than that effective elsewhere.

In New York state, Governor Hugh L. Carey is asking the legislature to limit the fee paid to the plaintiff's attorney.

In Maryland, effective this July 1st, a malpractice claim exceeding $5,000 must first go before an arbitration panel before it can be heard in court. The system is expected to foster more claims but smaller awards.

Last year the Illinois legislature adopted the same procedure and then added a $500,000 limitation on a malpractice award. Currently the monetary ceiling is under judicial review as the result of a ruling by a circuit judge that the money limit offends the Illinois state constitution. He took particular aim at the pain and suffering barrier a monetary ceiling is prone to erect.

Last week Governor Milliken vetoed a bill enacted by the Michigan legislature creating a license review system. The bill was the latest in a series of measures passed earlier in the year in an effort to pull the malpractice menace back to containable proportions.

While the Illinois circuit judge may be on sound legalistic grounds as laid down by his state constitution and Milliken's objection to the license review plan as a cure being worse that the ailment is probably sound, it must be plain that the various states are fencing with a problem which can only be handled by wrestling to earth.

Not only are escalating premiums laid upon doctors and hospitals for malpractice insurance padding the inflation in medical care, so are defensive measures being taken in an effort to thwart a claimant. Unnecessary operations and dispensing excessive amounts of drugs are being resorted to in the effort to dispute a patient's assertion in being given inadequate care.

Equally untouched in the contributive factor by the medics and hospitals to the malpractice equation. This is the failure to clamp down on the incompetent practicioner and the slipshod institution. It is their errors which cause the insurance companies to penalize the majority of their insureds.

What should be the norm of adequate care at a reasonable cost, with a minimum of running into court, is a nationwide courtroom test of wits and a cost which is indefensible.

It would seem to us it might be in order to look northward to Canada which long ago substituted arbitration by experts for courtroom histrionics and inhouse policing of the medical profession for the timidity chacterizing the U.S. approach to the problem.

There must be something to the Canadian method.

Our northern cousins complain loudly at prices in the stores, but there is no groundswell against their doctors and hospitals. The average yearly premium for malpractice insurance is $400 per doctor. Out in sunny California the same coverage can hit $32,000 for a general surgeon.

And so far, as can be learned, nobody is accusing Canadian health care of being substandard.

Food Stamp Reform Is Hard To Come By

On May 4, when the Agriculture Department announced the adoption of stricter food stamp eligibility requirements, the response was immediate. Ronald Pollack, director of the public interest Food Research and Action Center, called the new regulations "clearly illegal," and announced for altering the food stamp program while Congress was actively considering changes of its own.

Despite such sentiment, the Agriculture Department has gone ahead with its plans to cut back the food stamp program. The new regulations, which take effect in stages beginning Tuesday, June 1, are calculated to save $1.2-billion a year and eliminate five million persons from the program. In exchange, the department says the new rules will raise benefits for the poorest participating families.

The food stamp program, which provides stamps at discount prices for food purchases at retail stores, arouses emotions on both sides of the political spectrum. Liberals want to provide low-income families with protection against hunger, while conservatives argue the program has gone too far. Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D-Ga.) articulated a widespread complaint when he said that nothing makes working families madder than "living alongside a guy who is not hitting a lick at a snake and getting all sorts of welfare benefits." Other criticisms have to do with rising costs, inefficiency and fraud.

Supporters of the food stamp program do not deny that changes need to be made. But many of them oppose the new Agriculture Department regulations because they feel too many needy families will be dropped from the rolls. The Senate on April 8 passed a bill that would tighten eligibility rules to cut approximately 1.4 million persons from the program and increase benefits for recipients in the lowest income brackets. Although hearings on similar legislation began in the House Agriculture Committee on Jan. 28, no bill has yet reached the House floor. It thus appears that the Ford administration's policy will prevail.

SJ Reader's One Of 'Many' At Odds With The Prosecutor

Mr. Smletanka
Prosecutor's Office
Berrien County Court House
St. Joseph, Michigan

As a taxpayer and resident of Berrien County I am writing this letter so you will know that I am one of the many that is dissatisfied and displeased with some recent happenings from your office.

A friend was on jury duty some months ago and was seated on a jury along with 11 others and listened to a trial. After all the facts facts had been presented, it was very obvious that there was no basis for charges against the young man, just a clear case of an incident not being investigated. The Judge dismissed the whole matter after a day was spent for all those people, jury, lawyers and the judge, plus all the money it cost.

I thought the main function of your office was to thoroughly investigate these things before they got to court. It is no wonder Berrien County's agenda is so backed up we need another judge.

Another case I find most distressing is that of Tom McCoy. I agree with his statement in the paper that he is being persecuted, rather than prosecuted. I don't think we needed a grand jury to say 10 years ago he might have used a wrong date.

I can't imagine your office appealing the previous case against Mr. McCoy, that was thrown out of court.

It appears to me that someone in your office is fighting a personal vendetta against Mr. McCoy at the cost of the taxpayers and the dignity of your office.

If harassment was the purpose I'd say the job was done and he should be cleared of the first charge as completely as he was of the second, then maybe your office could get down to the business of prosecuting some criminals. What is really sad is that this could happen to anyone, to have some ridiculous charge brought against them, and have to spend thousands of dollars to defend themselves, and then have the charges dropped, quietly dropped that is, not the big splash in the paper that accompanied the charges. I wonder where the justice is?

In conclusion, I would like to say,— are you sure you want to run for this office the next election?

EDITOR'S NOTE: If she's writing about this newspaper, Reader Davis makes one inaccurate charge herself when she says "and then have the charges dropped, quietly dropped that is, not the big splash in the paper reporting the charges." The article that the perjury charge against Atty. McCoy had been dismissed was published prominently at the top of this newspaper's front page with his picture, on Thusday, May 20, to be exact.

Union Shop Under Siege

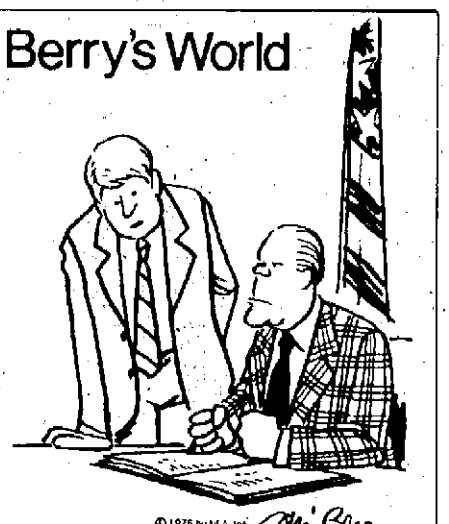

WASHINGTON (AP) — The union shop, a cornerstone of labor's strength for more than 100 years, is under a legal siege that threatens its survival.

The outcome of the battle is far from certain. But union attorneys say that a recent California federal court decision, if sustained by higher courts, could seriously weaken or destroy union-shop agreements under which all workers must join the union.

Carter's Life Too Righteous

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — For some months now I have had a feeling of unease about Jimmy Carter. But nothing I could put my finger on.

In the past few days I have read a biography by the man himself, and I now know what gave rise to my unease. Nowhere in its 154 pages could I find an admission of a single fault.

Well, maybe three but listen:

He confesses that perhaps in his student days at the Naval Academy, he didn't always do his best.

But he immediately cancels that admission by noting he was in the top 7 per cent of his class.

And on page 139 he lists "A fault; I don't know how to compromise on any principle I believe is right ..." Then he adds "But maybe this is a time on matters of principle, for an absence of compromise."

From his young manhood on, by his own account, Carter was engaged at all times, waking or sleeping, with the pursuit of excellence and the righting of wrongs. Carter's other confessions are always phrased in words that picture him unusually devoted to his beliefs. He admits to having made 3,000 political visits for himself in three months while making 140 visits to families to witness for God in 14 years. What stands out, of course, is that it is highly unusual for a man in public life to spend that amount of time in individual witnessing in addition to the many duties of a regular church goer.

Somehow, this Jimmy Carter was always right, even though some wrongs in society did not occur to him as wrongs in his earlier years. It was simply that he'd given these matters no thought.

During the past several decades as a newsman, I've met, read about and studied a good many remarkable men, some powerful and famous, some not well known but great all the same. All had warts but their greatness outshone their faults.

The greatest men and women I met over the years, Helen Keller, Will Rogers, Albert Einstein, were humble, aware of their own weaknesses and what they owed to others. None vaunted their goodness.

Now it may be argued that no politician, writing after one campaign and while readying himself for another, is about to be modest.

But Jimmy Carter claims to be a different kind of politician, guided by tenets of a faith which puts down the parading of goodness and which honors the honest confession of fault.

And Carter's very protestations of goodness and rectitude raise questions in our mind.

On page 63 of his book he mentions that in Norfolk as an ensign, his salary was $300 a month "out of which we paid $100 for rent, $54 for my food and the ship, and $75 for a war bond. That left $71 for all other expenses in a month's time."

That paints a pretty picture of patriotism — a fourth of his salary for a war bond. But it left his wife little to live on, especially with a son coming. One wonders.

One wonders, too, at the feeling through the book that in his campaigning and political activity as governor, Jimmy Carter believes strongly and vigorously that those who fight him, and who disagree strongly with those causes and programs he favors, are not in honest disagreement, but motivated by goals not as idealistic as his. Carter does not come right out and say it, but I came away from his book with the clear feeling that he is separating the "righteous" from the "less righteous."

All this disturbs me. But perhaps it is because I am so used to sinners like myself.

Holds Busing Is Not The Law

Out on the primary trail, most of the candidates have taken extremely cautious positions on forced racial busing.

Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter say they personally oppose forced busing. But they point out that it is "the law of the land" and promise to "support the law."

The more liberal candidates, such as Mo Udall, usually omit their personal opinion of busing but affirm that it is "the law of the land."

Alonge among the surviving candidates, Ronald Reagan backs a constitutional amendment to block forced busing, but even his position here has an abstract character.

On the legal front, however, Attorney General Edward H. Levi and Solicitor General Robert H. Bork are said to be considering a move to ask the Supreme Court to review the decision giving the Federal courts power to enforce busing in order the desegregate schools.

What about the statement that busing is "the law of the land"?

Suppose a well known public figure came forward and talked in the following terms:

"The 14th Amendment has become a crystal ball for all sorts of rulings and when legal authority fails to provide a foundation for an opinion, the Supreme Court adopted the opinions of social scientists on school integration. . .

"The amendment guarantees no rights to white or black. All it does is say that if a right is granted to a white man, the black man must have the same right. The framers sought only to grant the Negro minimal liberties and carefully enumerated them so that they could get equal protection over contracts, wages, and enjoy the same rights grant a white man. But if a white man was not specifically granted a right, the amendment is silent. . ."

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 and its dependence upon the 14th Amendment "don't mesh when the thinking of the framers of the 1969 amendment is taken into view from historical research. . . To the contrary; my studies indicate the framers of the 14th Amendment would be the last to call for mixed schools. . .

"Just as in a contract or a will, the court must decide what the person wanted done or agreed to do, not what the judge thinks should be done. . . I have never believed in accordion or weather-vane law. Neither did the founding fathers. I do not recall any provision granting unlimited power to the nine men on the Court. Such power would be undemocratic."

We should celebrate the Bicentennial by "grounding judges flying by the seat of their pants in the courtrooms. Law made by judges based on oracles, social scientists, crystal ball gazing, and personal feelings requires, as is the case in Boston, more and more oppression and enforcement. It is like Prohibition law, unforceable." (My research on the 14th Amendment will) "leave most of the social legislation judges high and dry."

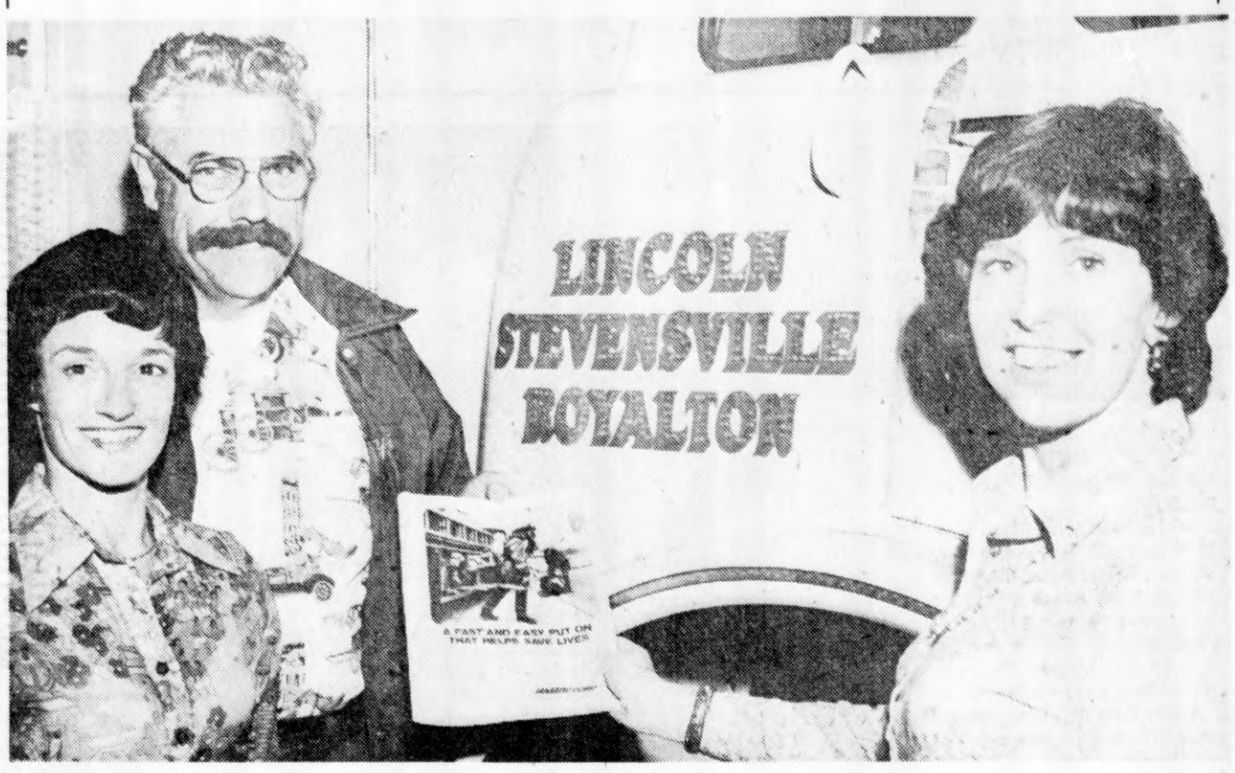

Well, just who do you think gave voice to these outrageous opinions?

The miscreant was none other than Prof. Raoul Berger, Charles Weaver senior fellow of American Legal History at Harvard. Berger, you may recall, published an important constitutional study of impeachment during the Watergate furor.

When the politicians on the stump proclaim that racial busing is the "law of the land" they are indulging in a complete cop-out.

Racial busing, as "law of the land," reflects the interests of a new elite of social engineers and academic theorists. It is therefore scarcely satisfactory for the politicians to intone that busing is "the law of the land."

Absence prevents meeting

Mrs. Ford's Absence Stalls Meeting In BH

The Benton Harbor city commission will again attempt to transact business tonight after failing to obtain a quorum Monday because of the absence of Commissioner Helen Ford.

Monday's meeting was adjourned until 7:30 p.m. today by unanimous vote of the four commissioners present — Arnold Bolin, Edmund Eaman, Alfred Williams and Charles Yarbrough — after a 15-minute recess to see if Mrs. Ford would appear.

Mayor Charles Joseph and three other commissioners were removed from office in last week's recall election and all five of the remaining commissioners are required for a quorum capable of transacting business.

City Manager James Peeples Jr. said he had not seen Mrs. Ford since the night of the recall election and had been unable to contact her. He said her office at Berrien County Action, Inc., had indicated that she was out of town over the weekend.

Peeples also said he had been in contact with the office of Gov. William Milliken about the possibility of the governor making an appointment to the city commission in the event a quorum can not be obtained from the present five commissioners.

Under state law, the governor may make a temporary appointment to enable the commission to transact business and appoint other commissioners to serve until all vacancies can be filled by voters in the Aug. 3 primary election.

Maurice Bishop, chairman of the recall drive, charged that Mrs. Ford's absence was just a means of "punishing us" by preventing transaction of city business.

Mrs. Ford, executive director of Berrien County Action, was appointed Feb. 9 by vote of the four recalled commissioners to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of F. Joseph Flaugh.

Bishop has challenged her appointment in court on two grounds — that she owed the city back taxes at the time of her appointment and that she was in conflict of interest by being a member of a compensation board that recommended raises for the mayor and city commissioners.

Former Commissioner Carl Brown, another leader of the recall drive, said that challenge will be pursued in Berrien Circuit court.

Election Slated August 3 To Fill Vacant BH Seats

Acting Benton Harbor City Clerk T.J. (Jack) Carter announced today that the Berrien county special elections scheduling committee has authorized an election Aug. 3 for filling four vacant seats on the city commission. Carter said he received notification of the authorizaation from County Clerk Forrest Kesterke, chairman of the elections scheduling committee. Aug. 3 is the same date as the state primary election. Nominating petitions for the vacant seats must be filed by 4 p.m. on June 8 at the Benton Harbor city clerk's office. The vacant seats are those recalled in last week's election — mayor, commissioner-at-large, Second Ward commissioner and Third Ward commissioner.

A 24-hour Cut-A-Thon will be held Friday and Saturday at Edd Gerring's Haircrafter shop, 715 Gard avenue, St. Joseph, with all proceeds going to the Gard school athletic fund, Gerring announced. The Cut-A-Thon starts at 3 p.m. Friday and goes continously until 3 p.m. Saturday. Appointment should be made by calling the shop. Men's and women's haircutting will be by Gerring, Ron Effner and Cindy Schmitt. Proceeds will be used for playground equipment at Gard school for the handicapped.

SJ Drops Appeal Of Tax Cutback

The St. Joseph city commission voted yesterday to drop its appeal to the State Tax Commission (STC) over a cutback in the city's 1975 property valuation because Berrien county has withdrawn its appeal to the STC.

The Berrien board of commissioners last week authorized withdrawal of the county's appeal challenging a $39 million increase by the STC in the county's valuation. Before the state made the increase, the county had cut St. Joseph's valuation by $2.6 million as part of a county-wide reduction of 4.5 per cent.

St. Joseph had appealed the county cutback because it lowered the city's tax base and meant $45,000 less tax revenue.

However, the state restored the cutback made by the county. The county appealed that restoration, then dropped the appeal.

St. Joseph City Assessor Dick Kiesel noted yesterday: "Once they (the county) dropped the appeal we had nothing to gain by continuing ours."

In other business at yesterday's meeting, the commission voted unanimously to ratify Tom Gillespie as St. Joseph police chief — a position he has held for 29 years.

Reason for the vote was that the city charter states no person can serve as police chief if he has a relative on the city commission unless the commission grants unanimous approval during each term of the relative. Chief Gillespie is a brother of William Gillespie who has been on the commission since 1974.

The commission also voted to enter into a contract for $30,205 with the State Highway Department for maintenance of state trunk lines in the city.

The city will receive the money for maintenance of streets designated as part of the state highway trunk line system. Last year's contract was for $27,635. In voting approval, the commission also named City Manager Gerald W. Heppler to act as representative for the city in dealing with the highway department in this matter.

The commission approved four licenses at $35 apiece to allow the Twin City Cab Lines to operate and four licenses for Action Ambulance to operate in the city during fiscal year 1976-77. The present licenses expire June 1. Rampart ambulance, as of yesterday morning, had not applied for any licenses for the upcoming fiscal year.

Approved by the commission were requests by the St. Joseph Art association to hold the Art Fair July 11 (rain date July 18) and from the Child and Family Services of St. Joseph to hold an ice cream social on the same date.

The commission adjourned until June 7 at 7:30 p.m. There will be no meeting next Monday because of Memorial Day.

Kechkaylo Adds New Service

William V. Kechkaylo, president of Kechkaylo Real Estate Co., of Berrien county, announced his firm has been elected to membership in RELO/Inter-City Relocation Service Co., a real estate relocation service.

RELO is composed of over 850 real estate firms serving some 8,500 communities by assisting transferring corporate personnel and individuals in selling and buying homes.

Kechkaylo said: "RELO membership will enable us to offer assistance to families moving to other sections of the U.S. and overseas as well as help families moving into Berrien county."

RELO headquarters are located in Chicago. It was organized in 1960 to provide individual and corporate relocation service throughout the nation.

Kechkaylo has offices in Berrien Springs, St. Joseph, Coloma and Niles.

Democratic Supervisor Battle Looms In Benton

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

A battle for the Democratic nomination for Benton township supervisor appeared set today with announcement by township Treasurer Joseph Postelli that he is a candidate for supervisor.

Postelli, 52, is the second candidate to announce for the post being vacated by retiring Martin J. Lane. Township Clerk Catheryn Sirk also is running for the Democratic nomination for supervisor.

No Republicans have declared candidacy yet, but the GOP is reported forming a slate to challenge Democrats who hold 5 to 2 control of the township board.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions is Tuesday, June 1. The primary election is Aug. 3 and general election Nov. 2.

Postelli, of 2892 Territorial road, is completing his first term as treasurer. He said: "I believe I can benefit the township more by serving as supervisor."

He has farmed for many years and was employed by Auto Specialties Manufacturing Co. before becoming treasurer.

He is a member of Disabled American Veterans and the Knights of Columbus. He and his wife, Lucille, are the parents of two married children and one living at home.

There appears at least one another contest for a Democratic nomination in August. James H. Lechenet Jr., 2291 Benton Center road, and Jerry M. Campbell, 1924 Hatch street, have filed nominating petitions for one constable's post.

The township board of trustees several months ago voted to reduce the number of constables from two to one with this year's election.

Incumbent constables are Andrew Davis and Clayton Wallace. Davis, 45, said he is not seeking re-election. Wallace has not announced if he will be a candidate.

Deputy Will Seek Lincoln Clerk Post

Mrs. Christine Welch, Lincoln township deputy clerk has filed petitions for election as Lincoln township clerk in this year's township elections.

Mrs. Welch's announcement comes in the wake of Clerk Bernice Tretheway's announcement that she has filed nominating petitions on the GOP ticket for the office of Lincoln township supervisor. Ernest Hauch, current supervisor, is not seeking re-election. Mrs. Welch filed for the Republican nomination as clerk.

In announcing her candidacy, Mrs. Welch stated she feels her experience as deputy township clerk for the past 10 years is an asset to her in seeking the clerk's position.

Prior to being employed as deputy township clerk, Mrs. Welch, 44, worked as an executive secretary at Whirlpool Corporation and as a legal secretary in New Jersey.

Mrs. Welch has been a member of the township planning commission since its inception in 1965 and is a member of the county Republican womens' club and township GOP club.

She is president-elect of the Lakeshore Lianas; publicity chairman of the Lakeshore band parents; past president of the Roosevelt elementary school PTA; past president of the Lakeshore junior high PTA; was active in the scouting program; charter member and past president of the Lakeshore Jaycee auxiliary; and charter member and past president of the Fruitland chapter of the National Secretaries association.

Born in Bloomfield, N.J., she graduated from high school in Hasbrouck Heights, N.J., and attended executive secretarial school at LaSalle Extension university in New York, prior to moving to Berrien county in 1951.

SJ Student Graduates At Purdue

John Neil Iwan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Iwan, 2901 Thayer drive, St. Joseph, recently graduated with a bachelor of science degree from the industrial school of management at Purdue university.

BH Student Graduates

GRAND RAPIDS — Stephen A. Herman of 6629 North Branch road, Benton Harbor, has received a bachelor of arts degree in religious studies from Aquinas college here, according to a college spokesman. He was among 358 graduates receiving degrees during commencement exercises earlier this month.

BH Teen Chosen For 4-H Work In Washington

Karen Davis, a junior at Benton Harbor high school, is one of two Michigan 4-H members selected to work this summer at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C. Miss Davis, 17, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Davis, 655 High street, Benton Harbor, will join a team of 25 4-H'ers directing tours of Washington for the organization's National Citizenship Short Course, according to the Berrien 4-H office. She is the first Berrien 4-H'er in memory to receive the honor, the office said. She has been a 4-H member for seven years and a teen leader for the past four years. She leaves for Washington Friday and will return the last week in August.

Daughter Is Physician

Barbara A. Davies, of Detroit, received a doctor of medicine degree from Wayne State university's school of medicine at commencement exercises Sunday in Detroit.

Dr. Davies is the daughter of D. W. Davies of St. Joseph and Margaret Davies of Riverside. She received her undergraduate degree from Marygrove college.

Dr. Davies has accepted a residency in the WSU affiliated program at Children's hospital of Michigan, Detroit.

BH School Man Takes New Post

John Fensenfeld, group director for personnel and labor relations for Benton Harbor Area schools, has been appointed superintendent of the Hanover-Horton public schools district south of Jackson. His resignation from the Benton Harbor district is effective June 30, and he will take up duties as chief administrator of the 1,400-student district July 1. Fehsenfeld was formerly superintendent of Comstock Park public schools near Grand Rapid before joining the Benton Harbor district in 1974.

Hanover-Horton is a suburban-rural district, covering about 72 square miles. The district includes a high school, middle school, and two elementary units. After eight years as a teacher in the Grand Rapids and East Grand Rapids school districts, Fehsenfeld became Comstock Park superintendent in 1968. He wife also was a teacher in the Grand Rapids area.

SJ Library To Sell Books

Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph, will hold a book sale, Saturday, June 12, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the auditorium of the library, according to Anne Stobbe, librarian.

The sale will include novels and books in many subject fields priced from five to 35 cents, with some book sets and special books priced higher, according to Miss Stobbe.

Paperbacks will be sold for from 10 cents a piece to two for 10 cents. Children's books, records and magazines will also be for sale.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to expand the new "Toys-to-Go" collection started this month at the library.

Last year's proceeds provided the listening area and expanded record collection in the children's room at the library, Miss Stobbe said.

To Sing At Carnegie Hall

Atty. and Mrs. Robert Lower of Atlanta, Ga., former Benton Harbor residents, will sing with the Atlanta Symphony and Choral in New York City's Carnegie Hall Thursday, May 27, under the direction of Robert Shaw.

The Lowers have been singing with the group for three years. They began singing together 11 years ago in Benton Harbor high school's production of "My Fair Lady."

Lower, who is associated with the law firm, Austin, Miller and Gaines in Atlanta, graduated magna cum laude from Harvard university. He is also a graduate of Harvard Law school.

Mrs. Lower, the former Jean Ludwig, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P.G. Ludwig, 261 Hoover, Benton Harbor. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lower, 1227 Jennings, Benton Harbor.

The couple has a son, David, 3.

PWP Elect New Officers

Mrs. Krumske Is President

Twin Cities Area Chapter No. 151, Parents Without Partners, an education organization devoted to the welfare and interest of single parents and their children, has elected Mrs. Veronica Krumske, St. Joseph, as its president for 1976.

Other new officers include Mrs. Bettie King, St. Joseph, vice president; Mrs. Rose Swan, St. Joseph, secretary, and Irv Klann, Stevensville, treasurer.

Directors include Mrs. Betty Gelesko, St. Joseph, membership; Mrs. Maxine Salmon, Coloma, program and education; Charlie Hess, Buchanan, member service; Mrs. Muriel Lucker, Benton Harbor, public information, and Mrs. Kathy Duncan, Stevensville, activities.

Other officers are Bob Hartline, New Buffalo, public relations officer; Mrs. Linda Stevens, St. Joseph, newsletter editor, and Mrs. Betty Miller, Berrien Springs, new member contact.

The local chapter meets every third Wednesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the YWCA, St. Joseph.

Any widowed, divorced, separated or never married parent is invited. Interested persons may contact any club officer or the YWCA.

The first chapter of PWP, an international, non-profit, non-sectarian educational organization, was organized in 1957 and has grown to over 900 chapters to date representing 200,000 members throughout the United States and Canada.

The Twin Cities Area Chapter received its charter in April of 1965.

Purposes of PWP are basically educational. With professional help, it conducts a program in which lectures, discussion, publications and recreational activities aid the individual single parent to cope with the problem and dilemmas that must be faced in a single-parent home.

Two members of the local chapter are active on the international level. Mrs. Dee Hubbard, St. Joseph, is international youth exhibit chairman this year and Mrs. Dorothy Gilbert, St. Joseph, is international vice president of program and education. Mrs. Gilbert has also been nominated for the international presidency. The election will be held during the annual PWP convention in New Orleans in July.

On the local level, one of its primary goals this year will be to create more community awareness of the single parent situation and its problems and awareness by the single parent of what PWP is and what it has to offer them and their children.

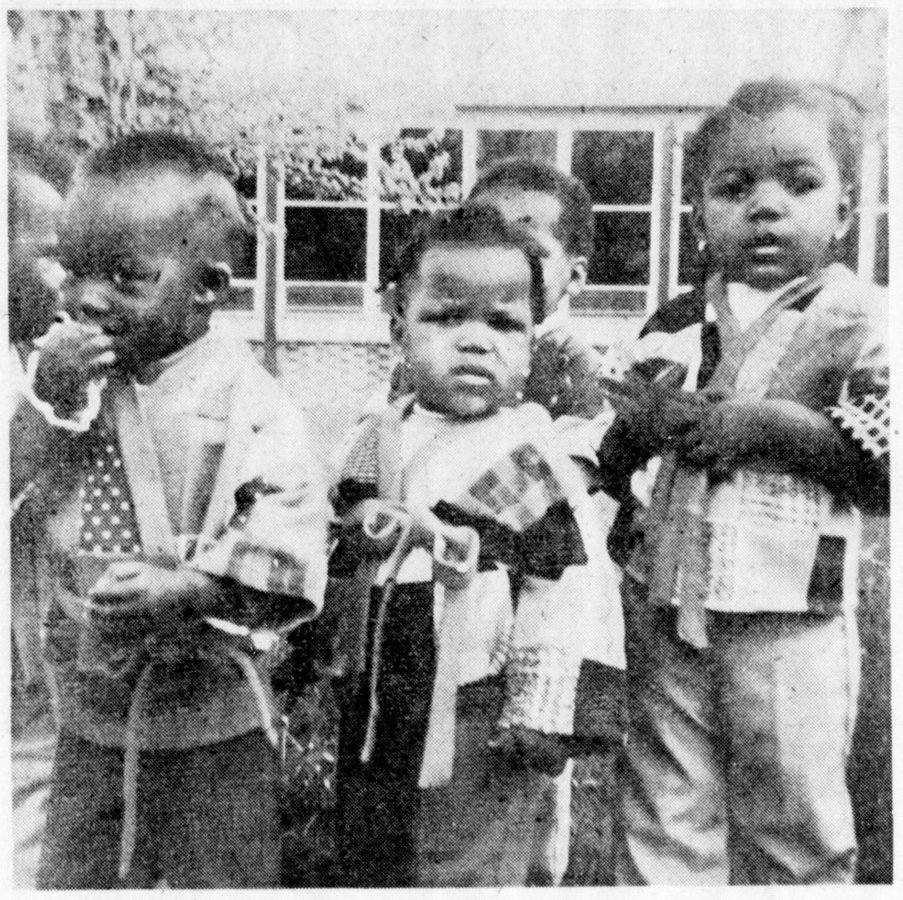

Activites the group offers includes educational, community speakers and discussion groups led by local professional people; family-oriented, picnics, roller skating, trips, dinners and parties; and social, dances, conversation nights, adult parties and dinners.

The chapter held a fund raising dance April 3. Proceeds will be used to help sponsor activites for children of members.

BEST FOR BASEMENT

Sunny colors are best for basement rooms. For a lighter natural wood tone, choose from such species as hemlock, fir and the pines.

Remove Stains From Garments

Deodorant and antiperspirant stains can often be removed from washable garments by rubbing with liquid detergent, then laundering the item in the hottest water safe for the fabric.

For heavy stains, spread the garment face down on absorbent paper towels and sponge the stained area with a dry cleaning solvent. Rinse, rub with liquid detergent, rinse again and launder.

ATTENTION! Future Brides

Brides-to-be planning engagement announcements and wedding stories in this newspaper are asked to observe the following rules:

Engagement and wedding forms are available in the women's department at The Herald-Palladium offices in Benton Harbor or St. Joseph. The pertinent information should be typed or plainly printed in filling out these forms to prevent errors.

Wedding forms should be picked up at least two weeks and turned in one week before the wedding is to take place.

When wedding information is sent within two months of the engagement announcement date, only ONE picture will be run. The bride-to-be may have her choice.

Use proper names — not nicknames. In wedding information, use husband's names for married attendants.

Only pictures of the bride in her wedding dress will be used. Formal glossy black and white portraits are preferred.

Engagement and wedding pictures are usually available at this newspaper office after publication for a short time.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Doctor Relaxes Too Much

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a well-known, highly respected physician in this city of 100,000. He doesn't drink when on call, but when he's "relaxing" it's a serious problem. If it weren't for the children I would leave him. Believe me, I've given it serious consideration but decided, for a variety of reasons, to stay and make the best of it.

But how do I cope, Ann? My resentment is affecting my entire outlook on life. It has reached the point where the smell of liquor on his breath makes me want to throw up.

I have read about Al-Anon in your column and would like to join. When I told my husband, he said, "I dare you to show your face at one of those meetings. It would be the talk of the town."

Please tell me what to do, Ann. I am — A Very Unhappy Woman

Dear Woman: Don't let him bully you. Go to the next Al-Anon meeting — and I hope it's tomorrow.

If your husband doesn't want to seek help for himself, that's his business, but he has no right to deny you the benefits of Al-Anon.

As for "people talking," it's most unlikely. The anonymity of the members is rarely violated. And if someone does talk, what could he say? Showing up at an Al-Anon meeting is infinitely less damaging than a doctor who shows up ANYPLACE -- drunk.

There Is Word

Dear Ann Landers: Something has been bugging me for a long time and I don't know who to complain to, so you're it.

I've seen and heard the word "nymphomaniac" hundreds of times. It's a well-known fact that being obsessed with sex is a human problem, not an illness peculiar to women. In fact I'll bet more males are sex crazy than females. Yet there is no word for THEM. Do you think perhaps Daniel Webster was a woman-hater? — Inquiry From Little Rock

Dear Rock: So far as I know Dan had nothing against girls, and your attack is unjustified. There IS a word for males who have an insatiable appetite for sex. They are called "satyrs."

Lonesome Kids

Dear Ann Landers: When I was divorced from my husband I was faced with the problem of my kids wanting to sleep with Mama. I had read in your column that it should never be allowed so I made up my mind to say "NO" and not let the kids beat me down. It was a good decision. After a few weeks of nagging they quit and I've never had any trouble with my children getting "lonesome" at night.

A very close friend (also divorced) told me yesterday she thinks it's nice that her 11-year-old daughter (who has slept with her since the divorce) takes her six-year-old brother into her bed when Mama isn't home. The child is afraid to sleep by herself and must have company.

I told my friend it's a lousy idea but she doesn't believe me. She has to hear it from an authority. Please say it again. — Want To Help

ANN LANDERS

Dear W.T.H.: As a mother who has lived through the experience, you are a better authority than I am. I hope your friend (and other mothers who are faced with this decision) will keep the kids out of their beds. There's nothing like eliminating a problem before it begins. P.S. A six-year-old boy should not be in bed with his 11-year-old sister.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do. Read the booklet, "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Opening lead — Q ♥

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Let's take another look at the short club as used by experts. There are three "nevers" here:

1. You never open a two-card club suit.

2. You never open a three-card club suit when you have a five-card suit somewhere else.

3. You never open a three-card club suit when your hand meets all requirements for an opening bid in notrump.

The corollary to the use of the short club is that you tend not to open four-card major suits, but you should not go as far as some do and refuse to open four-card majors at all.

South has 4-3-3-3 distribution and definitely should open one club, not one spade. He plans to pass if partner raises to two clubs or one notrump; raise a spade response and bid one spade if partner responds with a red suit.

The bidding in the box shows how North and South can reach the proper contract of five clubs after a club opening. After a spade opening they will almost surely land in three notrump which goes down when West opens a heart.

Ask the Jacobys

A Tennessee reader asks, "What club should I play from Q 10 9 6 3? The contract is three notrump. My partner opens the deuce of clubs. The king and one appear in dummy and the king is played."

The answer here is that you play the 10 as an encouraging card. This is the highest card you can spare.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Dr. Lester Coleman

Is it harmful to massage the scalp every day? Our teenage daughter brushes, shampoos, massages and air blows her hair every day. I can't convince her that she is doing damage to her hair. — Mrs. N.N., Penn.

Dear Mrs. N.:

Hair, and the skin in which it grows, is a delicate mechanism. It cannot, therefore, be beaten and injured without doing damage to the hair and scalp.

Cleanliness, of course, is an important factor that should be maintained. Yet too vigorous massage or brushing can be potentially destructive.

This matter came up recently in a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Dr. Joseph B. Jerome said, "Vigorous scalp massage, with or without a shampoo, and regardless of whether the hair is dry, wet, or being briskly toweled-dry, is mechanically damaging to the hair.

"Vigorous manipulation of the hair by massaging, shampooing, drying, brushing or combing tends to break hair mechanically."

Thus, the hair can be injured if abused. I do believe, however, that sensible gentle massage and cleanliness must be considered beneficial to the growth and care of hair.

* * *

I have a severe allergy twice a year. Whenever I take the pills that are prescribed for me I have trouble urinating. Is this an unusual reaction? — Mr. T.R.V., Ark.

Dear Mr. V.:

No, it is not unusual. Some people who have a moderately enlarged prostate may develop some difficulty starting the flow of urine when they are taking anti-allergy, or antihistamine, pills.

You apparently have learned this by past experience and therefore should not continue to take those pills without the specific suggestion of the doctor who prescribed them.

It is interesting to note that this reaction may not occur with all antihistamine pills. Changing from one to another and carefully observing your reaction would be helpful.

This alsp applies to people who have marked sleepiness and fatigue following the use of these drugs. Sometimes changing to another brand, even though chemically allied, may not create a similar reaction.

* * *

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . Police and fire departments all over America must be considered part of the health team. In many instances, they contribute enormously in life-saving emergency situations.

* * *

DR. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Bicentennial Event

"We the Women," a Wayne State university Bicentennial conference, will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 11, 12 and 13, at McGregor and Rackham auditoriums on the Wayne State campus in Detroit.

"The conference will illuminate the past history of American women and throw light on current obstacles to growth. Basic to the conference is the proposition that only through opportunity and the active pursuit of good health, nutrition, education and work can women and men lead fulfilling lives," Dr. Rodabe Bharucha-Reid, director of environmental studies at WSU and coordinator of the women's conference, said.

There will be no charge for the open sessions, but reservations are required. There will be nominal charges for lunches, dinner and a concert. Registration forms or additional information may be obtained by contacting the university. Registrations must be made by June 5.

Distinguished women from throughout the country will present the variety of subjects which will be covered at the conference. Included will be university professors, psychiatrists and psychologists, sociologists, authors, journalists, government and labor officials, and lawyers.

Opening remarks will be made by Coleman Young, Detroit mayor; George Gullen, Wayne State university president, and Max Pincus, Wayne State university board of governors chairman.

Among featured speakers will be Lucy Wilson Benson, past national president of the League of Women Voters, U.S.A., and the Honorable Yvonne Brathwaite-Burke, United States representative, D-California.

Also featured will be a concert Saturday evening by the Michigan Chamber Orchestra, the only one of its kind in Michigan. Guest conductor will be Sarah Caldwell, the first woman to conduct the Metropolitan Opera company. Mattiwilda Dobbs, international star of opera and concert stage, will be soloist.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There is material opportunity about you today, but there is also a possibility you'll not exploit it properly. Don't be wasteful.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Though your motives will be unselfish, you're likely to fare better personally than the people you're trying to do things for today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The early part of the day you're apt to be a bit irritable, but before long the jovial you will emerge. You'll be fun to be around.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You can find plenty to do today that's fun without it being expensive. Select activities that will be easy on your purse.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll make a favorable impression on persons you have dealings with today if you're expansive and friendly rather than aggressive.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be philosophical about today's events. Take what occurs in stride. You've got something going for you. Don't let yourself get up-tight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You should be lucky in business situations today, but not if friends are involved. Keep your social life apart.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You may get a little angry with your mate today because he can't see that what you want to do for him is for his own good. Rest easy. He'll come around.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Although this will be a productive day, it may not be because of your attitude toward your work.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Moderation is a must for you today. You have a slight tedency to overindulge. Enjoy yourself — but keep a foot on the brakes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A close associate may be a source of annoyance today, but it's nothing you can't handle.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your first ideas are not your best ones today. Don't be impulsive. Once you reflect on a situation, your judgment is much keener.

Your Birthday

May 26, 1976

People that you've helped in the past are going to come to your aid this coming year. One in particular will help you in several valuable ways.

Barn Revue Opens Tonight

The Barn Theatre of Augusta will open its early season "special," the "Corn Crib Revue," will open tonight and will play for two weeks through Saturday, June 6.

The Barn Theatre proper will open June 9 with the comedy, "Habeas Corpus."

The "Corn Crib Revue" is described by producer Jack Ragotzy as "an evening of songs, dances and fancy patter — with Angelo Mango and his friends." Mango, one of the Barn's top performers, was the star of his own successful Rehearsal Shed show last year, "An Evening with Angelo Mango."

The "friends" of Mango in the cast of "Corn Crib Revue" will include director-choreographer Wayne Lamb, who will be making one of his rare appearances as a dancer. Lamb was one of Broadway's top dancers before he joined the Barn company as a staff member 20 years ago.

Also in the cast will be several of the new talents from the 1975 season, Robin Reeds Haynes, Margo Smith, Becky Gilbert Gelke, Richard Alpers, Barbara Whinnery and David McGrath. Jane Gallatin is music director and pianist for the revue, which is a joint creation of Ragotzy and Lamb.

Performances of the "Corn Crib Revue" are Tuesday through Friday at 8:30 p.m., Saturday at 7 and 10 p.m., and Sunday at 5 p.m. Reservations are recommended because of the limited seating capacity. The box office is open for information and reservations from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Antique Tractor Display

HARTFORD — The public is invited to a dispay of the world's largest collection of restored antique farm tractors and motor trucks, Sunday, May 30, from noon until 5 p.m.

The exhibit, sponsored by the Van Buren and Cass county historical societies, will be under roof at a location approximately six miles north of Dowagiac on M-51 (old M-40).

Admission is $1.50 per adult and 75 cents per child and children must be accompanied by an adult, according to Miss Ruth Rosevelt of Keeler, president of the Van Buren society.

The collection is owned by Earl G. Marhanka, who is donating its use to benefit the historical societies.

More than 350 vehicles from one-half to 12 tons dating from 1903 to 1933 belong to the collection.

Dental Care Program

DOWAGIAC — Joys of Parenthood, a childbirth and parent education association, will sponsor a program on dental care for children tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the first United Methodist church, Dowagiac.

The public is invited and there is no admission charge. Refreshments will be served.

Donna Schuster, dental hygenist, will speak on good dental habits and the importance of early introduction to them, the addition of floride to vitamins for infants, foods particularly harmful to teeth and the types of products designed for cleaning teeth.

Surprise Movie Friday

A surprise movie will be shown free to area youngsters Friday, May 28, from 4 to 5:30 p.m., in the auditorium of the Benton Harbor public library.

The film "Stone Soup" will be shown during the preschool story hour Wednesday, May 26, at 10 a.m. It is the tale of three soldiers who trick reluctant villagers into feeding them.

Students in grades one through eight may sign up at the library for the summer reading program. This year's theme will be "Happy Birthday, America! Celebrate Our Birthday With Books!"

New books in the library's junior department include "Quips and Quirks," Clyde Watson; "Walking Through the Dark," Phyllis Reynolds Naylor; "By Crumbs, It's Mine," Patricia Beatty, and "General George of Yorktown," Carole Charles.

SJ Library To Sell Books

Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph, will hold a book sale, Saturday, June 12, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the auditorium of the library, according to Anne Stobbe, librarian.

The sale will include novels and books in many subject fields priced from five to 35 cents, with some book sets and special books priced higher, according to Miss Stobbe.

Paperbacks will be sold for from 10 cents a piece to two for 10 cents. Children's books, records and magazines will also be for sale.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to expand the new "Toys-to-Go" collection started this month at the library.

Last year's proceeds provided the listening area and expanded record collection in the children's room at the library, Miss Stobbe said.

To Sing At Carnegie Hall

Atty. and Mrs. Robert Lower of Atlanta, Ga., former Benton Harbor residents, will sing with the Atlanta Symphony and Choral in New York City's Carnegie Hall Thursday, May 27, under the direction of Robert Shaw.

The Lowers have been singing with the group for three years. They began singing together 11 years ago in Benton Harbor high school's production of "My Fair Lady."

Lower, who is associated with the law firm, Austin, Miller and Gaines in Atlanta, graduated magna cum laude from Harvard university. He is also a graduate of Harvard Law school.

Mrs. Lower, the former Jean Ludwig, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P.G. Ludwig, 201 Hoover, Benton Harbor. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lower, 1227 Jennings, Benton Harbor.

The couple has a son, David, 3.

PWP Elect New Officers

Mrs. Krumske Is President

Twin Cities Area Chapter No. 151, Parents Without Partners, an education organization devoted to the welfare and interest of single parents and their children, has elected Mrs. Veronica Krumske, St. Joseph, as its president for 1976.

Other new officers include Mrs. Bettie King, St. Joseph, vice president; Mrs. Rose Swan, St. Joseph, secretary, and Irv Klann, Stevensville, treasurer.

Directors include Mrs. Betty Gelesko, St. Joseph, membership; Mrs. Maxine Salmon, Coloma, program and education; Charlie Hess, Buchanan, member service; Mrs. Muriel Lucker, Benton Harbor, public information, and Mrs. Kathy Duncan, Stevensville, activities.

Other officers are Bob Hartline, New Buffalo, public relations officer; Mrs. Linda Stevens, St. Joseph, newsletter editor, and Mrs. Betty Miller, Berrien Springs, new member contact.

The local chapter meets every third Wednesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the YWCA, St. Joseph.

Any widowed, divorced, separated or never married parent is invited. Interested persons may contact any club officer or the YWCA.

The first chapter of PWP, an international, non-profit, non-sectarian educational organization, was organized in 1957 and has grown to over 900 chapters to date representing 200,000 members throughout the United States and Canada.

The Twin Cities Area Chapter received its charter in April of 1965.

Purposes of PWP are basically educational. With professional help, it conducts a program in which lectures, discussion, publications and recreational activities aid the individual single parent to cope with the problem and dilemmas that must be faced in a single-parent home.

Twn members of the local chapter are active on the international level. Mrs. Dee Hubbard, St. Joseph, is international youth exhibit chairman this year and Mrs. Dorothy Gilbert, St. Joseph, is international vice president of program and education. Mrs. Gilbert has also been nominated for the international presidency. The election will be held during the annual PWP convention in New Orleans in July.

On the local level, one of its primary goals this year will be to create more community awareness of the single parent situation and its problems and awareness by the single parent of what PWP is and what it has to offer them and their children.

Activites the group offers includes educational, community speakers and discussion groups led by local professional people; family-oriented, picnics, roller skating, trips, dinners and parties; and social, dances, conversation nights, adult parties and dinners.

The chapter held a fund raising dance April 3. Proceeds will be used to help sponsor activites for children of members.

BEST FOR BASEMENT

Sunny colors are best for basement rooms. For a lighter natural wood tone, choose from such species as hemlock, fir and the pines.

Remove Stains From Garments

Deodorant and antiperspirant stains can often be removed from washable garments by rubbing with liquid detergent, then laundering the item in the hottest water safe for the fabric.

For heavy stains, spread the garment face down on absorbent paper towels and sponge the stained area with a dry cleaning solvent. Rinse, rub with liquid detergent, rinse again and launder.

ATTENTION! Future Brides

Brides-to-be planning engagement announcements and wedding stories in this newspaper are asked to observe the following rules:

Engagement and wedding forms are available in the women's department at The Herald-Palladium offices in Benton Harbor or St. Joseph. The pertinent information should be typed or plainly printed in filling out these forms to prevent errors.

Wedding forms should be picked up at least two weeks and turned in one week before the wedding is to take place.

When wedding information is sent within two months of the engagement announcement date, only ONE picture will be run. The bride-to-be may have her choice.

Use proper names — not nicknames. In wedding information, use husband's names for married attendants.

Only pictures of the bride in her wedding dress will be used. Formal glossy black and white portraits are preferred.

Engagement and wedding pictures are usually available at this newspaper office after publication for a short time.

Castro Pulling Out Of Angola

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Fidel Castro has written Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme that Cuban troops are being withdrawn from Angola and half of them will be out by the end of 1976, an official of the Swedish Foreign Ministry said today.

The Swedish official said Palme gave Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger a full report on the letter from the Cuban prime minister.

Castro's letter gave no indication when the second half of the Cuban force would be withdrawn, the official said. He reported that Palme received the letter just before Kissinger arrived in Stockholm Sunday.

The U.S. government estimates that Castro, at the urging of the Soviet government, sent about 15,000 troops to the former Portuguese African colony to fight for the Marxist Popular Movement (MPLA). With Soviet arms and the help of the Cubans, the MPLA defeated two Angolan nationalist factions backed by the United States and South Africa.

Kissinger has said that the U.S. government will not recognize the MPLA goverment until all Cuban troops are withdrawn. The United States recently blocked Security Council action on the Angolan application for membership in the United Nations.

Kissinger told the Swedes during his two-day visit that their neutrality depends on the strength of the United States and its allies.

"The neutrality of some is made possible by the strength and commitment of others," Kissinger said Monday night in a toast at a dinner given for him by Foreign Minister Sven Andersson.

He told a news conference Monday afternoon: "Sweden could not defend itself by itself without the existence of NATO."

Questioned repeatedly by the newsmen about the Vietnam war, Kissinger acknowledged that "in retrospect, grave mistakes were made" by the United States in Southeast Asia.

But he said successive American administrations waged the war with the support of the American people "in the belief that the freedom of other people depended on it." He pointed out that 50,000 Americans died in Vietnam and added: "It was perhaps more painful for those directly involved than for those who have the advantage of perspective" gained by distance and time.

Druggist Price Advertising OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decision allowing pharmacists to advertise the prices of their prescription drugs may mean that customers will pay less for medication, according to a consumer group involved in the case.

Alan B. Morrison, who represented the Virginia Citizens' Council in the case that led to the court's Monday ruling, said, "I would expect that some pharmacy chains will start advertising prices and that prices will start coming down."

The seven man court majority said consumers have a constitutional right to receive information on prescription drug prices.

The court rejected arguments by Virrginia officials, whose state law against advertisement of prescription drugs was challenged. State officials argued that the advertising ban was needed to prevent cost cutting that would result in poor service.

FBI Quizzes Witnesses In Hayes Case

By MARGARET SCHERF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents are questioning possible witnesses in a Justice Department investigation of the relationship between Rep. Wayne Hays and a woman who claims she was paid $14,000-a-year in government funds to gratify his sexual desires.

The public integrity section of the Justice Department's Criminal Division, recently established by Atty. Gen. Edward Levi to look into reports of official wrongdoing, is conducting the investigation, an informed source said Monday.

Hays, 64, chairman of the House Administration Committee, has denied the claim of Elizabeth Ray that her duties as a subcommittee staff worker consisted of having sexual relations with Hays.

Hays called Miss Ray "a very sick woman" and accused the Washington Post, which first published her allegations, of conducting a personal vendetta against him. In a statement, he called the article "malicious" and said he was considering filing suit against the paper.

But the Post, in an editorial in today's editions, said flatly of Miss Ray: "She is Rep. Wayne Hays' mistress. That is why she is on the payroll of the committee of which the Ohio Democrat is chairman."

The Justice Department is seeking to determine whether Hays violated any federal law if he gave Miss Ray a government job in exchange for sexual favors.

Hays fired Miss Ray on Monday. The lock was changed on the door to the office in the House Longworth Building where, she said, she spent only several hours a week during the past two years and did no work.

The Post reported today that Hays said Saturday he had never been in Miss Ray's apartment "except once, months ago."

But Miss Ray said he had visited the apartment once or twice a week for about two years to have sexual relations with her. The manager of the apartment house in suburban Arlington, Va., was quoted by the newspaper as saying Hays had visited Miss Ray frequently.

"Everyone at the (reception) desk knew who he was because he made no secret of it," said the manager, who asked not to be identified. "He'd come in here and say he was Congressman Hays and ask to be connected to her room."

The manager, who confirmed she has been interviewed by the FBI, said Hays would tell the desk clerk phoning Miss Ray's apartment to "tell her to get on down here." The Post said the manager expressed willingness to testify "in a court of law" about Hays' visits.

Meanwhile, Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., chairman of the accounts subcommittee of Hays' House Administration Committee, said he will recommend to his panel that any congressional investigation of the matter be conducted by the House ethics committee.

Thompson backed away from an earlier position that he would ask his accounts subcommittee to look into the allegations against Hays, saying there might appear to be a conflict of interest.

But, he said, "Clearly something must be done. I have no doubt that complaints will be filed" with the ethics committee.

Hardy Children Stay With Kin

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sitting next to the casket, Sheri Hardy, 13, Joey, 11, and little Amber, 7, seemed unable to comprehend the tragedy that had befallen them, nor the mysteries of the course their mother had charted to provide for them after her death.

Where did they belong? And to whom?

Within hours after cancer victim Linda Joy Hardy was buried Monday, in her 33rd year, her family issued a terse statement saying the three children will remain with relatives despite their mother's wishes that they be adopted by a California couple to whom she gave written consent.

"Our family ties are strong," said Mrs. Hardy's mother, Mrs. Audrey Cloud, in a low, sad voice. "Sheri, Amber and Joey will remain with the family as a family, the Hardy family, children of Linda. Grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins we have to offer. They had a mother and she will always remain their mother."

Mrs. Cloud said she did not think it was necessary to make any other comments.

Attorneys for Mrs. Hardy said they had "ethical and moral obligations to proceed to see that Linda's wishes are carried out" and that the family's statement did not really change anything.

Thus it might be left to a court to decide their future.

"The children have lived through sickness and grief," said Mrs. Cloud.

More than 100 of their classmates from St. Mary Magdalene School, some only second graders in their blue uniforms, filled the pews, their voices rising in a final hymn:

Georgia Mishap Kills Hoosier

STATESBORO, Ga. (AP) — A man who rushed to shut off a valve spurting poisonous ammonia was killed by the fumes. Eleven others were injured.

Authorities said the anhydrous ammonia, which is used as a fertilizer, was being pumped into a storage tank near a busy highway Monday when the transfer hose burst, sending the ammonia gushing out.

The dead man was identified as Larry T. Jet, 28, an employe of American Amoco Farm Services. He was from Indiana and had been working in southeast Georgia for four months, Bulloch County sheriff's officers said.

NEWSMAN DIES

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Linwood T. Pitman, a former newspaper reporter and Maine broadcasting pioneer, died Sunday. He was 81.

SEN. JOHN BYINGTON
Popping back up

Try, Try Again . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — If S. John Byington never gets a seat on the Consumer Product Safety Commission, he can't claim his supporters didn't try.

Once killed in committee, the Byington nomination was revived when President Ford resubmitted it for a shorter term.

Then, on Monday, the full Senate voted 37 to 33 to reject the appointment of Byington to a 2½-year term on the commission.

But before the day ended, Byington supporters revived the nomination once again. This time they won agreement to get a vote, probably later this week, on a motion to reconsider the negative vote.

Byington, a 38-year-old native of Grand Rapids, Mich., President Ford's home town, worked on consumer affairs in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the White House and was a business partner of William L. Seidman, a White House aide and Ford adviser.

Ford had indicated he wanted Byington as chairman of the commission, but Byington opponents say they want a more vigorous consumer advocate to head the panel.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Doctor Relaxes Too Much

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a well-known, highly respected physician in this city of 100,000. He doesn't drink when on call, but when he's "relaxing" it's a serious problem. If it weren't for the children I would leave him. Believe me, I've given it serious consideration but decided, for a variety of reasons, to stay and make the best of it.

But how do I cope, Ann? My resentment is affecting my entire outlook on life. It has reached the point where the smell of liquor on his breath makes me want to throw up.

I have read about Al-Anon in your column and would like to join. When I told my husband, he said, "I dare you to show your face at one of those meetings. It would be the talk of the town."

Please tell me what to do, Ann. I am — A Very Unhappy Woman

Dear Woman: Don't let him bully you. Go to the next Al-Anon meeting — and I hope it's tomorrow.

If your husband doesn't want to seek help for himself, that's his business, but he has no right to deny you the benefits of Al-Anon.

As for "people talking," it's most unlikely. The anonymity of the members is rarely violated. And if someone does talk, what could he say? Showing up at an Al-Anon meeting is infinitely less damaging than a doctor who shows up ANYPLACE -- drunk.

There Is Word

Dear Ann Landers: Something has been bugging me for a long time and I don't know who to complain to, so you're it.

I've seen and heard the word "nymphomaniac" hundreds of times. It's a well-known fact that being obsessed with sex is a human problem, not an illness peculiar to women. In fact I'll bet more males are sex crazy than females. Yet there is no word for THEM. Do you think perhaps Daniel Webster was a woman-hater? — Inquiry From Little Rock

Dear Rock: So far as I know Dan had nothing against girls, and your attack is unjustified. There IS a word for males who have an insatiable appetite for sex. They are called "satyrs."

Lonesome Kids

Dear Ann Landers: When I was divorced from my husband I was faced with the problem of my kids wanting to sleep with Mama. I had read in your column that it should never be allowed so I made up my mind to say "NO" and not let the kids beat me down. It was a good decision. After a few weeks of nagging they quit and I've never had any trouble with my children getting "lonesome" at night.

A very close friend (also divorced) told me yesterday she thinks it's nice that her 11-year-old daughter (who has slept with her since the divorce) takes her six-year-old brother into her bed when Mama isn't home. The child is afraid to sleep by herself and must have company.

I told my friend it's a lousy idea but she doesn't believe me. She has to hear it from an authority. Please say it again. — Want To Help

ANN LANDERS

Dear W.T.H.: As a mother who has lived through the experience, you are a better authority than I am. I hope your friend (and other mothers who are faced with this decision) will keep the kids out of their beds. There's nothing like eliminating a problem before it begins. P.S. A six-year-old boy should not be in bed with his 11-year-old sister.

Is it harmful to massage the scalp every day? Our teenage daughter brushes, shampoos, massages and air blows her hair every day. I can't convince her that she is doing damage to her hair. — Mrs. N.N., Penn.

Dear Mrs. N.:

Hair, and the skin in which it grows, is a delicate mechanism. It cannot, therefore, be beaten and injured without doing damage to the hair and scalp.

Cleanliness, of course, is an important factor that should be maintained. Yet too vigorous massage or brushing can be potentially destructive.

This matter came up recently in a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Dr. Joseph B. Jerome said, "Vigorous scalp massage, with or without a shampoo, and regardless of whether the hair is dry, wet, or being briskly toweled-dry, is mechanically damaging to the hair.

"Vigorous manipulation of the hair by massaging, shampooing, drying, brushing or combing tends to break hair mechanically."

Thus, the hair can be injured if abused. I do believe, however, that sensible gentle massage and cleanliness must be considered beneficial to the growth and care of hair.

I have a severe allergy twice a year. Whenever I take the pills that are prescribed for me I have trouble urinating. Is this an unusual reaction? — Mr. T.R.V., Ark.

Dear Mr. V.:

No. It is not unusual. Some people who have a moderately enlarged prostate may develop some difficulty starting the flow of urine when they are taking anti-allergy, or antihistamine, pills.

You apparently have learned this by past experience and therefore should not continue to take those pills without the specific suggestion of the doctor who prescribed them.

It is interesting to note that this reaction may not occur with all antihistamine pills. Changing from one to another and carefully observing your reaction would be helpful.

This also applies to people who have marked sleepiness and fatigue following the use of these drugs. Sometimes changing to another brand, even though chemically allied, may not create a similar reaction.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . Police and fire departments all over America must be considered part of the health team. In many instances, they contribute enormously in life-saving emergency situations.

Opening lead — Q ♥

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Let's take another look at the short club as used by experts. There are three "nevers" here:

1. You never open a two-card club suit.

2. You never open a three-card club suit when you have a five-card suit somewhere else.

3. You never open a three-card club suit when your hand meets all requirements for an opening bid in notrump.

The corollary to the use of the short club is that you tend not to open four-card major suits, but you should not go as far as some do and refuse to open four-card majors at all.

South has 4-3-3-3 distribution and definitely should open one club, not one spade. He plans to pass if partner raises to two clubs or one notrump; raise a spade response and bid one spade if partner responds with a red suit.

The bidding in the box shows how North and South can reach the proper contract of five clubs after a club opening. After a spade opening they will almost surely land in three notrump which goes down when West opens a heart.

Ask the Jacobys

A Tennessee reader asks, "What club should I play from Q 10 9 6 3? The contract is three notrump. My partner opens the deuce of clubs. The king and one appear in dummy and the king is played."

The answer here is that you play the 10 as an encouraging card. This is the highest card you can spare.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Bicentennial Event

"We the Women," a Wayne State university Bicentennial conference, will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 11, 12 and 13, at McGregor and Rackham auditoriums on the Wayne State campus in Detroit.

"The conference will illuminate the past history of American women and throw light on current obstacles to growth. Basic to the conference is the proposition that only through opportunity and the active pursuit of good health, nutrition, education and work can women and men lead fulfilling lives," Dr. Rodabe Bharucha-Reid, director of environmental studies at WSU and coordinator of the women's conference, said.

There will be no charge for the open sessions, but reservations are required. There will be nominal charges for lunches, dinner and a concert. Registration forms or additional information may be obtained by contacting the university. Registrations must be made by June 5.

Distinguished women from throughout the country will present the variety of subjects which will be covered at the conference. Included will be university professors, psychiatrists and psychologists, sociologists, authors, journalists, government and labor officials, and lawyers.

Opening remarks will be made by Coleman Young, Detroit mayor; George Gullen, Wayne State university president, and Max Pincus, Wayne State university board of governors chairman.

Among featured speakers will be Lucy Wilson Benson, past national president of the League of Women Voters, U.S.A., and the Honorable Yvonne Brathwaite-Burke, United States representative, D-California.

Also featured will be a concert Saturday evening by the Michigan Chamber Orchestra, the only one of its kind in Michigan. Guest conductor will be Sarah Caldwell, the first woman to conduct the Metropolitan Opera company. Mattiwilda Dobbs, international star of opera and concert stage, will be soloist.

FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 26, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There is material opportunity about you today, but there is also a possibility you'll not exploit it properly. Don't be wasteful.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Though your motives will be unselfish, you're likely to fare better personally than the people you're trying to do things for today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The early part of the day you're apt to be a bit irritable, but before long the jovial you will emerge. You'll be fun to be around.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You can find plenty to do today that's fun without it being expensive. Select activities that will be easy on your purse.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll make a favorable impression on persons you have dealings with today if you're expansive and friendly rather than aggressive.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be philosophical about today's events. Take what occurs in stride. You've got something going for you. Don't let yourself get up-tight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You should be lucky in business situations today, but not if friends are involved. Keep your social life apart.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You may get a little angry with your mate today because he can't see that what you want to do for him is for his own good. Rest easy. He'll come around.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Although this will be a productive day, it may not be because of your attitude toward your work.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Moderation is a must for you today. You have a slight tedency to overindulge. Enjoy yourself — but keep a foot on the brakes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A close associate may be a source of annoyance today, but it's nothing you can't handle.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your first ideas are not your best ones today. Don't be impulsive. Once you reflect on a situation, your judgment is much keener.

Your Birthday

May 26, 1976

People that you've helped in the past are going to come to your aid this coming year. One in particular will help you in several valuable ways.

Barn Revue Opens Tonight

The Barn Theatre of Augusta will open its early season "special," the "Corn Crib Revue," will open tonight and will play for two weeks through Saturday, June 6.

The Barn Theatre proper will open June 9 with the comedy, "Habeas Corpus."

The "Corn Crib Revue" is described by producer Jack Ragotzy as "an evening of songs, dances and fancy patter — with Angelo Mango and his friends." Mango, one of the Barn's top performers, was the star of his own successful Rehearsal Shed show last year, "An Evening with Angelo Mango."

The "friends" of Mango in the cast of "Corn Crib Revue" will include director-choreographer Wayne Lamb, who will be making one of his rare appearances as a dancer. Lamb was one of Broadway's top dancers before he joined the Barn company as a staff member 20 years ago.

Also in the cast will be several of the new talents from the 1975 season, Hobin Reeds Haynes, Margo Smith, Becky Gilbert Gelke, Richard Alpers, Barbara Whinnery and David McGrath. Jane Gallatin is music director and pianist for the revue, which is a joint creation of Ragotzy and Lamb.

Performances of the "Corn Crib Revue" are Tuesday through Friday at 8:30 p.m., Saturday at 7 and 10 p.m., and Sunday at 5 p.m. Reservations are recommended because of the limited seating capacity. The box office is open for information and reservations from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Antique Tractor Display

HARTFORD — The public is invited to a dispay of the world's largest collection of restored antique farm tractors and motor trucks, Sunday, May 30, from noon until 5 p.m.

The exhibit, sponsored by the Van Buren and Cass county historical societies, will be under roof at a location approximately six miles north of Dowagiac on M-51 (old M-40).

Admission is $1.50 per adult and 75 cents per child and children must be accompanied by an adult, according to Miss Ruth Roseveit of Keeler, president of the Van Buren society.

The collection is owned by Earl G. Marhanka, who is donating its use to benefit the historical societies.

More than 350 vehicles from one-half to 12 tons dating from 1903 to 1933 belong to the collection.

Dental Care Program

DOWAGIAC — Joys of Parenthood, a childbirth and parent education association, will sponsor a program on dental care for children tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the first United Methodist church, Dowagiac.

The public is invited and there is no admission charge. Refreshments will be served.

Donna Schuster, dental hygenist, will speak on good dental habits and the importance of early introduction to them, the addition of floride to vitamins for infants, foods particularly harmful to teeth and the types of products designed for cleaning teeth.

Surprise Movie Friday

A surprise movie will be shown free to area youngsters Friday, May 28, from 4 to 5:30 p.m., in the auditorium of the Benton Harbor public library.

The film "Stone Soup" will be shown during the preschool story hour Wednesday, May 26, at 10 a.m. It is the tale of three soldiers who trick reluctant villagers into feeding them.

Students in grades one through eight may sign up at the library for the summer reading program. This year's theme will be "Happy Birthday, America! Celebrate Our Birthday With Books!"

New books in the library's junior department include "Quips and Quirks," Clyde Watson; "Walking Through the Dark," Phyllis Reynolds Naylor; "By Crumbs, It's Mine," Patricia Beatty, and "General George of Yorktown," Carole Charles.

Engineers Favor More N-Plants

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Nuclear plant construction should not be curtailed, because other power sources can't meet the state's energy needs, says the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers. The 2,500-member organization said Monday nuclear power is safe and that the public has been frightened into believing atomic fission is a beast rather than blessing.

"I would rather live next to a nuclear power plant than a coal plant," said James J. Duderstadt of Ann Arbor, an associate professor of nuclear engineering at the University of Michigan. Duderstadt maintained atomic energy is safer or the health and environment than other forms of energy.

He acknowledged saboteurs could destroy a nuclear plant but it would do more damage to more people "to put a bomb in the lobby of the Fisher Building (a major structure in Detroit)," he said.

Four engineers said at a news conference that restrictions proposed by the student-run Public Interest Research Group in Michigan (PIRGIM) could deprive Michigan residents of "reasonably priced electrical energy by forcing virtually impossible to fulfill conditions on power companies."

"The people of the state are going to wake up someday and find they don't have the energy they want," said Clair H. Aiken of Midland, a Dow Chemical Co. consulting engineer and president of the state engineering society.

The state engineers' position is the same as that taken earlier by the 72,000-member National Society of Professional Engineers.

Another 1.2 MPG

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors says the average fuel economy of its 1977-model cars will rise about seven per cent from this year's models despite tougher antipollution standards that go into effect this fall. GM President Elliott M. Estes said the firm's new fleet of cars will average about 17.6 miles to the gallon of gasoline, compared with 16.4 mpg for this year's fleet. He said the firm's smaller full-sized cars — which debut this fall — are the main reason for the fuel economy gain. Some retuning to meet tighter standards on the emission of harmful nitrogen oxide exhausts makes the improvement smaller than it might have been, he said. The new full-size cars will be about a foot shorter and 700 pounds lighter than their 1976 counterparts. Estes estimated the new models would get two to three miles more per gallon than the 1976 full-sized cars.

Body Found In River

ADRIAN, Mich (AP) — The body of a 56-year-old Palmyra man, missing for five days, has been found in the River Raisin. Authorities said children playing ball found the body of Howard Nickelson Monday evening. Nickelson had been missing since last Wednesday, when he failed to show up for his job. His car was found by the river but no trace was found of the man until Monday's discovery. According to a medical examiner's report, Nickelson's death was due to drowning. Officials said they do not suspect foul play and indicated the death may be a suicide.

Dual Derailment

ROCKWOOD, Mich. (AP) — A Penn Central freight train suffered a dual derailment Monday, dumping four cars into the Huron river, Rockwood police said. Police said 18 cars tipped off the tracks in Rockwood and several other cars were derailed in the area. Other cars derailed in nearby South Rockwood, including the four cars which fell into the river, police said. The second derailment occurred when the train's air brakes went on, authorities said. Rockwood police said there were no injuries. "They were lucky," a Rockwood police spokesman said. "There were a lot of people fishing along the river." Patrolmen estimated the train was nearly two miles long. Police said they had no idea how long the tracks would be blocked.

It's 53 Against 1

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Fifty-three suburbs have sued the City of Detroit in an attempt to halt a recent 39 per cent increase in water rates. The suit, filed Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court, charges Detroit has not proven the need for an increase. The city sells water to 95 suburbs around Detroit and along the eastern edge of the state. Attorney for the suburban communities, Bert Burgoyne, said city officials refused to let suburban officials examine Water Department books. Nansi Rowe, assistant city law director, said she wasn't sure whether suburbs had been denied access to the Water Department's books. But she added, "We certainly feel we are on very good ground to make these water rate increases." The increase was approved May 11 by Detroit City Council over the objections of its own research department.

Trucker Rates Hiked

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Some 35 intrastate trucking firms will receive 4 to 6.75 per cent more from shippers under permanent rate increases approved Monday by the state Public Service Commission. The rates will take replace temporary rate hikes of 4 to 8 per cent, approved earlier by the PSC. Rates will vary according to the weight of the cargo. Monday's rate increase affects companies that transport auto parts, manufactured goods, food and general freight by truck within the state. Specialized haulers, household movers, petroleum carriers and iron and steel haulers will not be affected by the commission action.

Fuel Economy Goal

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry will achieve the voluntary fuel economy goal set by the federal government for 1980 cars, Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman predicted Monday. Coleman told the Economic Club of Detroit the industry "has done a remarkable job, voluntarily, in moving towards a 40 per cent mileage improvement goal we had set in 1974 as a reasonable target for 1980. In two model years, 1975 and 1976, the average improved from less than 14 miles to 17 and is two-thirds of the way towards its 1980 goal," he said. Coleman added, "I am sending to President Ford today a statement indicating the federal 1980 fuel goals will be met by the auto industry on a voluntary basis." He said the industry has done a good job solving its problems on its own and suggested the government "has demanded too much of the auto industry too soon."

Pharmacists Charged

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Five people, including two pharmacists, have been charged with conspiring to obtain a controlled drug by using the names of Michigan doctors, state officials said Monday. The group allegedly used doctors' names and registration numbers when ordering the stimulant phendimetrazine from the Lemmon Pharmacal Co. of Sellersville, Pa., the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation said Monday. They allegedly used special addresses that allowed them to recover the drug, which was called "Lemmon Speed" and had a street value of $2.50 per tablet. Indicted by a federal grand jury in Detroit were pharmacists Ronald Conn of Flint and Richard Proulx of Holly, Lemmon Co. salesmen Charles E. Archibald of Saginaw and Matthew Murphy of Chelsea, and Jane Smith of Flint, the licensing department said.

Free Tuition Rebuffed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The House refused Monday night to pass a bill providing free tuition at Michigan public colleges to any one with American Indian ancestry. Instead, the House sent the measure, sponsored by Rep. Jackie Vaughn III, D-Detroit to a joint House-Senate conference committee. The bill originally provided that only people of half-Indian descent would have been eligible. But after the measure passed the House and went to the Senate, it was changed to make people with any amount of Indian ancestry eligible. Rep. E. Dan Stevens, R-Atlanta, urged the House to vote against that change, which it did, 32-56. "We're putting in something that is vague and something that is more open," he said. The House also rejected another Senate change. It would have required approved Indian tribes in Michigan to verify that an applicant for free tuition was actually of Indian descent.

VA Bodies Exhumed

DETROIT (AP) — Traces of a muscle-paralyzing drug have been found in tissues taken from the exhumed bodies of three patients believed murdered last summer at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor, two newspapers report. FBI laboratories found traces of the drug, marketed as Pavulon, in three of four bodies exhumed last fall, it was reported. It also was reported that a Newark, N.J., doctor tested different methods of removing the drug, generically known as pancuronium bromide, from embalmed corpses. Federal authorities refused to confirm or deny the reports. Carrying the stories were the Detroit Free Press and the Ann Arbor News, with both giving unnamed sources as the basis of their articles. The deaths have been linked with a series of mysterious breathing failures at the hospital lst summer. Authorities believe someone injected the drug in some 20 patients at the VA hospital last July and August, causing the respiratory failures. Some of the patients who died as a result of the arrests, authorities say, are believed to be murder victims. The drug is similar to the poison curare. Patients given the drug cannot breath without mechanical aid.

Dehoco Fugitive Fights Extradition

DETROIT (AP) — A 20-year-old Sturgis woman who escaped last year from Detroit House of Corrections is fighting extradition from California because of what she says are inhuman conditions at the prison.

Daneen Ann Weaver described "sexual and racial violence, dope and in general deplorable conditions" at the jail, according to her attorney. California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., reversed an early extradition order and granted Miss Weaver a governor's hearing.

"They're going to have to put me in the hole to keep me there, or they'll find me hanging," Miss Weaver said Monday from the Long Beach, Calif., jail. "I'm not kidding." Miss Weaver was sent to Dehoco, the only women's prison in Michigan, in November 1974. She was found guilty of a bad check charge, according to prison records. She escaped after serving six months of her 1½-to-14-year sentence by climbing over a fence at the minimum security facility.

"There are basically deplorable conditions and an intolerable situation," said her attorney, Robert Scott. "We don't feel that a 20-year-old girl should return to that."

Miss Weaver said the problems at Dehoco included thefts, insects, unsanitary kitchens and the possibility of sexual assault.

"I'd rather do solitary confinement in a county jail than any time at Dehoco," she said.

Raise The Drinking Age

LANSING, MICH. (AP) — Michigan's legal drinking age would be raised to 19 under a bill introduced by a state lawmaker Monday. "I believe this is a good compromise between those who would continue the current 18-year law and those who would raise it to 21 years of age," said Sen. James DeSana, D-Wyandotte, the bill's sponsor. DeSana said that at age 19, most young people have graduated from high schools, where officials say the problem of abuse is most acute. A recent survey showed that a large majority of high school officials in Michigan favored raising the drinking age to at least 19. Meanwhile, another state lawmaker attacked proposals to bring the drinking age back to 21 years. Rep. Jackie Vaughn, D-Detroit, said such a move would be to "turn the clock back on efforts to bring young people into the system."

Judge Aiding Defendant

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit Recorder's Court judge is helping raise money for a Flint policewoman accused of shooting her partner and he says he sees nothing improper about his actions. Judge Justin Ravitz said he co-chairs the Madeline Fletcher Detroit Defense Committee and, along with his clerk and court aide, has been soliciting contributions for her defense. Miss Fletcher, 20, is being defended by Ken Cockrell, Ravitz's former law partner. She is accused of shooting Walter Kalberer, 34, last December during an argument over who would drive a patrol car. Miss Fletcher, who is black, also was shot. Kalberer is white. Although Canon Three of the Michigan Code of Judicial Conduct says a judge "should abstain from public comment about a pending or impending proceeding in any court and should require a similar abstention on the part of court personnel" Ravitz said he saw nothing wrong with his actions.

He said the canon "is designed to and can only regulate judicial conduct. The canons do not strip me of my rights as a citizen."

He said he regarded the case as "an example of blatant racism and sexism on the part of the Genesee County law enforcement officers."

Scientists See Danger In Tiny Doses Of PBB

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Meat, milk and eggs containing polybrominated biphenyl should be taken off the market because even minute amounts of PBB could cause cancer and birth defects in humans if consumed over a long period of time, a scientific panel warns.

The panel, appointed by Gov. William Milliken, recommended Monday that products sold in Michigan be free of even traces of PBB, a toxic fire-retardent accidentally mixed with large amounts of cattle feed in Michigan three years ago.

Milliken said the panel's recommendation should be adopted as a "precautionary measure," though no immediate health hazards due to lowlevels of PBB have been found in animals or humans.

"There is presumptive evidence for long-term effects on human health, including the potential for carcinogenic (cancerous) development," the panel said.

One panel member said it would take years, even decades, of exposure to low PBB levels for cancer to develop.

The six-member panel unanimously said it could not ignore evidence that high consumption of polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB), a chemical cousin to PBB, caused cancer in rats and abnormal fetal development in scientific tests.

In recommending that any detectable trace of PBB be outlawed, the panel sited "the potential acute and chronic health hazards, the uncertainty in regard to carcinogenicity and teratogenicity (birth defects) (and) the long-term tissue retention and possible accumulation of PBB."

A spokesman for the Michigan Department of Agriculture said "extremely low levels" of PBB are being found only in "very small amounts" of meat now being sold in Michigan. He said no PBB has been found recently in milk, cheese or butter.

B. Dale Ball, state agriculture department director, said he assumes the recommendation that produce be free of any detectable level of PBB will mean the quarantining of more livestock in Michigan.

Agriculture department figures dated April 20 show 480 herd of cattle, 53 herd of swine, and 189 flock of sheep and poultry are contaminated with detectable levels of PBB. Altogether, some 74,640 animals are on those farms, though it is not known how many members of each herd or flock are contaminated.

Already over a million animals, including several thousand cattle, have been slaughtered as a result of the accidental mixing of a fire retardant containing PBB in livestock feed in 1973.

Castro Pulling Out Of Angola

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Fidel Castro has written Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme that Cuban troops are being withdrawn from Angola and half of them will be out by the end of 1976, an official of the Swedish Foreign Ministry said today.

The Swedish official said Palme gave Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger a full report on the letter from the Cuban prime minister.

Castro's letter gave no indication when the second half of the Cuban force would be withdrawn, the official said. He reported that Palme received the letter just before Kissinger arrived in Stockholm Sunday.

The U.S. government estimates that Castro, at the urging of the Soviet government, sent about 15,000 troops to the former Portuguese African colony to fight for the Marxist Popular Movement (MPLA). With Soviet arms and the help of the Cubans, the MPLA defeated two Angolan nationalist factions backed by the United States and South Africa.

Kissinger has said that the U.S. government will not recognize the MPLA goverment until all Cuban troops are withdrawn. The United States recently blocked Security Council action on the Angolan application for membership in the United Nations.

Kissinger told the Swedes during his two-day visit that their neutrality depends on the strength of the United States and its allies.

"The neutrality of some is made possible by the strength and commitment of others," Kissinger said Monday night in a toast at a dinner given for him by Foreign Minister Sven Andersson.

He told a news conference Monday afternoon: "Sweden could not defend itself by itself without the existence of NATO."

Questioned repeatedly by the newsmen about the Vietnam war, Kissinger acknowledged that "in retrospect, grave mistakes were made" by the United States in Southeast Asia.

But he said successive American administrations waged the war with the support of the American people "in the belief that the freedom of other people depended on it." He pointed out that 50,000 Americans died in Vietnam and added: "It was perhaps more painful for those directly involved than for those who have the advantage of perspective" gained by distance and time.

Druggist Price Advertising OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decision allowing pharmacists to advertise the prices of their prescription drugs may mean that customers will pay less for medication, according to a consumer group involved in the case.

Alan B. Morrison, who represented the Virginia Citizens' Council in the case that led to the court's Monday ruling, said, "I would expect that some pharmacy chains will start advertising prices and that prices will start coming down."

The seven-man court majority said consumers have a constitutional right to receive information on prescription drug prices.

The court rejected arguments by Virrginia officials, whose state law against advertisement of prescription drugs was challenged. State officials argued that the advertising ban was needed to prevent cost cutting that would result in poor service.

FBI Quizzes Witnesses In Hayes Case

By MARGARET SCHERF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents are questioning possible witnesses in a Justice Department investigation of the relationship between Rep. Wayne Hays and a woman who claims she was paid $14,000-a-year in government funds to gratify his sexual desires.

The public integrity section of the Justice Department's Criminal Division, recently established by Atty. Gen. Edward Levi to look into reports of official wrongdoing, is conducting the investigation, an informed source said Monday.

Hays, 64, chairman of the House Administration Committee, has denied the claim of Elizabeth Ray that her duties as a subcommittee staff worker consisted of having sexual relations with Hays.

Hays called Miss Ray "a very sick woman" and accused the Washington Post, which first published her allegations, of conducting a personal vendetta against him. In a statement, he called the article "malicious" and said he was considering filing suit against the paper.

But the Post, in an editorial in today's editions, said flatly of Miss Ray: "She is Rep. Wayne Hays' mistress. That is why she is on the payroll of the committee of which the Ohio Democrat is chairman."

The Justice Department is seeking to determine whether Hays violated any federal law if he gave Miss Ray a government job in exchange for sexual favors.

Hays fired Miss Ray on Monday. The lock was changed on the door to the office in the House Longworth Building where, she said, she spent only several hours a week during the past two years and did no work.

The Post reported today that Hays said Saturday he had never been in Miss Ray's apartment "except once, months ago."

But Miss Ray said he had visited the apartment once or twice a week for about two years to have sexual relations with her. The manager of the apartment house in suburban Arlington, Va., was quoted by the newspaper as saying Hays had visited Miss Ray frequently.

"Everyone at the (reception) desk knew who he was because he made no secret of it," said the manager, who asked not to be identified. "He'd come in here and say he was Congressman Hays and ask to be connected to her room."

The manager, who confirmed she has been interviewed by the FBI, said Hays would tell the desk clerk phoning Miss Ray's apartment to "tell her to get on down here." The Post said the manager expressed willingness to testify "in a court of law" about Hays' visits.

Meanwhile, Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., chairman of the accounts subcommittee of Hays' House Administration Committee, said he will recommend to his panel that any congressional investigation of the matter be conducted by the House ethics committee.

Thompson backed away from an earlier position that he would ask his accounts subcommittee to look into the allegations against Hays, saying there might appear to be a conflict of interest.

But, he said, "Clearly something must be done. I have no doubt that complaints will be filed" with the ethics committee.

Hardy Children Stay With Kin

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sitting next to the casket, Sheri Hardy, 13, Joey, 11, and little Amber, 7, seemed unable to comprehend the tragedy that had befallen them, nor the mysteries of the course their mother had charted to provide for them after her death.

Where did they belong? And to whom?

Within hours after cancer victim Linda Joy Hardy was buried Monday, in her 33rd year, her family issued a terse statement saying the three children will remain with relatives despite their mother's wishes that they be adopted by a California couple to whom she gave written consent.

"Our family ties are strong," said Mrs. Hardy's mother, Mrs. Audrey Cloud, in a low, sad voice. "Sheri, Amber and Joey will remain with the family as a family, the Hardy family, children of Linda. Grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins we have to offer. They had a mother and she will always remain their mother."

Mrs. Cloud said she did not think it was necessary to make any other comments.

Attorneys for Mrs. Hardy said they had "ethical and moral obligations to proceed to see that Linda's wishes are carried out" and that the family's statement did not really change anything.

Thus it might be left to a court to decide their future.

"The children have lived through sickness and grief," said Mrs. Cloud.

More than 100 of their classmates from St. Mary Magdalene School, some only second graders in their blue uniforms, filled the pews, their voices rising in a final hymn.

Georgia Mishap Kills Hoosier

STATESBORO, Ga. (AP) — A man who rushed to shut off a valve spurting poisonous ammonia was killed by the fumes. Eleven others were injured.

Authorities said the anhydrous ammonia, which is used as a fertilizer, was being pumped into a storage tank near a busy highway Monday when the transfer hose burst, sending the ammonia gushing out.

The dead man was identified as Larry T. Jet, 28, an employe of American Amico Farm Services. He was from Indiana and had been working in southeast Georgia for four months, Bulloch County sheriff's officers said.

SEN. JOHN BYINGTON
Popping back up

Try, Try Again . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — If S. John Byington never gets a seat on the Consumer Product Safety Commission, he can't claim his supporters didn't try.

Once killed in committee, the Byington nomination was revived when President Ford resubmitted it for a shorter term.

Then, on Monday, the full Senate voted 37 to 33 to reject the appointment of Byington to a 2½-year term on the commission.

But before the day ended, Byington supporters revived the nomination once again. This time they won agreement to get a vote, probably later this week, on a motion to reconsider the negative vote.

Byington, a 38-year-old native of Grand Rapids, Mich., President Ford's home town, worked on consumer affairs in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the White House and was a business partner of William L. Seidman, a White House aide and Ford adviser.

Ford had indicated he wanted Byington as chairman of the commission, but Byington opponents say they want a more vigorous consumer advocate to head the panel.

Engineers Favor More N-Plants

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Nuclear plant construction should not be curtailed, because other power sources can't meet the state's energy needs, says the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers. The 2,500-member organization said Monday nuclear power is safe and that the public has been frightened into believing atomic fission is a beast rather than blessing.

"I would rather live next to a nuclear power plant than a coal plant," said James J. Duderstadt of Ann Arbor, an associate professor of nuclear engineering at the University of Michigan. Duderstadt maintained atomic energy is safer for the health and environment than other forms of energy.

He acknowledged saboteurs could destroy a nuclear plant but it would do more damage to more people "to put a bomb in the lobby of the Fisher Building (a major structure in Detroit)," he said.

Four engineers said at a news conference that restrictions proposed by the student-run Public Interest Research Group in Michigan (PIRGIM) could deprive Michigan residents of "reasonably priced electrical energy by forcing virtually impossible to fulfill conditions on power companies."

"The people of the state are going to wake up someday and find they don't have the energy they want," said Clair H. Aiken of Midland, a Dow Chemical Co. consulting engineer and president of the state engineering society.

The state engineers' position is the same as that taken earlier by the 72,000-member National Society of Professional Engineers.

Another 1.2 MPG

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors says the average fuel economy of its 1977-model cars will rise about seven per cent from this year's models despite tougher antipollution standards that go into effect this fall. GM President Elliott M. Estes said the firm's new fleet of cars will average about 17.6 miles to the gallon of gasoline, compared with 16.4 mpg for this year's fleet. He said the firm's smaller full-sized cars — which debut this fall — are the main reason for the fuel economy gain. Some retooling to meet tighter standards on the emission of harmful nitrogen oxide exhausts makes the improvement smaller than it might have been, he said. The new full-size cars will be about a foot shorter and 700 pounds lighter than their 1976 counterparts. Estes estimated the new models would get two to three miles more per gallon than the 1976 full-sized cars.

Body Found In River

ADRIAN, Mich (AP) — The body of a 56-year-old Palmyra man, missing for five days, has been found in the River Raisin. Authorities said children playing ball found the body of Howard Nickelsen Monday evening. Nickelson had been missing since last Wednesday, when he failed to show up for his job. His car was found by the river but no trace was found of the man until Monday's discovery. According to a medical examiner's report, Nickelsen's death was due to drowning. Officials said they do not suspect foul play and indicated the death may be a suicide.

Dual Derailment

ROCKWOOD, Mich. (AP) — A Penn Central freight train suffered a dual derailment Monday, dumping four cars into the Huron river, Rockwood police said. Police said 18 cars tipped off the tracks in Rockwood and several other cars were derailed in the area. Other cars derailed in nearby South Rockwood, including the four cars which fell into the river, police said. The second derailment occurred when the train's air brakes went on, authorities said. Rockwood police said there were no injuries. "They were lucky," a Rockwood police spokesman said. "There were a lot of people fishing along the river." Patrolmen estimated the train was nearly two miles long. Police said they had no idea how long the tracks would be blocked.

It's 53 Against 1

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Fifty-three suburbs have sued the City of Detroit in an attempt to halt a recent 39 per cent increase in water rates. The suit, filed Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court, charges Detroit has not proven the need for an increase. The city sells water to 95 suburbs around Detroit and along the eastern edge of the state. Attorney for the suburban communities, Bert Burgoyne, said city officials refused to let suburban officials examine Water Department books. Nansi Rowe, assistant city law director, said she wasn't sure whether suburbs had been denied access to the Water Department's books. But she added, "We certainly feel we are on very good ground to make these water rate increases." The increase was approved May 11 by Detroit City Council over the objections of its own research department.

Trucker Rates Hiked

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Some 35 intrastate trucking firms will receive 4 to 6.75 per cent more from shippers under permanent rate increases approved Monday by the state Public Service Commission. The rates will take replace temporary rate hikes of 4 to 8 per cent, approved earlier by the PSC. Rates will vary according to the weight of the cargo. Monday's rate increase affects companies that transport auto parts, manufactured goods, food and general freight by truck within the state. Specialized haulers, household movers, petroleum carriers and iron and steel haulers will not be affected by the commission action.

Fuel Economy Goal

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry will achieve the voluntary fuel economy goal set by the federal government for 1980 cars, Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman predicted Monday. Coleman told the Economic Club of Detroit the industry "has done a remarkable job, voluntarily, in moving towards a 40 per cent mileage improvement goal we had set in 1974 as a reasonable target for 1980. In two model years, 1975 and 1976, the average improved from less than 14 miles to 17 and is two-thirds of the way towards its 1980 goal," he said. Coleman added, "I am sending to President Ford today a statement indicating the federal 1980 fuel goals will be met by the auto industry on a voluntary basis." He said the industry has done a good job solving its problems on its own and suggested the government "has demanded too much of the auto industry too soon."

Pharmacists Charged

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Five people, including two pharmacists, have been charged with conspiring to obtain a controlled drug by using the names of Michigan doctors, state officials said Monday. The group allegedly used doctors' names and registration numbers when ordering the stimulant phendimetrazine from the Lemmon Pharmacal Co. of Sellersville, Pa., the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation said Monday. They allegedly used special addresses that allowed them to recover the drug, which was called "Lemmon Speed" and had a street value of $2.50 per tablet. Indicted by a federal grand jury in Detroit were pharmacists Ronald Conn of Flint and Richard Proulx of Holly, Lemmon Co. salesmen Charles E. Archibald of Saginaw and Matthew Murphy of Chelsea, and Jane Smith of Flint, the licensing department said.

Free Tuition Rebuffed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The House refused Monday night to pass a bill providing free tuition at Michigan public colleges to any one with American Indian ancestry. Instead, the House sent the measure, sponsored by Rep. Jackie Vaughn III, D-Detroit to a joint House-Senate conference committee. The bill originally provided that only people of half-Indian descent would have been eligible. But after the measure passed the House and went to the Senate, it was changed to make people with any amount of Indian ancestry eligible. Rep. E. Dan Stevens, R-Atlanta, urged the House to vote against that change, which it did, 32-56. "We're putting in something that is vague and something that is more open," he said. The House also rejected another Senate change. It would have required approved Indian tribes in Michigan to verify that an applicant for free tuition was actually of Indian descent.

VA Bodies Exhumed

DETROIT (AP) — Traces of a muscle-paralyzing drug have been found in tissues taken from the exhumed bodies of three patients believed murdered last summer at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor, two newspapers report. FBI laboratories found traces of the drug, marketed as Pavulon, in three of four bodies exhumed last fall, it was reported. It also was reported that a Newark, N.J., doctor tested different methods of removing the drug, generically known as pancuronium bromide, from embalmed corpses. Federal authorities refused to confirm or deny the reports. Carrying the stories were the Detroit Free Press and the Ann Arbor News, with both giving unnamed sources as the basis of their articles. The deaths have been linked with a series of mysterious breathing failures at the hospital last summer. Authorities believe someone injected the drug in some 20 patients at the VA hospital last July and August, causing the respiratory failures. Some of the patients who died as a result of the arrests, authorities say, are believed to be murder victims. The drug is similar to the poison curare. Patients given the drug cannot breath without mechanical aid.

Dehoco Fugitive Fights Extradition

DETROIT (AP) — A 20-year-old Sturgis woman who escaped last year from Detroit House of Corrections is fighting extradition from California because of what she says are inhuman conditions at the prison.

Daneen Ann Weaver described "sexual and racial violence, dope and in general deplorable conditions" at the jail, according to her attorney. California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., reversed an early extradition order and granted Miss Weaver a governor's hearing.

"They're going to have to put me in the hole to keep me there, or they'll find me hanging," Miss Weaver said Monday from the Long Beach, Calif., jail. "I'm not kidding." Miss Weaver was sent to Dehoco, the only women's prison in Michigan, in November 1974. She was found guilty of a bad check charge, according to prison records. She escaped after serving six months of her 1½- to-14-year sentence by climbing over a fence at the minimum security facility.

"There are basically deplorable conditions and an intolerable situation," said her attorney, Robert Scott. "We don't feel that a 20-year-old girl should return to that."

Miss Weaver said the problems at Dehoco included thefts, insects, unsanitary kitchens and the possibility of sexual assault.

"I'd rather do solitary confinement in a county jail than any time at Dehoco," she said.

Raise The Drinking Age

LANSING, MICH. (AP) — Michigan's legal drinking age would be raised to 19 under a bill introduced by a state lawmaker Monday. "I believe this is a good compromise between those who would continue the current 18-year law and those who would raise it to 21 years of age," said Sen. James DeSana, D-Wyandotte, the bill's sponsor. DeSana said that at age 19, most young people have graduated from high schools, where officials say the problem of abuse is most acute. A recent survey showed that a large majority of high school officials in Michigan favored raising the drinking age to at least 19. Meanwhile, another state lawmaker attacked proposals to bring the drinking age back to 21 years. Rep. Jack Vaughn, D-Detroit, said such a move would be to "turn the clock back on efforts to bring young people into the system."

Judge Aiding Defendant

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit Recorder's Court judge is helping raise money for a Flint policewoman accused of shooting her partner and he says he sees nothing improper about his actions. Judge Justin Ravitz said he co-chairs the Madeline Fletcher Detroit Defense Committee and, along with his clerk and court aide, has been soliciting contributions for her defense. Miss Fletcher, 30, is being defended by Ken Cockrell, Ravitz's former law partner. She is accused of shooting Walter Kalberer, 34, last December during an argument over who would drive a patrol car. Miss Fletcher, who is black, also was shot. Kalberer is white. Although Canon Three of the Michigan Code of Judicial Conduct says a judge "should abstain from public comment about a pending or impending proceeding in any court and should require a similar abstention on the part of court personnel" Ravitz said he saw nothing wrong with his actions.

He said the canon "is designed to and can only regulate judicial conduct. The canons do not strip me of my rights as a citizen."

He said he regarded the case as "an example of blatant racism and sexism on the part of the Genesee County law enforcement officers."

Scientists See Danger In Tiny Doses Of PBB

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Meat, milk and eggs containing polybrominated biphenyl should be taken off the market because even minute amounts of PBB could cause cancer and birth defects in humans if consumed over a long period of time, a scientific panel warns.

The panel, appointed by Gov. William Milliken, recommended Monday that products sold in Michigan be free of even traces of PBB, a toxic fire-retardant accidentally mixed with large amounts of cattle feed in Michigan three years ago.

Milliken said the panel's recommendation should be adopted as a "precautionary measure," though no immediate health hazards due to lowlevels of PBB have been found in animals or humans.

"There is presumptive evidence for long-term effects on human health, including the potential for carcinogenic (cancerous) development," the panel said.

One panel member said it would take years, even decades, of exposure to low PBB levels for cancer to develop.

The six-member panel unanimously said it could not ignore evidence that high consumption of polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB), a chemical cousin to PBB, caused cancer in rats and abnormal fetal development in scientific tests.

In recommending that any detectable trace of PBB be outlawed, the panel sited "the potential acute and chronic health hazards, the uncertainty in regard to carcinogenicity and teratogenicity (birth defects) (and) the long-term tissue retention and possible accumulation of PBB."

A spokesman for the Michigan Department of Agriculture said "extremely low levels" of PBB are being found only in "very small amounts" of meat now being sold in Michigan. He said no PBB has been found recently in milk, cheese or butter.

B. Dale Ball, state agriculture department director, said he assumes the recommendation that produce be free of any detectable level of PBB will mean the quarantining of more livestock in Michigan.

Agriculture department figures dated April 20 show 480 herd of cattle, 53 herd of swine, and 189 flock of sheep and poultry are contaminated with detectable levels of PBB. Altogether, some 74,640 animals are on those farms, though it is not known how many members of each herd or flock are contaminated.

Already over a million animals, including several thousand cattle, have been slaughtered as a result of the accidental mixing of a fire retardant containing PBB in livestock feed in 1973.

Paw Paw Okays Two Buildings

PAW PAW — Two building permits, one for an addition to the Zolp Funeral home, and the other for an additional approved by Paw Paw village council last night.

The 40 new units at the Vintage apartments on St. Joseph street will be in addition to 3 already built. The addition at the funeral home will be 30 by 60 feet.

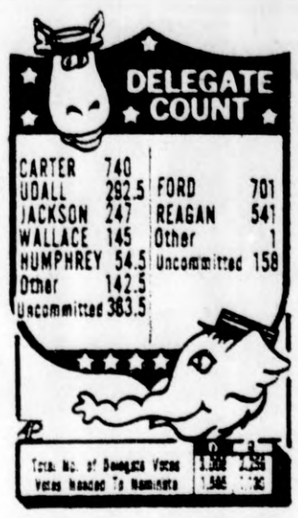

In other areas, William Cutting, a Paw Paw accountant, told trustees that an audit of the village's books showed that things were in generally good order. He noted, however, that the village's bond reserve fund had a balance of only $11,000, but is required to have $20,000 by village ordinance. He suggested council take steps to increase the fund.

Council also received a letter from Van Buren Sheriff Richard E. Stump saying that he planned to recommend that Police Chief George Fadel and Sgt. John Bonter, as well as Officer Ken Anderson of the Lawton police, receive citations from the Michigan Blockade committee, a law enforcement organization.

Stump said all three were instrumental in capturing two suspects on I-94 last Sept. 12 after an alert had been put out following an armed robbery in Lawrence.

Village President Charles Smith said he felt the village was fortunate to have an excellent police department. Fadel in turn thanked the council for its support of the department.

Council also gave permission to the Paw Paw Masonic Lodge to hold a parade on Kalamazoo street June 24 to celebrate the holiday of St. John the Baptist, and to the Kalamazoo Shriners to sell newspapers in the village Aug. 28.

DNR Rejects Subdivision Plot

COLOMA — The Coloma township planning commission was informed last night that a plan for a proposed 13-lot subdivision at Paw Paw Lake road and Beech avenue had been rejected by the Department of Natural Resources.

The subdivision plans had previously been approved by both the planning commission and the township board. Notification came in a copy of a letter sent to the developer.

The rejection by the state agency was based on possible flooding on several lots because of low elevations. By law, work could not be undertaken unless a revised plan is submitted and approved by the DNR.

Plans for the Lake Pointe subdivision were submitted to the planning commission last March by Neil Berndt of Neil Berndt and Associates, representing John Yerington of Benton Harbor.

In another area, the planning commission voted to recommend to the township board that it increase the size of the township zoning appeals board from three to five members.

The recommendation included a provision, that if cost was a determining factor, that the planning commission be reduced from nine members to seven members.

Bottle Ban Law Petitions Faulty?

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Opponents of a petition drive to ban throwaway bottles and cans claim they've found a defect in the way the petition is drafted, threatening the success of the environmental campaign.

The petitions do not bear a title as the constitution requires for every law, and a legal challenge would result in them being ruled invalid, they say.

In addition, a representative of beverage container manufacturers said the wording of the petition is misleading and violates state law by deceiving the signer.

But a spokesman for the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC), which is conducting the petition drive, said the group is confident the petitions will pass muster.

The MUCC began the drive after the legislature failed to act on a bill to require deposits on bottles and cans to end the use of disposable containers.

William Rustem, an aide to Gov. William Milliken working with MUCC on the project, said Monday the group has 150,000 signatures toward its goal of 300,000 by June 1.

Supporters need 212,000 signatures to get the proposed new law on the November ballot. With the backing of Milliken and strong statewide support, backers and opponents assume enough signatures can be gathered.

But MUCC discovered midway through the drive there was a question over whether the petition form meets state law and the constitution. Meanwhile, attorneys for the bottle industry are gearing up to challenge the petition in court when the drive is completed.

Under the constitution, every bill must have a title. H. James Starr, legislative lobbyist for the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, says the same provision applies to initiative petitions.

Starr, an attorney, said Michigan courts have thrown out petitions which have no title, since they seek to become a law just like a bill does.

"That's a fatal defect," Starr said Monday. "If it's challenged it won't go on the ballot." He said the most likely time for such a challenge would be when the petition signatures are submitted for approval to the secretary of state's office.

IN THIS?: "I'm swimming in this?" is what Marine Capt. Alan Jones seems to say as he holds dead fish he picked up as he entered Mississippi river near St. Anthony Falls, Minn., Monday. Coloma Board Approves Panel

COLOMA — The Coloma school board last night approved formation of a Coloma recreation and parks committee in a move designed to get a $7,000 grant for recreational facility improvements.

Larry Saiz, a member of the Berrien county parks and recreation board, said the money would be available to the committee if formed by the school district and Coloma township.

Township approval is to be sought at the township board's next regular meeting.

Saiz told the board the money was available from the county because it had not been sought by the township board for development of a township park previously. No action by the township board triggered the proposal to form the joint committee.

School board action came at Saiz' request.

According to Saiz, no financial commitment from either the school board or township board will be necessary because lights obtained already for the Washington elementary school ballfield will account for the matching funds necessary to qualify for the park grant.

The committee, when formed, will have six members, according to Saiz.

In other areas, the board accepted the recommendation of Supt. William Barrett to drop Latin I for the 1976-77 school year due to low enrollment for the class. Barrett recommended retaining Latin II and both German and French classes for the upcoming year.

The board approved a request from the Berrien county American Red Cross to use the high school cafeteria on June 17, for an orientation on an areawide disaster plan.

The board approved the continuation of services for counseling assistance with the Riverwood Mental Health center at a cost of $621 for the 1976-77 school year.

Barrett reported the school systems' kindergarten roundup conducted earlier this month resulted in 230 new students for the coming school year.

River Valley Board Buys Dozen Sewing Machines

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board last night approved purchase of 12 replacement sewing machines for the high school home economics department.

UPon recommendation of Donald Bussler, high school pricipal, 10 machines will be purchased from the Singer company, Michigan City, Ind., at an exchange price of $45 each and two Viking machines from the Muday Sewing Center, St. Joseph, for $261 each, plus $65 apiece for two cabinets.

Bussler explained the Singer machines have a one-year warranty and are exchanged each year, while the Viking machines have a 10-year warranty. He said the home economics department would be comparing the performance and durability of the two different machines.

The board also approved purchasing a used 13-inch lathe for the vocational education department at a cost of $3,500 from Schwartz Machinery company, South Bend, and a heavy duty repair stand and motor rotor for the automotive department at a cost of $645 from Kalamazoo Distributors, Kalamazoo.

In other areas, the board named Wightman & Associates, St. Joseph, to make a topographical survey and map of high school property. Estimated cost was around $1,000, lowest of four proposal prices submitted.

Dr. John Dooley, assistant superintendent, reported Preliminary estimates on the state equalized valuation of the River Valley school district at $66,380,929 for 1976, compared to $64,752,239 in 1975.

Dr. Charles Williams, superintendent, announced the retirement of Miss Linnea Backlund, high school math department chairman, effective June 9. Miss Backlund was commended for her 35 years of teaching.

Gary Lange, representing the high school student congress, received the board's permission to have two basketball goals and support stands installed on the parking lot behind the high school at no cost to the school district.

The board approved sale of a house just completed by the combined building trades classes of Bridgman, Galien, and River Valley high school. The home built in Bridgman was sold for $43,000 including a floor covering allowance of $1,500.

George Lozmack, retiring school board member, was named to make diploma presentations to this year's graduating class on June 4.

Coloma: Why Were We Omitted From Report?

COLOMA — The Coloma city commission last night voted to seek the reasons why the northern portion of Berrien county was omitted from a county prepared industrial location inventory report.

The action came on Commissioner Fred Munchow's request that City Clerk Mrs. Patricia Beezley write the county planning commission to obtain reasons why Coloma and Watervliet cities and townships were excluded from the survey published earlier this month.

Munchow said, "We have several good locations for industrial development, but we were not included in the report at all."

Mayor Glenn Randall, following the meeting, asked "Why did they request us to fill out a report for the study of available areas for development if they're going to ignore us?"

Both Randall and Munchow cited areas along Park road and Wilson street inside the city limits where industrial development is sought by the city for increasing the tax base.

In other areas, the commission reappointed Lynn Scott to a two-year term on the Coloma library board.

The commission approved splitting one lot at the corner of Harriet and Center streets on request of Wightman and Associates acting for Joseph Gepa Jr..

The commission voted to apply for a seven-month federal CETA grant to pay for one public works employe and to hire six laborers and one foreman to clean up the ravine area of the city during the summer months.

The commission set Monday, June 28, at 8:30 p.m., as the time for opening bids for seal coating 12 city streets.

The commission set Friday, June 18, as the final day for property owners of vacant lots to mow the grass on the property, if needed, before city workers undertake the work and charge the work to the property owner.

Commissioner Harold Hammond, head of the public works committee, announced city fire hydrants would would be flushed between 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., on June 3 and June 4.

The commission approved purchasing two truck dump boxes at a cost of $1,990 and $2,150 from Neil's Automotive of Kalamazoo.

The commission approved the purchase of three outdoor grills for Randall park at a cost of $135.

Buchanan Adopts Budget And 1.5 Mill Tax Boost

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission last night adopted a 1976-77 budget calling for expenditures of $948,275, an amount $55,828 over the present year's budget.

At the same time, the board adopted a property tax levy of 14 mills, an increase of 1.5 mills over the 1975 tax rate. The new millage is to be levied this summer.

Included in the budget were pay increases for all salaried employes other than those in the police department. Police salaries will not be revealed until contract negotiations are completed, commissioners said.

The new annual rates for salaried employes, with present salaries in parentheses, are as follows: Robert Faulhaber, city manager, $18,700 ($17,000); Herbert Russell, clerk, $10,440 ($9,850); Pauline Synold, treasurer, $10,070 ($9,500); Richard Bell, building inspector-assessor, $12,500 ($12,000); Neal Burks, fire chief, $13,365 ($12,150); Max Penwell, public works superintendent, $14,500 ($13,500); Nancy Holmes, librarian, $9,000 ($8,000); James Lamb, water and sewer department superintendent, $13,515 ($12,750); and Richard Best, parks and cemetery superintendent, $11,235 ($10,600).

All raises were a minimum of six per cent, and some included additional merit increases, according to Mayor Joseph Garbert II.

The budget had been first revealed at a May 10 public hearing. The fiscal year begins July 1.

The largest increase in the budget is for public improvements, going from $42,031 in 1975-76 to $146,818 in the new budget.

Other expenditures in the new budget, compared to 1975-76 figures in parentheses, are as follows: law enforcement, $237,824 ($237,395); fire, $35,231 ($25,223); department of public works, $89,387 ($95,855); municipal street fund, $73,764 ($146,927); and library, 34,595 ($41,445).

Although next year's budget is higher than this year's it is lower than the current estimate of $1,004,203 for actual expenditures in 1975-76.

In other areas, the commission appointed Bennett Jensen to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Joseph Bachman. Bachman resigned from the commission May 7, two months after he resigned the mayor's post.

Jensen, of 403 South Red Bud trail, is owner of the Hi-Lites, a weekly shopper publication. He previously served on the city's board of review. He will serve until November when he will have to seek election to stay on the commission.

The commission ordered a second appraisal be made on the old county garage property on Fulton street which is presently owned by the John G. Yerington Concrete company, Benton Harbor, and has been offered for sale to the city.

The commission agreed to pay $1,294 to the Greater Niles-Buchanan Committee on Aging for one year. The money is to be used for programs offered to area senior citizens.

The monthly standby payments for volunteer firemen were raised $3. Commissioners said the raises were given in appreciation of the "fine service and sacrifices" of the volunteers.

Under the new rates, firemen will receive $7 monthly, captains $8 monthly, and assistant chiefs, $10.

The commission approved agreements with Architectural Services, Inc., Elkhart, calling for the firm to prepare preliminary designs for a proposed memorial chapel at the cemetery and to provide services for improvements to the city hall commission chamber.

Paw Paw Okays Two Buildings

PAW PAW — Two building permits, one for an addition to the Zulp Funeral home, and the other for an additional approved by Paw Paw village council last night.

The 40 new units at the Village apartments on St. Joseph street will be in addition to 3 already built. The addition at the funeral home will be 30 by 60 feet.

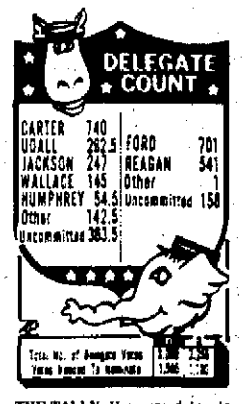

In other areas, William Cutting, a Paw Paw accountant, told trustees that an audit of the village's books showed that things were in generally good order. He noted, however, that the village's bond reserve fund had a balance of only $11,000, but is required to have $20,000 by village ordinance. He suggested council take steps to increase the fund.

Council also received a letter from Van Buren Sheriff Richard E. Stump saying that he planned to recommend that Police Chief George Fadel and Sgt. John Bunter, as well as Officer Ken Anderson of the Lawton police, receive citations from the Michigan Blockade committee, a law enforcement organization.

Stump said all three were instrumental in capturing two suspects on I-94 last Sept. 12 after an alert had been put out following an armed robbery in Lawrence.

Village President Charles Smith said he felt the village was fortunate to have an excellent police department. Fadel in turn thanked the council for its support of the department.

Council also gave permission to the Paw Paw Masonic Lodge to hold a parade on Kalamazoo street June 24 to celebrate the holiday of St. John the Baptist, and to the Kalamazoo Shriners to sell newspapers in the village Aug. 28.

DNR Rejects Subdivision Plot

COLOMA — The Coloma township planning commission was informed last night that a plan for a proposed 13-lot subdivision at Paw Paw Lake road and Beech avenue had been rejected by the Department of Natural Resources.

The subdivision plans had previously been approved by both the planning commission and the township board. Notification came in a copy of a letter sent to the developer.

The rejection by the state agency was based on possible flooding on several lots because of low elevations. By law, work could not be undertaken unless a revised plan is submitted and approved by the DNR.

Plans for the Lake Pointe subdivision were submitted to the planning commission last March by Neil Berndt of Neil Berndt and Associates, representing John Yerington of Benton Harbor.

In another area, the planning commission voted to recommend to the township board that it increase the size of the township zoning appeals board from three to five members.

The recommendation included a provision, that if cost was a determining factor, that the planning commission be reduced from nine members to seven members.

Bottle Ban Law Petitions Faulty?

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Opponents of a petition drive to ban throwaway bottles and cans claim they've found a defect in the way the petition is drafted, threatening the success of the environmental campaign.

The petitions do not bear a title as the constitution requires for every law, and a legal challenge would result in them being ruled invalid, they say.

In addition, a representative of beverage container manufacturers said the wording of the petition is misleading and violates state law by deceiving the signer.

But a spokesman for the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC), which is conducting the petition drive, said the group is confident the petitions will pass muster.

The MUCC began the drive after the legislature failed to act on a bill to require deposits on bottles and cans to end the use of disposable containers.

William Rustem, an aide to Gov. William Milliken working with MUCC on the project, said Monday the group has 150,000 signatures toward its goal of 300,000 by June 1.

Supporters need 212,000 signatures to get the proposed new law on the November ballot. With the backing of Milliken and strong statewide support, backers and opponents assume enough signatures can be gathered.

But MUCC discovered midway through the drive there was a question over whether the petition form meets state law and the constitution. Meanwhile, attorneys for the bottle industry are gearing up to challenge the petition in court when the drive is completed.

Under the constitution, every bill must have a title. H. James Starr, legislative lobbyist for the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, says the same provision applies to initiative petitions.

Starr, an attorney, said Michigan courts have thrown out petitions which have no title, since they seek to become a law just like a bill does.

"That's a fatal defect," Starr said Monday. "If it's challenged it won't go on the ballot." He said the most likely time for such a challenge would be when the petition signatures are submitted for approval to the secretary of state's office.

IN THIS?: "I'm swimming in this?" is what Marine Capt. Alan Jones seems to say as he holds dead fish he picked up as he entered Mississippi river near St. Anthony Falls, Minn., Monday. He began a 700-mile swim to St. Louis as a Bicentennial gesture. He is from LeMars, Iowa and is being accompanied by a Portland, Ore. man. (AP Wirephoto)

Coloma Board Approves Panel

COLOMA — The Coloma school board last night approved formation of a Coloma recreation and parks committee in a move designed to get a $7,000 grant for recreational facility improvements.

Larry Saiz, a member of the Berrien county parks and recreation board, said the money would be available to the committee if formed by the school district and Coloma township.

Township approval is to be sought at the township board's next regular meeting.

Saiz told the board the money was available from the county because it had not been sought by the township board for development of a township park previously. No action by the township board triggered the proposal to form the joint committee.

School board action came at Saiz' request.

According to Saiz, no financial commitment from either the school board or township board will be necessary because lights obtained already for the Washington elementary school ballfield will account for the matching funds necessary to qualify for the park grant.

The committee, when formed, will have six members, according to Saiz.

In other areas, the board accepted the recommendation of Supt. William Barrett to drop Latin I for the 1976-77 school year due to low enrollment for the class. Barrett recommended retaining Latin II and both German and French classes for the upcoming year.

The board approved a request from the Berrien county American Red Cross to use the high school cafeteria on June 17, for an orientation on an areawide disaster plan.

The board approved the continuation of services for counseling assistance with the Riverwood Mental Health center at a cost of $621 for the 1976-77 school year.

Barrett reported the school systems' kindergarten roundup conducted earlier this month resulted in 230 new students for the coming school year.

River Valley Board Buys Dozen Sewing Machines

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board last night approved purchase of 12 replacement sewing machines for the high school home economics department.

UPon recommendation of Donald Bussler, high school pricipal, 10 machines will be purchased from the Singer company, Michigan City, Ind., at an exchange price of $45 each and two Viking machines from the Muday Sewing Center, St. Joseph, for $261 each, plus $65 apiece for two cabinets.

Bussler explained the Singer machines have a one-year warranty and are exchanged each year, while the Viking machines have a 10-year warranty. He said the home economics department would be comparing the performance and durability of the two different machines.

The board also approved purchasing a used 13-inch lathe for the vocational education department at a cost of $3,500 from Schwartz Machinery company, South Bend, and a heavy duty repair stand and motor rotor for the automotive department at a cost of $645 from Kalamazoo Distributors, Kalamazoo.

In other areas, the board named Wightman & Associates, St. Joseph, to make a topographical survey and map of high school property. Estimated cost was around $1,000, lowest of four proposal prices submitted.

Dr. John Dooley, assistant superintendent, reported Preliminary estimates on the state equalized valuation of the River Valley school district at $66,380,929 for 1976, compared to $64,752,239 in 1975.

Dr. Charles Williams, superintendent, announced the retirement of Miss Linnea Backlund, high school math department chairman, effective June 9. Miss Backlund was commended for her 35 years of teaching.

Gary Lange, representing the high school student congress, received the board's permission to have two basketball goals and support stands installed on the parking lot behind the high school at no cost to the school district.

The board approved sale of a house just completed by the combined building trades classes of Bridgman, Galien, and River Valley high school. The home built in Bridgman was sold for $43,000 including a floor covering allowance of $1,500.

George Lozmack, retiring school board member, was named to make diploma presentations to this year's graduating class on June 4.

Coloma: Why Were We Omitted From Report?

COLOMA — The Coloma city commission last night voted to seek the reasons why the northern portion of Berrien county was omitted from a county prepared industrial location inventory report.

The action came on Commissioner Fred Munchow's request that City Clerk Mrs. Patricia Beezley write the county planning commission to obtain reasons why Coloma and Watervliet cities and townships were excluded from the survey published earlier this month.

Munchow said, "We have several good locations for industrial development, but we were not included in the report at all."

Mayor Glenn Randall, following the meeting, asked "Why did they request us to fill out a report for the study of available areas for development if they're going to ignore us?"

Both Randall and Munchow cited areas along Park road and Wilson street inside the city limits where industrial development is sought by the city for increasing the tax base.

In other areas, the commission reappointed Lynn Scull to a two-year term on the Coloma library board.

The commission approved splitting one lot at the corner of Harriet and Center streets on request of Wightman and Associates acting for Joseph Gejn Jr.

The commission voted to apply for a seven-month federal CETA grant to pay for one public works employe and to hire six laborers and one foreman to clean up the ravine area of the city during the summer months.

The commission set Monday, June 28, at 8:30 p.m., as the time for opening bids for seal coating 12 city streets.

The commission set Friday, June 18, as the final day for property owners of vacant lots to mow the grass on the property, if needed, before city workers undertake the work and charge the work to the property owner.

Commissioner Harold Hammond, head of the public works committee, announced city fire hydrants would would be flushed between 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., on June 3 and June 4.

The commission approved purchasing two truck dump boxes at a cost of $1,990 and $2,150 from Neil's Automotive of Kalamazoo.

The commission approved the purchase of three outdoor grills for Randall park at a cost of $135.

Buchanan Adopts Budget And 1.5 Mill Tax Boost

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission last night adopted a 1976-77 budget calling for expenditures of $948,275, an amount $55,828 over the present year's budget.

At the same time, the board adopted a property tax levy of 14 mills, an increase of 1.5 mills over the 1975 tax rate. The new millage is to be levied this summer.

Included in the budget were pay increases for all salaried employes other than those in the police department. Police salaries will not be revealed until contract negotiations are completed, commissioners said.

The new annual rates for salaried employes, with present salaries in parentheses, are as follows; Robert Faulhaber, city manager, $18,700 ($17,000); Herbert Russell, clerk, $10,440 ($9,850); Pauline Synnild, treasurer, $10,070 ($9,500); Richard Bell, building inspector-assessor, $12,500 ($12,000); Neal Burks, fire chief, $13,365 ($12,150); Max Penwell, public works superintendent, $14,500 ($13,500); Nancy Holmes, librarian, $9,000 ($8,000); James Lamb, water and sewer department superintendent, $13,515 ($12,750); and Richard Best, parks and cemetery superintendent, $11,235 ($10,600).

All raises were a minimum of six per cent, and some included additional merit increases, according to Mayor Joseph Garbert II.

The budget had been first revealed at a May 10 public hearing. The fiscal year begins July 1.

The largest increase in the budget is for public improvements, going from $42,031 in 1975-76 to $146,818 in the new budget.

Other expenditures in the new budget, compared to 1975-76 figures in parentheses, are as follows: law enforcement, $237,824 ($237,395); fire, $35,231 ($25,223); department of public works, $89,387 ($95,855); municipal street fund, $73,764 ($146,927); and library, 34,595 ($41,445).

Although next year's budget is higher than this year's it is lower than the current estimate of $1,004,203 for actual expenditures in 1975-76.

In other areas, the commission appointed Bennett Jensen to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Joseph Bachman. Bachman resigned from the commission May 7, two months after he resigned the mayor's post.

Jensen, of 403 South Red Bud trail, is owner of the Hi-Lites, a weekly shopper publication. He previously served on the city's board of review. He will serve until November when he will have to seek election to stay on the commission.

The commission ordered a second appraisal be made on the old county garage property on Fulton street which is presently owned by the John G. Yerington Concrete company, Benton Harbor, and has been offered for sale to the city.

The commission agreed to pay $1,294 to the Greater Niles-Buchanan Committee on Aging for one year. The money is to be used for programs offered to area senior citizens.

The monthly standby payments for volunteer firemen were raised $3. Commissioners said the raises were given in appreciation of the "fine service and sacrifices" of the volunteers.

Under the new rates, firemen will receive $7 monthly, captains $8 monthly, and assistant chiefs, $10.

The commission approved agreements with Architectural Services, Inc., Elkhart, calling for the firm to prepare preliminary designs for a proposed memorial chapel at the cemetery and to provide services for improvements to the city hall commission chamber.

LMC To Ready Grant Bids For $3-Plus Million

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

The Lake Michigan college board of trustees last night authorized the completion of applications for federal grants that could exceed $3 million for instruction programs and staff. Applications are to be completed next October for the funds issued through the U.S. Office of Education's Title III program, reported Kenneth Riley, director of the LMC Institute of Professional and Paraprofessional Studies.

Riley said two applications will be made based on studies over the past two years. One is for program planning for one year, which could net the college up to $250,000. The other, Riley said, is for advanced program planning over a three to five-year period, which could bring in some $3 million.

A decision by the U.S. Office of Education on the grant applications is not expected before the end of the 1976-77 school year.

Riley said a list of 14 proposed uses for the money has been compiled. These include remedial testing, a learning resources center, staff development, women's institution for studies in education and humanities.

The money would not be for capital improvements, such as a proposed civic center, it was reported.

The Title III grant program for developing institutional programs was reported started in 1973, with a total of $58 million for funding community colleges and four-year colleges and universities. Lehman said about $225 million now is available. Lehman said he hopes grants that might be received by LMC would help to form long-range educational goals for up to 10 years.

The board in other business nominated William Niemi, vice president for business affairs, as the LMC representative on the Berrien county Comprehensive Employment Training Act board.

Ken Snow, LMC trade related instruction coordinator, presented an updated report on the program, detailed last May 5 in The Herald-Palladium. Snow said on June 7, Consumers Power company's Palisades nuclear generating plant, Covert township, will utilize the program to train its general plant maintenance personnel. Snow also said Whirlpool Corp. is interested in using the testing system of the program in all of its plants.

Testing of employes to evaluate their abilities was used recently by Consolidated Die Casting, Dowagiac, Snow said.

Teenager Arraigned In Slayings

LAVERNE KINDELL
Slaying charges

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — An 18-year-old Leslie man has been arraigned on two counts of first-degree murder in the beating and stabbing deaths of two elderly widows.

Laverne Oliver Kindell was arrested Monday by Ingham County deputies in Lansing, who apprehended him at the office of Kindell's probation officer. Kindell was on one year's probation on a drunk and disorderly charge.

He was charged with the felony murders of Cecile Allen, 87, and May Haven, 89, who were found beaten and stabbed to death Sunday in their Leslie home, about 25 miles south of Lansing. Ingham County District Court officials said felony murder is a type of first-degree murder that is committed in the perpetration of a felony crime. Police said they were investigating the circumstances of the women's deaths.

Police said Kindell was spotted driving a car matching the description of Mrs. Allen's car, which was stolen Saturday. The car was later found abandoned south of Leslie.

Kindell, a Leslie High School dropout, was held without bond. Preliminary examination was set for June 3.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Woman Says Teens Snatched Purse

A Benton township woman told Benton Harbor police her purse was snatched as she was walking in the downtown area Monday shortly before 4 p.m.

Pansy Haney, 62, of 432 Madeline avenue, said two teenage boys came from behind her, twisted her arm forcing her to release the purse and fled on foot. She was unhurt in the incident that occurred on Sixth street near East Main street. She said the purse contained a check book and personal items, but no cash.

Nine thefts were reported to Twin Cities area police Monday including a $7,000 industrial metal pot and $600 in cash in a briefcase taken from a St. Joseph man's car.

Tony Fortuna told Benton Harbor police the three-foot diameter pot was at the side of his plant, Harbor Metal Treating, 800 South Fair avenue. He said pot was quite heavy and would require at least two people to move it.

Benton township police said William Martin, 301 First street, St. Joseph, reported a briefcase containing $600 in cash was taken from his car parked in a lot on Plaza drive. Martin said the money belonged to the Berrien County Alert Team club of which he is a member. Police said a coat hanger was used to gain entry to Martin's car.

Other thefts reported to Benton Harbor police were:

—Household goods and a 12-gauge shotgun, all valued at $395, from the home of Lawrence Williams, 331 Forest avenue.

—A tape player and CB radio, valued at a total of $375, from the car of Carl Boyd, 585 McAllister avenue.

—A tape player and amplifier, valued at $246, from the apartment of James King, 304 South Fair avenue.

—A tape player, valued at $117, from the car of William Valentine, 330 East Britain avenue.

—A CB radio, valued at $100, from the car of Craig Kenyon, 4721 Shore drive, Coloma, parked in a lot in the 700 block of Riverview drive.

—A .38 caliber revolver, valued at $70, from the residence of Edward Robinson, 581 East Main street.

A 50-gallon barrel of motor oil was reported stolen from the Standard Oil company, Lemon Creek road east of Red Arrow highway, Lake township, Berrien sheriff's deputies said. The 500-pound barrel of oil was valued at $80.

Benton Harbor police Monday received three reports of windows in vehicles broken by vandals.

Joseph Mammina, owner of Twin Cities Motor Transit bus lines, 399 Territorial road, told police the windshield and two side windows on a bus were broken by either BBs or pellets while the bus was parked.

Deborah Mark, 682 East Vineyard street, said she was driving near the intersection of Washington and McCord streets when a rear passenger window was cracked. She told police she heard what sounded like two shots just before the window broke.

Ruby Brown, 554 East Main street, told police a child threw a rock that cracked her car's windshield as she was driving in the 600 block of McAllister avenue.

They Stole His Jeep Bit By Bit

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

"They stole it piece by piece" was the way state police of the Benton Harbor post described the disappearance of a week-old, $6,500 Jeep CJ-5 from Warren Dunes State park, Lake township.

Troopers reported this sequence of events:

Last Wednesday the Jeep's owner Albert Dobbs, Mishawaka, Ind., left it in the dunes when it broke down. He returned Friday to discover some engine parts and all four tires and rims missing.

He left it again and returned Sunday, couldn't find the jeep and told troopers it had been stolen.

Trooper Gary Truszkowski located what was left of the jeep and saw several people stripping more parts. Truszkowski said the thieves took the parts and departed quickly in off-road vehicles as he approached on foot.

Truszkowski went to call another trooper and a wrecker. When the wrecker arrived, the Jeep chassis was gone and only the muffler remained.

Oregon Critical Battle Site For Candidates Now

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

President Ford has passed the halfway mark in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination and Democrat Jimmy Carter has a chance to reach the same milestone as six states held presidential primaries today. And Missouri Democrats were to select 54 delegates in district conventions tonight — more delegates than were at stake in any of the individual six primaries.

Ford's delegate strength was pushed over the halfway mark on Monday when 119 previously uncommitted New York delegates agreed to give up their uncommitted status and throw in with the President at the urging of Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Carter, meanwhile, was predicting he would win 100 or more of the 191 delegates being contested in today's primaries in Arkansas, Idaho, Kentucky, Nevada, Oregon and Tennessee. With the 740 he already has, this would give him well over half the 1,505 he needs for nomination.

Missouri's conventions will be held in the state's 10 congressional districts. The 14 other members of the state's 71-member delegation will be selected at the state convention June 12.

Party officials predict that Carter will make a strong showing as a result of endorsements earlier this month of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton and other party leaders.

Although Ford's 701 is more than half the 1,130 needed for the GOP nomination, he faces a much tighter race than Carter does. Carter's nearest rival is Rep. Morris K. Udall with 292.5 delegate votes.

Oregon shapes up as the critical battleground for both parties. For one thing it may be Reagan's last chance before the GOP convention to prove he can win a state with a middleground electorate. The other five states voting today are in the string of more conservative southern and western states considered prime Reagan territory.

The former California governor has yet to win outside the South and West with the exception of conservative Indiana and has not carried any major Northern industrial state.

Oregon also is the only place where Carter is being tested on anything approaching equal terms, and failure of his remaining rivals to stall him there could put his bandwagon beyond stopping.

Break-Ins Believed Related

NILES — Niles police said this morning they believe three break-ins reported on the city's southeast side yesterday are related.

Police said a total of $450 in merchandise and cash was taken from three homes within four blocks of each other. In all three cases, ptlice said, a door window was broken to gain entry.

Jerry Camp, 1637 Superior street, told police that electronic equipment valued at $300 was taken from his home sometime between 6 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Charles Hartline, 1603 Michigan street, reported a wrist watch valued at $100 was taken from his home between 7 and 10 p.m. Lottie Peterson, 1641 Hickory street, reported that about 10:30 p.m. $50 was taken from a purse in her house.

Police said the three break-ins follow a recent rash of breaking and enterings on the city's southeast side. No arrests have been made.

Two Hurt In Berrien Smashups

Two drivers were treated for apparently minor injuries sustained in two traffic accidents Monday, according to St. Joseph township police and Berrien sheriff's deputies.

Township police said a two-car collision at the intersection of Niles road and Lincoln avenue about 9 a.m. resulted in injury to Edward Gallert, 73, of 665 Grant avenue, St. Joseph township. He was released after treatment at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor. The other driver was Gary Marion McCormick, 18, of 3520 Pine court, St. Joseph township, who was unhurt. Police said no tickets were issued because of conflicting statements.

In another accident, Berrien deputies said two cars collided about 5:30 p.m. at the intersection of Scottdale and Rocky Weed roads, Royalton township.

The injured driver, Karen Kay Kietzer, 29, route 6, M-152, Dowagiac, was released after treatment at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph. The other driver, who was uninjured, was Robert Charles Herman, 18, Box 13, Rangeline road, Berrien Springs. Deputies said he was ticketed for having defective brakes.

School Board Goes On Junket

great deal of money on in-service training for teachers, and board members felt some money should be spent on in-service training for themselves.

In other areas at last night's meeting, the board approved a 1976-77 athletic budget of $12,167, an amount $700 higher than the budget for the present year. It was estimated $700 of that amount would be raised from gate receipts.

The board tabled for further study a proposal to purchase insurance which would protect board members in the event they were individually sued for actions they might take in their official capacity.

High school Principal Tommie Saylor said only three former students had sought to have their grades reviewed in the wake of a court decision which overturned an attendance policy that called for failing marks to be given for unexcused absences. No grade changes were made, he said.

The board voted to purchase auto mechanic, woodworking and small engine books for next year at a cost of $1,667.

Horse Race Track Gets 1st Approval

also financial vice president and general counsel for Jessco, Inc., Dowagiac, told the board that it is hoped the track can operate nine months out of each year and offer a program of both harness and thoroughbred racing.

If the proposed track clears all local and state hurdles, it would be the eighth track in the state, according to Spaniolo. He said there are currently four harness racing tracks in the state and a fifth is under construction near Flint. Three thoroughbred tracks are all located in the Detroit area, he said.

Tennent said that of every $1 bet at the track, 80 per cent would be returned to the people making the bets. Some five to six per cent would be kept by the track and the remaining amount would go to the state, he said.

A maximum of $700,000 taken by the state could be returned to the township under state law, according to Ackerman. But he added that an estimate by the state racing commission pegged the figure at about $630,000 which would be returned to the township from betting funds.

Ackerman said state law requires that the money returned to the township include provisions for adequate police and fire protection and traffic control. There are no other restrictions on how the funds could be spent, he said.

In addition to the money returned to the township from betting at the track, Alfred Hellenga, township supervisor, said that based on an estimated state equalized valuation of $5 million for the track, the township would receive about $7,500 in property tax revenue and the River Valley school district about $260,000 in property tax revenue.

Spaniolo said it is estimated that some 350 to 400 jobs, ranging from grounds keepers, concession workers, security guards, part-time firemen and betting clerks would be created by the track. In addition, an estimated 400 jobs would be created by the horse farm, and the total could rise to 1,000 jobs, he said.

In response to questions, Rossen told the crowd:

—A security force would provide around-the-clock protection of customers and the track and farm .

— All customer traffic would be channeled from US-12 into the track.

— Traffic on Basswood road would be limited to serve the horse farm, Rossen said.

— It is not anticipated that traffic on either Lakeside or Stickles roads, the other two roads that border the property, would increase — The remaining 250 acres on the site would not now be developed.

— The architectural plan for the track calls for preserving as much the trees and other natural feature of the landas possible.

— It is estimated that 50 per of the track customers will come from the Chicago and northwest Indiana area, and the US-12 exit ramp on I-94 is just 2.4 miles from the proposed track site.

— All 4,700 cars would not arrive and leave the track at the same time, and traffic at the track would be less that traffic at the annual Berrien county youth fair .

— A sewage and water system would be constructed on the site if arrangements could not be made to expand utilities now serving or proposed for areas near the track.

Tennent said racing would be staged six days a week, not on Sundays.

Crime, according to Birney Crosby, zoning board chairman, would not be a major problem. "There is less crime at a race track during a whole season than at a major shopping center in one week, studies show, "Crosby said.

Hellenga said increased revenue generated from the track might not lower the township tax rate, but might be able to hold down further tax increases .

Ball told the board that in addition to every tax dollar raised from the track, another $1 or $2 would be generated from activities because of the track, including machinery and grain. He said the track would also preserve the land for future agriculture use if it were ever needed.

If eventually approved, this would be Dawson's and Smith's first venture in operating a horse racing track. Dawson said he and Smith currently own two horse breeding and training farms. One is located near Dowagiac in Cass county and the second is located near Clarkston in Oakland county.

Dawson said he owns auto dealerships in Chicago, Detroit, Idaho and Florida. Smith said he is a horse breeder and trainer and most recently has been co-owner of the two farms in Michigan with Dawson.

Members of the zoning board who approved the recommendation to rezone the land were Crosby, Rodney Hoadley, P.J. Walton, William Schiek and Sherland Wolfe.

Other men answering questions from the crowd were Richard Elconin, attorney for the Michigan Harness Horseman association; Robert Huff, president of the Michigan Breeders association; James Faus, of Faus Civil Engineers, engineers for the proposed project; and Don Price, general manager of the Michigan Harness Racing association.

Bomb Blast Kills Two In Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A suitcase exploded at Israel's Ben Gurion airport today and officials said at least two persons were killed by the blast.

An unknown number of persons were wounded. Witnesses reported eight or nine persons injured by shattered glass when windows in the terminal burst from the force of the blast. Several of the wounded were carried out on stretchers.

Ambulance sirens wailed through the streets of Tel Aviv, 10 miles from the airport.

Public Hearing Slated On I&M Rate Hike

The Michigan Public Service Commission will hold public hearings Wednesday in the Berrien county courthouse on a rate-hike request by Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. which could increase electric bills 32 per cent. The company is seeking approval to increase its annual operating revenues in Michigan by $12,770,402, according to the application filed with the MPSC. I&M claims the rate increase is needed because present rates are "insufficient to meet the increase in (I&M's) operating and interest expenses."

The hearings are scheduled for 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. on the third floor of the courthouse in St. Joseph. The hearings are to take statements and testimony of any interested person. John Banyon, Benton Harbor division manager for I&M, said the increase sought by the company would be about a 32 per cent increase for customers in all classes of service. Banyon said the increase would apply to residential, commercial, and industrial users.

I&M serves a total of about 75,000 customers in Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren counties in southwestern Michigan, of which Banyon estimated 69,000 are residential customers.

In its application, I&M notes it currently serves Michigan customers under rates established by the MPSC on June 9, 1975. The company contends those rates are now insufficient because of additional expenses which were not anticipated when the new rates were established.

I&M claims the existing rates "are inadequate, unjust, unreasonable and confiscatory" and such rates will not permit I&M to continue to supply reliable and economic service to its customers.

The MPSC is empowered to grant or deny requests from utilities for rate increases.

Covert Absentee Voting Reinstated

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A preliminary injunction which will allow for the use of absentee ballots in the June 14 Covert school election was granted Monday in Van Buren circuit court by Judge Meyer Warshawsky.

The injunction prevents the school system from acting as a non-registered district for purposes of the election. The board had voted Jan. 12 to become a non-registered district, which under a section of the state school code, had the effect of doing away with absentee ballots.

However, Judge Warshawsky ruled yesterday that the section of the code was "constitutionally defective" because it made no provision for absentee ballots, and thus was in conflict with the state constitution.

The ruling was made in a class action suit brought against the school board by Atty. Harry Contos Jr. of Kalamazoo on behalf of four Covert senior citizens, Eugene and Mattie Hill, and Louise and Clifford Perkins.

Judge Warshawsky said that although the school board acted properly under the law in changing the district from registered to non-registered, he found the school code to be in conflict with the state constitution.

"I don't see how anyone can deny that the right to vote...is definitely mandated by the constitution," the judge said.

Warshawsky said that although his decision applied only in the case of this election, the state legislature should revise the law so that there are provisions for absentee voting in each election.

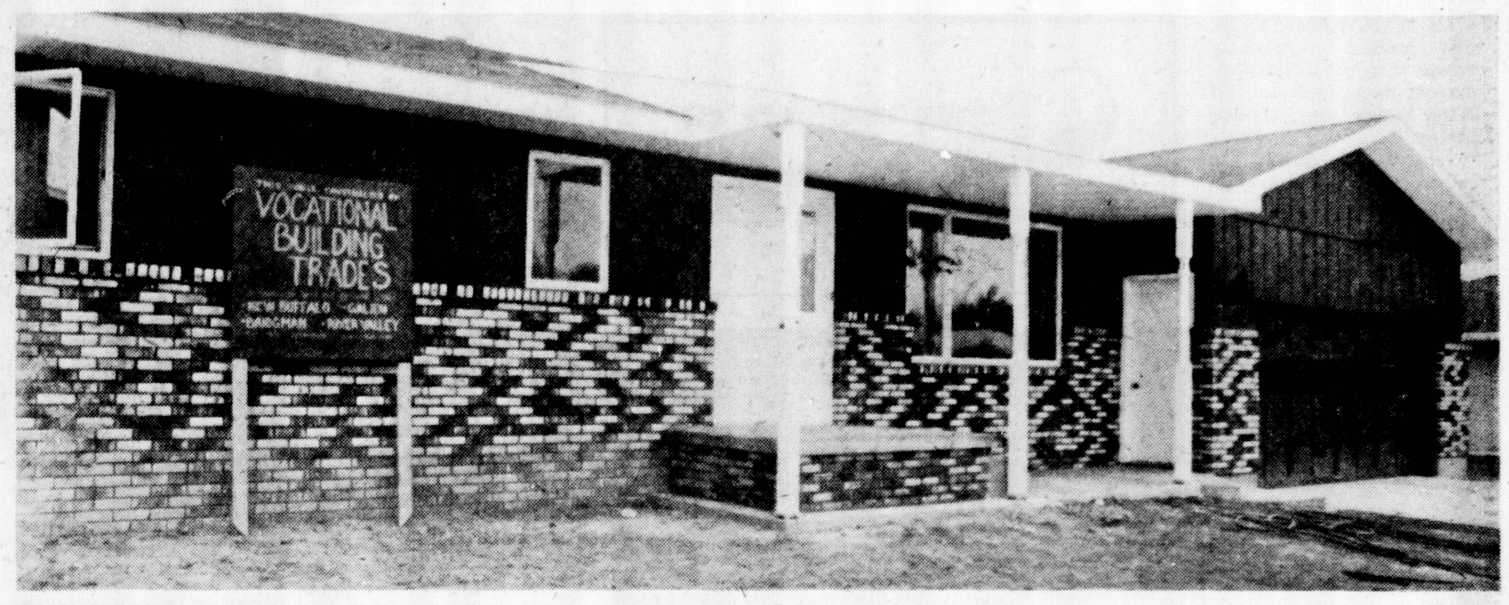

Contos had argued during the proceeding that the state constitution specifically states, "the legislature shall enact laws to provide for absentee voting." He also cited an appeals court case which he said found that "Michigan citizens have a constitutional right to vote by absentee ballot."

Atty. Robert Thuren of Kalamazoo, representing the school board, said the appeals case was not relevant because the decision applied to a municipal rather than school election. Thuren also argued that the state constitution does not mandate absentee ballots for each election and that was the intent of the legislature in creating a separate code for school elections.

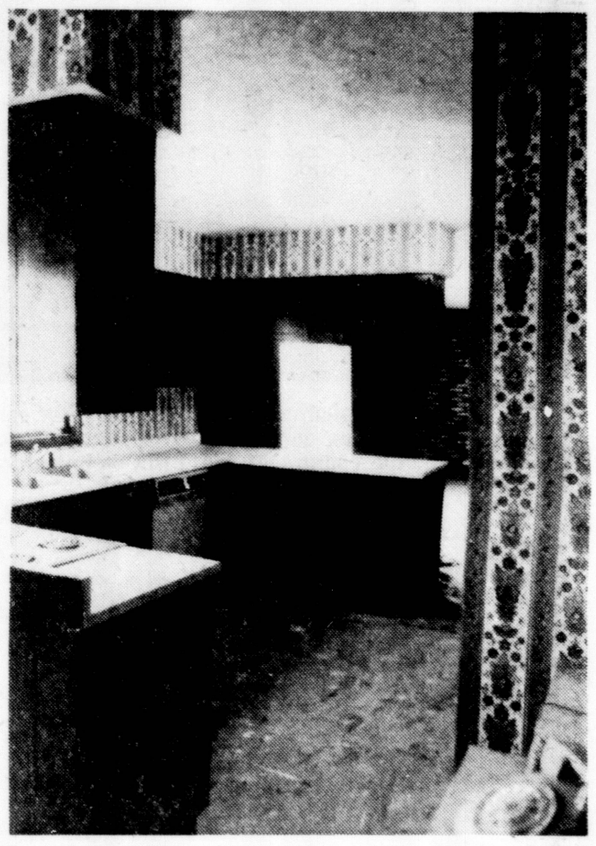

The use of absentee ballots in Covert has been a source of controversy for a number of years. Absentee balloting is usually high, and often runs heavily against millage and property tax proposals.

Mrs. Ernestine Kahn, a school board member, said after the hearing that the biggest problem she foresees is getting the absentee ballots printed and distributed in time for the election.

In a registered district voters must be registered with the clerk of the municipality in order to vote. In a non-registered district, registration is not required, and a voter must provide no identification unless challenged.

STUDENT-BUILT HOUSE: High school students from Bridgman, River Valley and Galien built this three-bedroom house with full garage during 1975-76 school year on-the-job building trades classes. Located on Cedar lane in Bridgman, house will be open for public inspection tonight through Thursday at 7:30 p.m. each evening. Cedar lane intersects with Jericho road, a block north of Shawnee road. House, with 1,600 square feet, was built by 27 students working in two daily shifts, each one 2½ hours long. River Valley high school agricultural classes are now landscaping completed house.

Construction materials were purchased with money from interest-free loan provided by Farmers and Merchants bank, Benton Harbor, according to school officials. (Nifodora Krumrie photo)

Allegan Lawyer Seeks Judgeship

ALLEGAN — Allegan county's chief assistant prosecuting attorney has announced his candidacy for the new district court judgeship approved for the county by the state Senate last week.

Peter Antkoviak II, 33, route 7, Allegan, announced his candidacy for the non-partisan post yesterday.

The new post will be filled in the November general elections. The county already has a one district court judgeship. It is held by Judge Gary Stewart, a former Allegan county prosecutor.

Antkoviak has been the chief assistant county prosecutor for five years. A 1960 graduate of Cheboygan high school, he took undergraduate work at Michigan State university and received his law degree from the Detroit College of Law.

He served three years in the U.S. Army, including 2½ years in Germany.

He and his wife Nancy have four children.

Two Back Off From Judgeship

Two attorneys mentioned as possible candidates for Berrien county's new fourth Circuit court judgeship today announced they have decided not to throw their hats in the ring.

Attorneys Donald Dick of Berrien Springs and John Spelman of St. Joseph both said they definitely would not run for the judicial post this year.

Their announcement leaves three avowed candidates in the race for a six-year term on the bench — Probate Judge Zoe Burkholz, District Judge Ronald Taylor and Atty. Yvonne Hughes of Benton Harbor.

If three or more candidates file for the judgeship a non-partisan runoff will be held in the Aug. 3 primary, with the top two vote-getters earning places on the ballot for the Nov. 2 general election.

Nominating petitions for the judgeship are to be filed with the secretary of state's elections office in Lansing, according to Berrien county Clerk Forrest Kesterke.

Atty. Dick said he had given serious consideration to running for the judgeship, approved by the legislature last week, but that his law practice and the press of other family matters dictated against his candidacy.

Atty. Spelman also said commitments to his law firm and family ruled out his candidacy and added "I want to express my appreciation to the many people who encouraged me to be a candidate for the office."

Bloomingdale Will Vote On 2 Levies

BLOOMINGDALE — Two property tax millage proposals will face school district voters here in the annual school election June 14.

One proposal seeks renewal of an 18.5-mill property tax levy that expired with the last tax collection while the other is for a 2.5-mill building and site fund. Both proposals are for one year and were approved by the school board last night.

The 18.5 mills proposal was placed on the ballot by a 5 to 2 vote. Board members Ronald Bodtke and Fred Rawson voted against placing the issue on the ballot, saying 18.5 mills was not enough to meet increasing costs of school operations. Voting to hold the line were Kay Johnson, Roger Templeman, Jerry Doolittle, Ray Melvin and Nathan Baylor. The 2.5 mills building and site fund proposal received unanimous board approval.

Based on the district's new state equalized valuation of $20,182,465, each mill approved would raise approximately $20,200 locally in property taxes.

The 18.5 mill issue would raise about $370,000 towards a tentative 1976-77 budget of over $1.8 million.

If the 18.5 mills for operating purposes is approved, total operating millage would be 27.08 mills. However, with a debt retirement of 1.9 mills plus the 2.5 mills for building and site, the total school district tax rate would be 31.48 mills, compared to 28.98 last year.

In other areas, it was announced that Kenneth Matthews of Grand Junction and LeRoy Wolins of Pullman, have withdrawn their petitions for election to the school board. Baylor is not seeking re-election, leaving incumbent Melvin, and challengers Mrs. Beverly Matthes, Mrs. Darlethie Morgane, James Muenzer and Gary Venema, as candidates for the two four-year seats.

Wolins in a letter to the board asked that various records of board meetings and transactions since Feb. 1, be made available to him. He said he has been denied access to the board's records and minutes. In his letter he also asked that completed questionaires of the citizens advisory committee be made available to him. Wolins said in his letter he would like the material by June 6. The board took no action.

The board passed a resolution withdrawing from any previous architectual agreements made by it.

The next board meeting will be June 21 in the Bloomingdale elementary gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Economic Club Names Speaker For Final Meet

Russian-born Nila Magidoff will speak on "Everyday Life in Russia" Thursday, June 3, at the final meeting of the season for the Economic Club of Southwestern Michigan.

Mrs. Magidoff is the wife of former NBC correspondent Robert Magidoff whom she met in Russia. She came to the United Sates alone at the start of World War and became a naturalized citizen.

After the war, she rejoined her husband in Moscow and returned with him to the U.S. when he was expelled on charges of being an American spy.

She has gone back to Russia several times since to keep track of changing conditions in her homeland. On her first post-war trip she traveled with her friend and biographer, Mrs. Willie Snow Etheridge, whose book on their trip is titled "Russian Diet."

Recently Mrs. Magidoff and author-humorist Irene Kamplen went to Moscow, rented a car and drove some 3,000 miles across the Soviet Union. The trip resulted in the book, "Are You Carrying Any Gold or Living Relatives?" a question asked them by a Soviet customs officials.

Ecoonomic club officials said Mrs. Magidoff is being presented in an attempt to give club members a better understanding of a Russian.

The dinner meeting will start at 4:45 at Ramada Inn, Benton township.

Weed Harvest Bid OKd By Paw Paw Lake Board

COLOMA — By a four-to-one vote, the Paw Paw Lake Improvement board yesterday afternoon voted to accept a bid for cutting and harvesting weeds from Paw Paw lake.

The bid was accepted over a bid for chemical removal of the weeds.

The bid accepted was from Bertuca Contractors Ltd., Coloma, for $32,724. The figure was $329 over the low bid for chemical removal, submitted by Pinecrest Industries, Galien. The Galien firm's bid was $32,395.

Board members voting in favor of harvesting of the weeds were Robert Jackson, board chairman, John Matthews, board secretary, and board members Robert Burkholz and George Jackson, of the state department of natural resources, voting in place of regular member Leon Cook.

Voting against the harvesting method was board member Carl Gnodtke, who favored the low bid.

Matthews, in casting his favorable vote, said he was doing so because of three reasons. They were water clarity after harvesting, lack of restrictions (prohibiting swimming and fishing) and long range acceptability.

Acceptance of the bid triggered the passage of a resolution to obtain the total cost of the project through a benefit assessment roll. Included would be legal fees for a lawsuit filed last year against the board for assessment on a footage basis.

Yesterday's vote to accept weed harvesting over chemical treatment followed a vote to accept the chemical bid which was rejected by a four-to-one vote, with only Gnodtke in favor of accepting the low bid.

Work on removing the lake weeds is slated to begin during the first week in June, according to Robert Jackson, with bid specifications calling for the lake to be 95 per cent weed free through Sept. 10.

The bid for harvesting calls for four complete cuttings of the lake, over 281 acres, with each cutting expected to take between three and a half to four weeks.

Cystic Fibrosis Drive Leader Is Announced

NEW TROY — Mrs. Maria Seal of Three Oaks has been named chairman of the New Troy Cystic fibrosis fund drive in September. Funds raised go towards support of research and care of victims of the lung-damaging disease, according to a state drive spokesman.

BANGOR COUNCIL

New Cable TV Firm Receives Approval

BANGOR — A new firm has taken over the construction and operation of a cable television system in the city and received preliminary approval last night from the Bangor city council to proceed with construction.

Todd Borst of Kalamazoo told the council that T.A.B., Inc., plans to proceed with cable-burying operations this week or early next week.

Borst, who represents the organization, also said the system needs land on which to erect a tower.

T.A.B. took over for American Consolidated Properties of Kalamazoo which started initial construction on the system late last fall before it declared bankruptcy.

In other action, the council set midnight May 26 as the expiration time for the city operating license of Jimmy's Rock, a youth recreation spot on High street.

The council earlier this month voted to revoke the license of owner-operator James Webb pending a public hearing.

The hearing was held last night but Webb failed to appear before the council. Complaints of alleged illegal drug activities at the business had prompted city council license revocation.

The council will now consider the request of Dwight Herron who wants a license to operate a billiard hall at the same location.

The council also set a public hearing for June 14 on the establishment of a special assessment district for downtown sidewalk construction.

Cooley Graduates Score Well

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Officials of the Thomas M. Cooley Law School say 63 members of its first graduating class surpassed the state average in the recent Michigan Bar Exam.

Thomas M. Brennan, dean of the school and a former justice of the state Supreme Court, said Sunday that Cooley pupils scored 82.5 per cent as compared to the state average of 80.5 per cent.

"I think the percentage says we are doing as well as other law schools in the state and that we do know someting about what it takes to train lawyers," he said.

The private Cooley school, founded by Brennan in 1973, has encountered many problems including a report from the state Board of Education which questioned the school's financing, staffing and facilities.

LMC To Ready Grant Bids For $3-Plus Million

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

The Lake Michigan college board of trustees last night authorized the completion of applications for federal grants that could exceed $3 million for instruction programs and staff. Applications are to be completed next October for the funds issued through the U.S. Office of Education's Title III program, reported Kenneth Riley, director of the LMC Institute of Professional and Paraprofessional Studies.

Riley said two applications will be made based on studies over the past two years. One is for program planning for one year, which could net the college up to $250,000. The other, Riley said, is for advanced program planning over a three to five-year period, which could bring in some $3 million.

A decision by the U.S. Office of Education on the grant applications is not expected before the end of the 1976-77 school year.

Riley said a list of 14 proposed uses for the money has been compiled. These include remedial testing, a learning resources center, staff development, women's institution for studies in education and humanities.

The money would not be for capital improvements, such as a proposed civic center, it was reported.

The Title III grant program for developing institutional programs was reported started in 1973, with a total of $58 million for funding community colleges and four-year colleges and universities. Lehman said about $225 million now is available. Lehman said he hopes grants that might be received by LMC would help to form long-range educational goals for up to 10 years.

The board in other business nominated William Niemi, vice president for business affairs, as the LMC representative on the Berrien county Comprehensive Employment Training Act board.

Ken Snow, LMC trade related instruction coordinator, presented an updated report on the program, detailed last May 5 in The Herald-Palladium. Snow said on June 7, Consumers Power company's Palisades nuclear generating plant, Covert township, will utilize the program to train its general plant maintenance personnel. Snow also said Whirlpool Corp. is interested in using the testing system of the program in all of its plants.

Testing of employes to evaluate their abilities was used recently by Consolidated Die Casting, Dowagiac, Snow said.

Teenager Arraigned In Slayings

LAVERNE KINDELL
Slaying charges

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — An 18-year-old Leslie man has been arraigned on two counts of first-degree murder in the beating and stabbing deaths of two elderly widows.

Laverne Oliver Kindell was arrested Monday by Ingham County deputies in Lansing, who apprehended him at the office of Kindell's probation officer. Kindell was on one year's probation on a drunk and disorderly charge.

He was charged with the felony murders of Cecile Allen, 87, and May Haven, 89, who were found beaten and stabbed to death Sunday in their Leslie home, about 25 miles south of Lansing. Ingham County District Court officials said felony murder is a type of first-degree murder that is committed in the perpetration of a felony crime. Police said they were investigating the circumstances of the women's deaths.

Police said Kindell was spotted driving a car matching the description of Mrs. Allen's car, which was stolen Saturday. The car was later found abandoned south of Leslie.

Kindell, a Leslie High School dropout, was held without bond. Preliminary examination was set for June 3.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Woman Says Teens Snatched Purse

A Benton township woman told Benton Harbor police her purse was snatched as she was walking in the downtown area Monday shortly before 4 p.m.

Patsy Haney, 62, of 432 Madeline avenue, said two teenage boys came from behind her, twisted her arm forcing her to release the purse and fled on foot. She was unhurt in the incident that occurred on Sixth street near East Main street. She said the purse contained a check book and personal items, but no cash.

Nine thefts were reported to Twin Cities area police Monday including a $7,000 industrial metal pot and $600 in cash in a briefcase taken from a St. Joseph man's car.

Tony Fortuna told Benton Harbor police the three-foot diameter pot was at the side of his plant, Harbor Metal Treating, 800 South Fair avenue. He said pot was quite heavy and would require at least two people to move it.

Benton township police said William Martin, 301 First street, St. Joseph, reported a briefcase containing $600 in cash was taken from his car parked in a lot on Plaza drive. Martin said the money belonged to the Berrien County Alert Team club of which he is a member. Police said a coat hanger was used to gain entry to Martin's car.

Other thefts reported to Benton Harbor police were:

—Household goods and a 12-gauge shotgun, all valued at $395, from the home of Lawrence Williams, 331 Forest avenue.

—A tape player and CB radio, valued at a total of $375, from the car of Carl Boyd, 585 McAllister avenue.

—A tape player and amplifier, valued at $246, from the apartment of James King, 304 South Fair avenue.

—A tape player, valued at $117, from the car of William Valentine, 330 East Britain avenue.

—A CB radio, valued at $100, from the car of Craig Kenyon, 4721 Shore drive, Coloma, parked in a lot in the 700 block of Riverview drive.

—A .38 caliber revolver, valued at $70, from the residence of Edward Robinson, 581 East Main street.

A 50-gallon barrel of motor oil was reported stolen from the Standard Oil company, Lemon Creek road east of Red Arrow highway, Lake township, Berrien sheriff's deputies said. The 500-pound barrel of oil was valued at $80.

Benton Harbor police Monday received three reports of windows in vehicles broken by vandals.

Joseph Mammina, owner of Twin Cities Motor Transit bus lines, 399 Territorial road, told police the windshield and two side windows on a bus were broken by either BBs or pellets while the bus was parked.

Deborah Mark, 682 East Vineyard street, said she was driving near the intersection of Washington and McCord streets when a rear passenger window was cracked. She told police she heard what sounded like two shots just before the window broke.

Ruby Brown, 554 East Main street, told police a child threw a rock that cracked her car's windshield as she was driving in the 600 block of McAllister avenue.

They Stole His Jeep Bit By Bit

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

"They stole it piece by piece" was the way state police of the Benton Harbor post described the disappearance of a week-old, $6,500 Jeep CJ-5 from Warren Dunes State park, Lake township.

Troopers reported this sequence of events:

Last Wednesday the Jeep's owner Albert Dubbs, Mishawaka, Ind., left it in the dunes when it broke down. He returned Friday to discover some engine parts and all four tires and rims missing.

He left it again and returned Sunday, couldn't find the jeep and told troopers it had been stolen.

Trooper Gary Truszkowski located what was left of the jeep and saw several people stripping more parts. Truszkowski said the thieves took the parts and departed quickly in off-road vehicles as he approached on foot.

Truszkowski went to call another trooper and a wrecker. When the wrecker arrived, the Jeep chassis was gone and only the muffler remained.

Oregon Critical Battle Site For Candidates Now

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

President Ford has passed the halfway mark in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination and Democrat Jimmy Carter has a chance to reach the same milestone as six states held presidential primaries today. And Missouri Democrats were to select 54 delegates in district conventions tonight — more delegates than were at stake in any of the individual six primaries.

Ford's delegate strength was pushed over the halfway mark on Monday when 119 previously uncommitted New York delegates agreed to give up their uncommitted status and throw in with the President at the urging of Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Carter, meanwhile, was predicting he would win 100 or more of the 191 delegates being contested in today's primaries in Arkansas, Idaho, Kentucky, Nevada, Oregon and Tennessee. With the 740 he already has, this would give him well over half the 1,505 he needs for nomination.

Missouri's conventions will be held in the state's 10 congressional districts. The 14 other members of the state's 71-member delegation will be selected at the state convention June 12.

Party officials predict that Carter will make a strong showing as a result of endorsements earlier this month of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton and other party leaders.

Although Ford's 701 is more than half the 1,130 needed for the GOP nomination, he faces a much tighter race than Carter does. Carter's nearest rival is Rep. Morris K. Udall with 292.5 delegate votes.

Oregon shapes up as the critical battleground for both parties. For one thing it may be Reagan's last chance before the GOP convention to prove he can win a state with a middleground electorate. The other five states voting today are in the string of more conservative southern and western states considered prime Reagan territory.

The former California governor has yet to win outside the South and West with the exception of conservative Indiana and has not carried any major Northern industrial state.

Oregon also is the only place where Carter is being tested on anything approaching equal terms, and failure of his remaining rivals to stall him there could put his bandwagon beyond stopping.

Break-Ins Believed Related

NILES — Niles police said this morning they believe three break-ins reported on the city's southeast side yesterday are related.

Police said a total of $450 in merchandise and cash was taken from three homes within four blocks of each other. In all three cases, ptlice said, a door window was broken to gain entry.

Jerry Camp, 1637 Superior street, told police that electronic equipment valued at $300 was taken from his home sometime between 6 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Charles Hartline, 1603 Michigan street, reported a wrist watch valued at $100 was taken from his home between 7 and 10 p.m. Lottie Peterson, 1641 Hickory street, reported that about 10:30 p.m. $50 was taken from a purse in her house.

Police said the three break-ins follow a recent rash of breaking and enterings on the city's southeast side. No arrests have been made.

Two Hurt In Berrien Smashups

Two drivers were treated for apparently minor injuries sustained in two traffic accidents Monday, according to St. Joseph township police and Berrien sheriff's deputies.

Township police said a two-car collision at the intersection of Niles road and Lincoln avenue about 9 a.m. resulted in injury to Edward Gallert, 73, of 665 Grant avenue, St. Joseph township. He was released after treatment at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor. The other driver was Gary Marion McCormick, 18, of 3520 Pine court, St. Joseph township, who was unhurt. Police said no tickets were issued because of conflicting statements.

In another accident, Berrien deputies said two cars collided about 5:30 p.m. at the intersection of Scottdale and Rocky Weed roads, Royalton township.

The injured driver, Karen Kay Kielzer, 29, route 6, M-152, Dowagiac, was released after treatment at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph. The other driver, who was uninjured, was Robert Charles Herman, 18, Box 13, Rangeline road, Berrien Springs. Deputies said he was ticketed for having defective brakes.

School Board Goes On Junket

great deal of money on in-service training for teachers, and board members felt some money should be spent on in-service training for themselves.

In other areas at last night's meeting, the board approved a 1976-77 athletic budget of $12,167, an amount $700 higher than the budget for the present year. It was estimated $700 of that amount would be raised from gate receipts.

The board tabled for further study a proposal to purchase insurance which would protect board members in the event they were individually sued for actions they might take in their official capacity.

High school Principal Tommie Saylor said only three former students had sought to have their grades reviewed in the wake of a court decision which overturned an attendance policy that called for failing marks to be given for unexcused absences. No grade changes were made, he said.

The board voted to purchase auto mechanic, woodworking and small engine books for next year at a cost of $1,667.

also financial vice president and general counsel for Jessco, Inc., Dowagiac, told the board that it is hoped the track can operate nine months out of each year and offer a program of both harness and thoroughbred racing.

If the proposed track clears all local and state hurdles, it would be the eighth track in the state, according to Spaniolo. He said there are currently four harness racing tracks in the state and a fifth is under construction near Flint. Three thoroughbred tracks are all located in the Detroit area, he said.

Tennent said that of every $1 bet at the track, 80 per cent would be returned to the people making the bets. Some five to six per cent would be kept by the track and the remaining amount would go to the state, he said.

A maximum of $700,000 taken by the state could be returned to the township under state law, according to Ackerman. But he added that an estimate by the state racing commission pegged the figure at about $630,000 which would be returned to the township from betting funds.

Ackerman said state law requires that the money returned to the township include provisions for adequate police and fire protection and traffic control. There are no other restrictions on how the funds could be spent, he said.

In addition to the money returned to the township from betting at the track, Alfred Hellenga, township supervisor, said that based on an estimated state equalized valuation of $5 million for the track, the township would receive about $7,500 in property tax revenue and the River Valley school district about $260,000 in property tax revenue.

Spaniolo said it is estimated that some 350 to 400 jobs, ranging from grounds keepers, concession workers, security guards, part-time firemen and betting clerks would be created by the track. In addition, an estimated 400 jobs would be created by the horse farm, and the total could rise to 1,000 jobs, he said.

In response to questions, Rossen told the crowd:

—A security force would provide around-the-clock protection of customers and the track and farm.

— All customer traffic would be channeled from US-12 into the track.

— Traffic on Basswood road would be limited to serve the horse farm, Rossen said.

— It is not anticipated that traffic on either Lakeside or Stickles roads, the other two roads that border the property, would increase — The remaining 250 acres on the site would not now be developed.

— The architectural plan for the track calls for preserving as much the trees and other natural feature of the landas possible.

— It is estimated that 50 per of the track customers will come from the Chicago and northwest Indiana area, and the US-12 exit ramp on I-94 is just 2.4 miles from the proposed track site.

— All 4,700 cars would not arrive and leave the track at the same time, and traffic at the track would be less that traffic at the annual Berrien county youth fair.

— A sewage and water system would be constructed on the site if arrangements could not be made to expand utilities now serving or proposed for areas near the track.

Tennent said racing would be staged six days a week, not on Sundays.

Crime, according to Birney Crosby, zoning board chairman, would not be a major problem. "There is less crime at a race track during a whole season than at a major shopping center in one week, studies show, "Crosby said.

Hellenga said increased revenue generated from the track might not lower the township tax rate, but might be able to hold down further tax increases.

Ball told the board that in addition to every tax dollar raised from the track, another $1 or $2 would be generated from activities because of the track, including machinery and grain. He said the track would also preserve the land for future agriculture use if it were ever needed.

If eventually approved, this would be Dawson's and Smith's first venture in operating a horse racing track. Dawson said he and Smith currently own two horse breeding and training farms. One is located near Duwagiac in Cass county and the second is located near Clarkston in Oakland county.

Dawson said he owns auto dealerships in Chicago, Detroit, Idaho and Florida. Smith said he is a horse breeder and trainer and most recently has been co-owner of the two farms in Michigan with Dawson.

Members of the zoning board who approved the recommendation to rezone the land were Crosby, Rodney Hoadley, P.J. Walton, William Schiek and Sherland Wolfe.

Other men answering questions from the crowd were Richard Elenin, attorney for the Michigan Harness Horseman association; Robert Huff, president of the Michigan Breeders association; James Faus, of Faus Civil Engineers, engineers for the proposed project; and Don Price, general manager of the Michigan Harness Racing association.

Bomb Blast Kills Two In Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A suitcase exploded at Israel's Ben Gurion airport today and officials said at least two persons were killed by the blast.

An unknown number of persons were wounded. Witnesses reported eight or nine persons injured by shattered glass when windows in the terminal burst from the force of the blast. Several of the wounded were carried out on stretchers.

Ambulance sirens wailed through the streets of Tel Aviv, 10 miles from the airport.

'Slipping' Ali KO's Dunn In 5th Round

MUNICH (AP) — The knockout came as promised following the new svelte look, the dancing and the mocking Frankenstein lockstep. But Muhammad Ali has changed, even slipped, and he says so in his own elliptical way.

Ali had just knocked down Richard Dunn five times to score a fifth-round knockout at the stroke of 4 a.m. in Munich Tuesday, and he had gotten through the ritual talk of greatness, amazement, and miracles.

Then he got around to saying what seemed increasingly evident. "I've got just enough to carry me through the year and destroy Norton. Then I'm going to retire."

Frankly, he said, 'I'm nowhere what I was a while ago."

There was the Ali of the right-hand lead and left hook who sent the red-haired Briton to the canvas three times in the fourth round and twice in the fifth, before the fight was over with 55 seconds to go to the bell. There was the Ali who signaled that Dunn's time had come at the start of the final round, and the Ali who walked wooden-legged toward the Englishman, his arms stretched out in front of him like a Frankenstein monster.

Yet Ali was changed — "a totally different Ali," he said himself — a harder puncher than before, perhaps, but a fighter increasingly rooted in the canvas.

It was also an Ali who frequently crossed his legs awkwardly during the first three rounds, took a series of stiff right jabs from the left-handed Englishman in the third round and seemed markedly slower and less mobile than the fighter who floated like a butterfly and stung like a bee.

"He's missing; the reflexes have gone back; he should retire," said Duane Bobick after he saw Ali in training. Bobick won his 36th-straight fight in the Olympiahalle, just before Ali's victory, knocking out Bunny Johnson of England.

But Ali didn't seem to be paying any immediate attention. He insisted on talking about new trick karate punches and promised to jog five miles today, preparing for an exhibition in Tokyo next month and the fight against Ken Norton in Yankee Stadium next September which should bring him $9 million.

Through Dunn, Ali showed that he could erase the memory of the fat, sluggish 34 year old who nearly lost a month ago against Jimmy Young, a fighter who had knocked Dunn out in 1974.

The champion weighed 220 pounds, down 10 from the Young fight, and his body had some of its old muscle tone. Even so, Ali was breathing hard after the first round, and he found Dunn a much tougher fighter than he imagined.

"He was right in on me, making me work and do my best," Ali said of the Englishman. "I did the rope-a-dope a couple of times, and it came in real handy, because it saved me some work.

"Dunn was much better than I thought he was, but at the pace we were going I knew he'd fade out after 10 or 11. I'm still 34, finished and washed up and over the hill. He's 31, and he had a little more pep."

Ali acknowledged that Dunn had hurt him twice, and said he considered the Englishman, who dreamed he would beat the champion in the eighth round, merited a return match.

Dunn said at first in the ring that he thought the decision of the German referee to stop the fight was too quick, but with reflection the former construction worker said in his dressing room, "I wouldn't challenge the ref's decision. He's the boss, and I'm only the foreman, but I thought it could have gone on a bit."

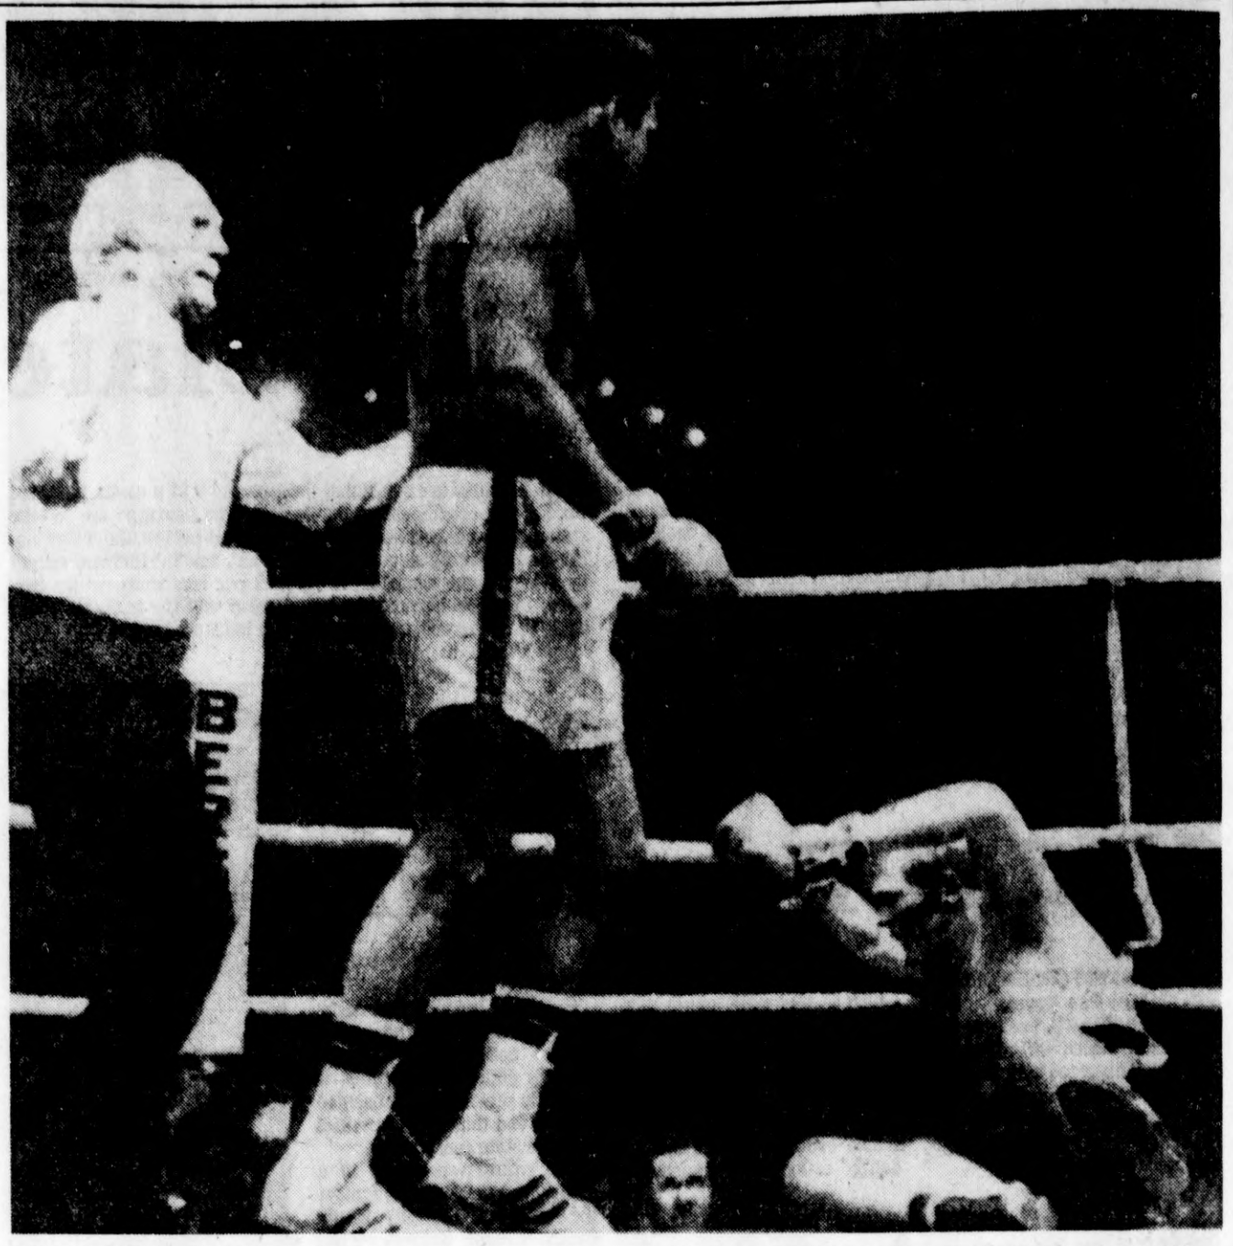

After a disastrous prefight promotion in which the fight was threatened with cancellation because of a shortfall by the German promoters in paying Ali's purse, the Munich Olympiahalle had about threequarters of its 12,500 seats filled for the bout.

Ali, who shelled out $100,000 to buy 2,000 seats for American servicemen, got a message of thanks from President Ford for the gesture, but it wasn't clear how much Ali's help meant to the promoters.

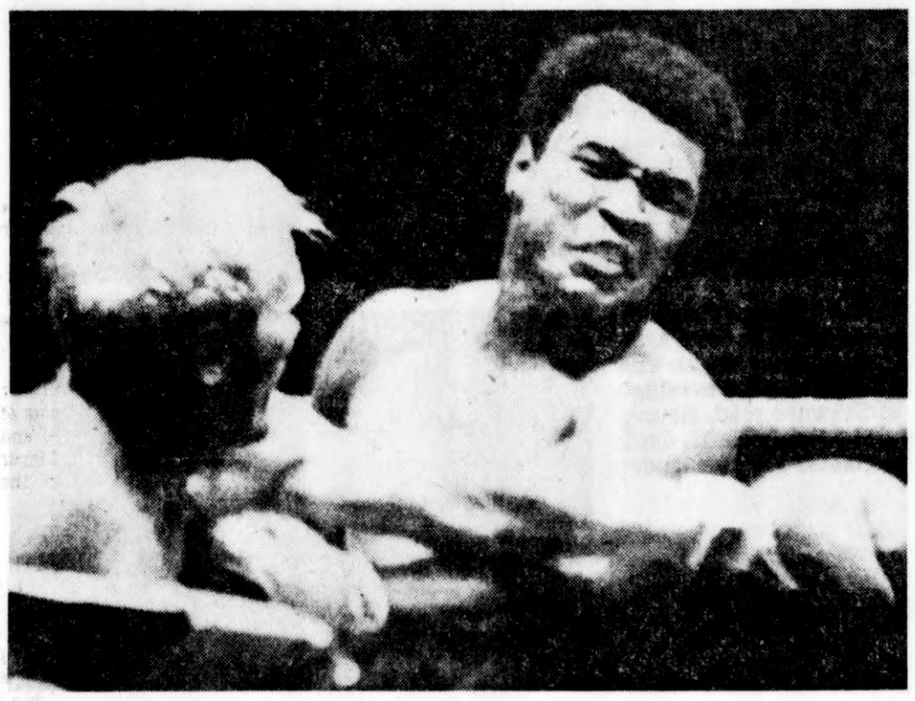

Bob Arum, the American copromoter who handled U.S. televison rights, said he believed that a large part of the crowd came on free tickets or cut-rate tickets sold at the last minute.

Arum estimated two days ago that the German promoters would lose close to a half million dollars, but Rudolfo Sabbatini, a respected matchmaker from Rome, said he understood the loss could be in excess of $600,000.

Arum said the 160,000-mark ($60,000) rent for the Olympiahalle had been paid only 10 hours before the championship and that there was a measure of doubt until the last minute about whether it would come off.

Guthrie Eyes World 600

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Janet Guthrie, 38, balked in an attempt to become the first woman to qualify for the Indianapolis 500, will try to run the same day, next Sunday, in the world's longest stock car race, the $249,155 World 600 at the Charlotte Motor Speedway.

She is being backed by a woman officer of a Charlotte bank, Linda Ferreri.

Miss Ferreri is buying a Chevrolet built by Hoss Ellington of Wilmington, N.C., and Miss Guthrie will try to qualify it for the 400-lap, 600-mile race. If she does, she will become the first woman to compete in the World 600, in which such stock car greats as Richard Petty, Buddy Baker, David Pearson and Cale Yarborough will run.

Yarborough, who had said that women were not strong enough to race the fastest machines, has agreed to shake the car down for her, giving it some trial runs before Miss Guthrie gets behind the wheel later this week.

"I've still got doubts about a woman having the physical strength to handle a racer, especially a big ol' stock car weighing 3,700 pounds," Yarborough said. "But after keeping up with the Indy time trials — where she could have been successful with a good car and a break or two — I feel she's sincere in her efforts and I admire her for wanting to try and make the race down here. I'll be glad to help her any way I can."

Another stock car driver, Bobby Allison, who also had criticized Miss Guthrie's attempt at Indy, was mollified as well. "Obviously she can drive a race car," he said in a telephone interview from his shop in Hueytown, Ala. He noted that she did 181 m.p.h. in an Indy practice.

Ellington said the purchase price for the car was about $21,000, minus engine. The power plant will be provided by veteran racing mechanic Ralph Moody of Charlotte. "They'll have at least $27,000 in it by the time they get through," Ellington said.

Miss Ferrari, a vice president of advertising and promotions for First Union National Bank, has been active in the women's movement. She admitted that she doesn't know much about auto racing and has never seen a race at the Charlotte Motor Speedway. "I got into this last week when a friend observed during a conversation that Janet Guthrie was a hoax," she said. "I differed and one thing led to another. I just decided to do it. For me, it's a sports isue and an emotional issue. I knew the economics weren't an impossibility." She refused to say where the money is coming from.

BOB HATCH REAL ESTATE PRO:

Bob Hatch, one of our capable residential sales associates, is a fourth generation St. Josephite. His family settled in this area over 130 years ago and were, incidentally, large real estate purchasers from the East.

Bob graduated from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio where he was active in track and field events, histronics and fraternity life.

He entered the business world and spent 25 active years in manufacturing, engineering and management with St. Joe Machines. This 85 year old company was dissolved in 1965 when the Urban Renewal Program purchased its real estate, and the high-rise St. Joe Towers has been erected since on its former site.

Bob then started his own manufacturing company which he ran successfully until he sold it in 1970 to Chicago interests.

Although Bob has held a real estate licnese for 28 years, he did not devote full time to real estate until 1971. He is now a licensed broker, a three year member of the Million Dollar Club, a member of the Southwest Michigan Board of Realtors and a member of Multiple Listing System.

Bob's hobbies are music, ham radio (his call is W&JFW), and flying. He is a pilot and owns a Skyhawk with several other members of a local flying club.

Bob is always ready to assist you with the purchase or sale of a home. Feel free to call him on any questions you might have concerning real estate.

Public Hearing Slated On I&M Rate Hike

The Michigan Public Service Commission will hold public hearings Wednesday in the Berrien county courthouse on a rate-hike request by Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. which could increase electric bills 32 per cent. The company is seeking approval to increase its annual operating revenues in Michigan by $12,770,402, according to the application filed with the MPSC. I&M claims the rate increase is needed because present rates are "insufficient to meet the increase in (I&M's) operating and interest expenses."

The hearings are scheduled for 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. on the third floor of the courthouse in St. Joseph. The hearings are to take statements and testimony of any interested person. John Banyon, Benton Harbor division manager for I&M, said the increase sought by the company would be about a 32 per cent increase for customers in all classes of service. Banyon said the increase would apply to residential, commercial, and industrial users.

I&M serves a total of about 75,000 customers in Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren counties in southwestern Michigan, of which Banyon estimated 69,000 are residential customers.

In its application, I&M notes it currently serves Michigan customers under rates established by the MPSC on June 9, 1975. The company contends those rates are now insufficient because of additional expenses which were not anticipated when the new rates were established.

I&M claims the existing rates "are inadequate, unjust, unreasonable and confiscatory" and such rates will not permit I&M to continue to supply reliable and economic service to its customers.

The MPSC is empowered to grant or deny requests from utilities for rate increases.

Covert Absentee Voting Reinstated

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A preliminary injunction which will allow for the use of absentee ballots in the June 14 Covert school election was granted Monday in Van Buren circuit court by Judge Meyer Warshawsky.

The injunction prevents the school system from acting as a non-registered district for purposes of the election. The board had voted Jan. 12 to become a non-registered district, which under a section of the state school code, had the effect of doing away with absentee ballots.

However, Judge Warshawsky ruled yesterday that the section of the code was "constitutionally defective" because it made no provision for absentee ballots, and thus was in conflict with the state constitution.

The ruling was made in a class action suit brought against the school board by Atty. Harry Contos Jr. of Kalamazoo on behalf of four Covert senior citizens, Eugene and Mattie Hill, and Louise and Clifford Perkins.

Judge Warshawsky said that although the school board acted properly under the law in changing the district from registered to non-registered, he found the school code to be in conflict with the state constitution.

"I don't see how anyone can deny that the right to vote...is definitely mandated by the constitution," the judge said.

Warshawsky said that although his decision applied only in the case of this election, the state legislature should revise the law so that there are provisions for absentee voting in each election.

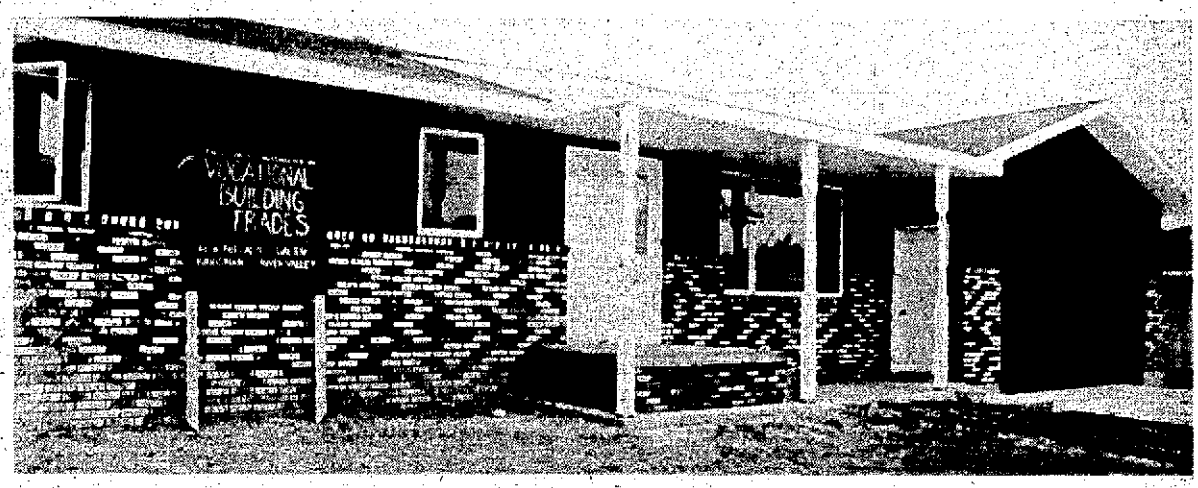

Contos had argued during the proceeding that the state constitution specifically states, "the legislature shall enact laws to provide for absentee voting." He also cited an appeals court case which he said found that "Michigan citizens have a constitutional right to vote by absentee ballot."

Atty. Robert Thuren of Kalamazoo, representing the school board, said the appeals case was not relevant because the decision applied to a municipal rather than school election. Thuren also argued that the state constitution does not mandate absentee ballots for each election and that was the intent of the legislature in creating a separate code for school elections.

The use of absentee ballots in Covert has been a source of controversy for a number of years. Absentee balloting is usually high, and often runs heavily against millage and property tax proposals.

Mrs. Ernestine Kahn, a school board member, said after the hearing that the biggest problem she foresees is getting the absentee ballots printed and distributed in time for the election.

In a registered district voters must be registered with the clerk of the municipality in order to vote. In a non-registered district, registration is not required, and a voter must provide no identification unless challenged.

STUDENT-BUILT HOUSE: High school students from Bridgman, River Valley and Galien built this three-bedroom house with full garage during 1975-76 school year on-the-job building trades classes. Located on Cedar lane in Bridgman, house will be open for public inspection tonight through Thursday at 7:30 p.m. each evening. Cedar lane intersects with Jericho road, a block north of Shawnee road. House, with 1,600 square feet, was built by 27 students working in two daily shifts, each one 2½ hours long. River Valley high school agricultural classes are now landscaping completed house.

Allegan Lawyer Seeks Judgeship

ALLEGAN — Allegan county's chief assistant prosecuting attorney has announced his candidacy for the new district court judgeship approved for the county by the state Senate last week.

Peter Antkoviak II, 33, route 7, Allegan, announced his candidacy for the non-partisan post yesterday.

The new post will be filled in the November general elections. The county already has a one district court judgeship. It is held by Judge Gary Stewart, a former Allegan county prosecutor.

PETER ANTKOVIAK II
Seeks judgeship

Antkoviak has been the chief assistant county prosecutor for five years. A 1960 graduate of Cheboygan high school, he took undergraduate work at Michigan State university and received his law degree from the Detroit College of Law.

He served three years in the U.S. Army, including 2½ years in Germany.

He and his wife Nancy have four children.

Two Back Off From Judgeship

Two attorneys mentioned as possible candidates for Berrien county's new fourth Circuit court judgeship today announced they have decided not to throw their hats in the ring.

Attorneys Donald Dick of Berrien Springs and John Spelman of St. Joseph both said they definitely would not run for the judicial post this year.

Their announcement leaves three avowed candidates in the race for a six-year term on the bench — Probate Judge Zoe Burkholz, District Judge Ronald Taylor and Atty. Yvonne Hughes of Benton Harbor.

If three or more candidates file for the judgeship a non-partisan runoff will be held in the Aug. 3 primary, with the top two vote-getters earning places on the ballot for the Nov. 2 general election.

Nominating petitions for the judgeship are to be filed with the secretary of state's election office in Lansing, according to Berrien county Clerk Forrest Kesterke.

Atty. Dick said he had given serious consideration to running for the judgeship, approved by the legislature last week, but that his law practice and the press of other family matters dictated against his candidacy.

Atty. Spelman also said commitments to his law firm and family ruled out his candidacy and added "I want to express my appreciation to the many people who encouraged me to be a candidate for the office."

Bloomingdale Will Vote On 2 Levies

BLOOMINGDALE — Two property tax millage proposals will face school district voters here in the annual school election June 14.

One proposal seeks renewal of an 18.5-mill property tax levy that expired with the last tax collection while the other is for a 2.5-mill building and site fund. Both proposals are for one year and were approved by the school board last night.

The 18.5 mills proposal was placed on the ballot by a 5 to 2 vote. Board members Ronald Baltke and Fred Rawson voted against placing the issue on the ballot, saying 18.5 mills was not enough to meet increasing costs of school operations. Voting to hold the line were Kay Johnson, Roger Templeman, Jerry Doolittle, Ray Melvin and Nathan Baylor. The 2.5 mills building and site fund proposal received unanimous board approval.

Based on the district's new state equalized valuation of $20,182,465, each mill approved would raise approximately $20,200 locally in property taxes.

The 18.5 mill issue would raise about $370,000 towards a tentative 1976-77 budget of over $1.8 million.

If the 18.5 mills for operating purposes is approved, total operating millage would be 27.08 mills. However, with a debt retirement of 1.9 mills plus the 2.5 mills for building and site, the total school district tax rate would be 31.48 mills, compared to 28.93 last year.

In other areas, it was announced that Kenneth Matthews of Grand Junction and LeRoy Wolins of Pullman, have withdrawn their petitions for election to the school board. Baylor is not seeking re-election, leaving incumbent Melvin, and challengers Mrs. Beverly Matthes, Mrs. Darlethie Morgane, James Muenzer and Gary Venema, as candidates for the two four-year seats.

Wolins in a letter to the board asked that various records of board meetings and transactions since Feb. 1, be made available to him. He said he has been denied access to the board's records and minutes. In his letter he also asked that completed questionnaires of the citizens advisory committee be made available to him. Wolins said in his letter he would like the material by June 6. The board took no action.

The board passed a resolution withdrawing from any previous architectual agreements made by it.

The next board meeting will be June 21 in the Bloomingdale elementary gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Economic Club Names Speaker For Final Meet

Russian-born Nila Magidoff will speak on "Everyday Life in Russia" Thursday, June 3, at the final meeting of the season for the Economic Club of Southwestern Michigan.

Mrs. Magidoff is the wife of former NBC correspondent Robert Magidoff whom she met in Russia. She came to the United Sates alone at the start of World War and became a naturalized citizen.

After the war, she rejoined her husband in Moscow and returned with him to the U.S. when he was expelled on charges of being an American spy.

She has gone back to Russia several times since to keep track of changing conditions in her homeland. On her first post-war trip she traveled with her friend and biographer, Mrs. Willie Snow Etheridge, whose book on their trip is titled "Russian Diet."

Recently Mrs. Magidoff and author-humorist Irene Kamplen went to Moscow, rented a car and drove some 3,000 miles across the Soviet Union. The trip resulted in the book, "Are You Carrying Any Gold or Living Relatives?" a question asked them by a Soviet customs officials.

Economic club officials said Mrs. Magidoff is being presented in an attempt to give club members a better understanding of a Russian.

The dinner meeting will start at 4:45 at Ramada Inn, Benton township.

BANGOR COUNCIL

New Cable TV Firm Receives Approval

BANGOR — A new firm has taken over the construction and operation of a cable television system in the city and received preliminary approval last night from the Bangor city council to proceed with construction.

Todd Borst of Kalamazoo told the council that T.A.B., Inc., plans to proceed with cable-burying operations this week or early next week.

Borst, who represents the organization, also said the system needs land on which to erect a tower.

T.A.B. took over for American Consolidated Properties of Kalamazoo which started initial construction on the system late last fall before it declared bankruptcy.

In other action, the council set midnight May 26 as the expiration time for the city operating license of Jimmy's Rock, a youth recreation spot on High street.

The council earlier this month voted to revoke the license of owner-operator James Webb pending a public hearing.

The hearing was held last night but Webb failed to appear before the council. Complaints of alleged illegal drug activities at the business had prompted city council license revocation.

The council will now consider the request of Dwight Herron who wants a license to operate a billiard hall at the same location.

The council also set a public hearing for June 14 on the establishment of a special assessment district for downtown sidewalk construction.

Cooley Graduates Score Well

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Officials of the Thomas M. Cooley Law School say 63 members of its first graduating class surpassed the state average in the recent Michigan Bar Exam.

Thomas M. Brennan, dean of the school and a former justice of the state Supreme Court, said Sunday that Cooley pupils scored 82.5 per cent as compared to the state average of 80.5 per cent.

"I think the percentage says we are doing as well as other law schools in the state and that we do know someting about what it takes to train lawyers," he said.

The private Cooley school, founded by Brennan in 1973, has encountered many problems including a report from the state Board of Education which questioned the school's financing, staffing and facilities.

Weed Harvest Bid OKd By Paw Paw Lake Board

COLOMA — By a four-to-one vote, the Paw Paw Lake Improvement board yesterday afternoon voted to accept a bid for cutting and harvesting weeds from Paw Paw lake.

The bid was accepted over a bid for chemical removal of the weeds.

The bid accepted was from Bertuca Contractors Ltd., Coloma, for $32,724. The figure was $329 over the low bid for chemical removal, submitted by Pinecrest Industries, Galien. The Galien firm's bid was $32,395.

Board members voting in favor of harvesting of the weeds were Robert Jackson, board chairman, John Matthews, board secretary, and board members Robert Burkholz and George Jackson, of the state department of natural resources, voting in place of regular member Leon Cook.

Voting against the harvesting method was board member Carl Gnodtke, who favored the low bid.

Matthews, in casting his favorable vote, said he was doing so because of three reasons. They were water clarity after harvesting, lack of restrictions (prohibiting swimming and fishing) and long range acceptability.

Acceptance of the bid triggered the passage of a resolution to obtain the total cost of the project through a benefit assessment roll. Included would be legal fees for a lawsuit filed last year against the board for assessment on a footage basis.

Yesterday's vote to accept weed harvesting over chemical treatment followed a vote to accept the chemical bid which was rejected by a four-to-one vote, with only Gnodtke in favor of accepting the low bid.

Work on removing the lake weeds is slated to begin during the first week in June, according to Robert Jackson, with bid specifications calling for the lake to be 95 per cent weed free through Sept. 10.

The bid for harvesting calls for four complete cuttings of the lake, over 281 acres, with each cutting expected to take between three and a half to four weeks.

Orr Glows Over Cage Prospects

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

Johnny Orr has never been accused of being excitable.

But even the Michigan basketball coach can't help but be enthusiastic about his team's prospects for the 1976-77 season.

Orr, recovering from a auto accident, was at Point O'Woods County Club Monday for the annual University of Michigan outing for Southwestern Michigan. He received minor hip and leg injuries as well as numerous cuts and bruises in the accident which occurred last Friday.

But start talking about this year's team and the accident becomes secondary on Orr's mind.

Orr was named Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches for his efforts last season. Michigan won more games than any Wolverine team in history in posting a 25-7 record. The Wolverines finished runner-up in the NCAA tourney, falling to powerful Indiana 86-68 in the finals.

And Michigan loses only forward Wayman Britt from last season's starting lineup.

"It was just great," Orr said. "The fact that the team came together and played so well together was the most satisfying thing. I think we really inspired teams all over the country by the fact that we were so small and still did what we did."

Standout guard Rickey Green originally placed his name in the NBA hardship draft but last week withdrew, something which didn't exactly make Orr unhappy.

"Rickey is about as good a guard as there is in the country," he said. "He's the most exciting college basketball player in American and the fastest I've ever seen.

"He's just quick and has great body control. I've never had a better player."

The Wolverines did not possess a regular over 6' 7" last year, but Orr is still hopeful of picking up a big man in his recruiting. Mike Davis, a 6-11 junior college standout from Trenton, N.J., is the big center which Orr hopes to pick up.

"He can run and he can jump," Orr says. "He's a great shot blocker and can run faster than (Phil) Hubbard."

Davis has narrowed his choices down to Southern California, Maryland and Michigan.

Orr does not plan to give up, however, if he doesn't get the big man he wants.

"We still have a chance to get a big man," he says. "But I feel Hubbard is a good enough center if we don't. And the person coming in for Britt is going to be bigger, also."

Britt stood just 6' 2", but the three players seeking to replace him all stand 6' 7". Battling for the spot will probably be Joel Thompson, Alan Hardy and Tom Staton.

Hubbard was Michigan's tallest starter last year at 6' 7" and Orr wouldn't hesitate to go with him again.

"Hubbard is going to be a super player," Orr observes. "He's a natural rebounder with natural instincts. When the ball is shot, no matter where it is, Hubbard goes and gets it."

While Orr prepares for a possible national championship, Michigan's football express is already in full swing.

Assistant athletic director Don Lund was also at the outing Monday and said football ticket sales are up 77 per cent over last year when the Wolverines led the nation in attendance.

"It's just amazing," Lund said. "Naturally, we're pleased. But if you want to project a little bit, I think I know why ticket sales are up so much this year.

"In 1979, Michigan plays both Notre Dame and Ohio State at home. People are already preparing for that by getting season tickets now. They want to get in line for the tickets because they know by 1979 it will be a little more difficult."

Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler continues to improve after last week's open heart surgery. Lund says Schembechler plans to be back on the job by the time fall practice begins in August.

"Bo got four opinions before having the operation," Lund said. "The conclusion was that there was some blockage on the heart. It was difficult to say how much.

"He decided to have the operation and is pleased that he did because what the doctors suspected was true. The doctors performed four by-passes during the operation.

"He's stable and seems to be fine. He was sitting up Sunday and his wife said that he was his old ornery self."

Preliminaries start at 5:30 and the finals will begin at 7:30.

Wednesday night, May 26, three more meets will be run. The Red Arrow meet for both boys and girls will get underway at Bridgman at 4 p.m. with the field events and prelims. River Valley will host the boys Blossomland meet starting at 4 with the prelims. The Bud field events will start at the conclusion of the preliminaries and the finals will begin at 7:00 p.m.

The Big Seven boys meet will be at Loy Norrix, with the festivities getting under way at 4:30 p.m.

Benton Harbor's boys and girls will battle in the LMAC meet at Mona Shores on Friday, May 28th, beginning at 9 a.m.

Gargus Sparks Bangor

BANGOR — Tim Gargus belted out four hits Monday night to lead Bangor to a narrow 6-5 win over Kalamazoo Christian in a KVA baseball game here.

The win kept Bangor's league title hopes alive. The Vikings are now 10-3 in the league and trail only Delton (9-2). Bangor is 12-7 overall.

It was Gargus who drove in the winning run in the last of the seventh. With the score tied 5-5, Fred Dukes walked to open the frame and then scored all the way from first on Gargus' double. The sophomore third baseman also collected three singles.

Winning pitcher John Dentzman belted a double and a single and drove in two runs for the Vikings.

Lutheran Rally Defeats Bees

BRIDGMAN — Michigan Lutheran came up with nine runs in the seventh inning to defeat Bridgman 16-12 in non-league baseball action here Monday.

Lutheran, now 10-5, finished with 12 hits, including a and a triple and four RBIs by Bruce Morris. Brett Morris had a double and a triple and Brian Herter a double and a single. Steve Hasse was the winning pitcher in relief.

Bridgman, now 6-14, collected eight hits, with John Jones having a homer, a single and three RBIs. Al Barker added two singles and two RBIs and Mark Krieger contributed two singles. Joe Jones was the losing pitcher in relief.

More Arrests Due

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Authorities say more arrests are expected "in the near future" in the brothel slaying of Argentine heavyweight boxer Oscar Bonavena.

Area U.S. Open Golfers Blanked

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Southwestern Michigan was shutout Monday in the U.S. Open local qualifying at the South Bend Country Club.

None of the eight local entries gained one of the five qualifying spots for sectional qualifying in Chicago. The U.S. Open will be played at the Atlanta Athletic Club in mid-June.

George Thomas of Elkhart, Ind. and Bill Schumaker of Columbia City, Ind. tied for top honors with 146s. Schumaker's 70 during the 18-hole morning round was the only sub-par round of the day.

Al Semrad of Ludington was the only Michigan qualifier, carding a 150 total for third.

Bob Placido of Ft. Wayne, Ind. and Dick Hoelzer of South Bend rounded out the qualifying spots with 151 totals.

Bridgman's Bob Ackerman and Dowagiac's Steve Wells headed the local contingent with 153 totals. Ackerman stood in fifth place after shooting a 73 in the morning round. But he soared to an 80 in the afternoon and out of the competition.

Tim Sowinski of Benton Harbor came in with a 154 total. Robert Marshall and Steve Kulich, both of Benton Harbor, carded 155s.

Dowagiac's Willis Fraser posted a 159, William Frantz of Benton Harbor had a 160 and Dowagiac's Charles Meyer withdrew after a 90 in the morning round.

DeYoung Stars For Bulldogs

COVERT — Mike DeYoung pitched a one-hitter Monday as Covert got by Saugatuck 3-0 in a non-league baseball game here.

DeYoung struck out 11 and walked just four in his brilliant mound effort.

Dwight McCray collected a pair of singles and scored two runs for Covert, now 2-11 on the season.

PIRELLI
A LOT OF PEOPLE THINK SO MUCH OF PIRELLI TIRES THEY THINK THEY CAN'T AFFORD THEM
Everybody doesn't know Pirelli.
But the people who do, know us for some pretty impressive things. They know that for years Pirelli tires have been standard equipment on high performance cars like Ferraris, Porsches, Mercedes, etc. And that Pirelli has been making radials for over 25 years, which is about 15 years longer than any radial made in America.
And that other tire manufacturers think so much of Pirelli radial designs that 68 of them have used our patents.
Because of all this acclaim, many people think they can't afford Pirelli tires.
This is far from true.
And if you'll just stop in we think we can show you that you can afford to put Pirelli tires on your car.
We may even be able to show you that you can't afford not to.

'Slipping' Ali KO's Dunn In 5th Round

MUNICH (AP) — The knockout came as promised following the new svelte look, the dancing and the mocking Frankenstein lockstep. But Muhammad Ali has changed, even slipped, and he says so in his own elliptical way.

Ali had just knocked down Richard Dunn five times to score a fifth-round knockout at the stroke of 4 a.m. in Munich Tuesday, and he had gotten through the ritual talk of greatness, amazement, and miracles.

Then he got around to saying what seemed increasingly evident. "I've got just enough to carry me through the year and destroy Norton. Then I'm going to retire."

Frankly, he said, "I'm nowhere what I was a while ago."

There was the Ali of the right-hand lead and left hook who sent the red-haired Briton to the canvas three times in the fourth round and twice in the fifth, before the fight was over with 55 seconds to go to the bell. There was the Ali who signaled that Dunn's time had come at the start of the final round, and the Ali who walked wooden-legged toward the Englishman, his arms stretched out in front of him like a Frankenstein monster.

Yet Ali was changed — "a totally different Ali," he said himself — a harder puncher than before, perhaps, but a fighter increasingly rooted in the canvas.

It was also an Ali who frequently crossed his legs awkwardly during the first three rounds, took a series of stiff right jabs from the left-handed Englishman in the third round and seemed markedly slower and less mobile than the fighter who floated like a butterfly and stung like a bee.

"He's missing; the reflexes have gone back; he should retire," said Duane Bobick after he saw Ali in training. Bobick won his 26th-straight fight in the Olympiahalle, just before Ali's victory, knocking out Bunny Johnson of England.

But Ali didn't seem to be paying any immediate attention. He insisted on talking about new trick karate punches and promised to jog five miles today, preparing for an exhibition in Tokyo next month and the fight against Ken Norton in Yankee Stadium next September which should bring him $9 million.

Through Dunn, Ali showed that he could erase the memory of the fat, sluggish 34 year old who nearly lost a month ago against Jimmy Young, a fighter who had knocked Dunn out in 1974.

The champion weighed 220 pounds, down 10 from the Young fight, and his body had some of its old muscle tone. Even so, Ali was breathing hard after the first round, and he found Dunn a much tougher fighter than he imagined.

"He was right in on me, making me work and do my best," Ali said of the Englishman. "I did the rope-a-dope a couple of times, and it came in real handy, because it saved me some work.

"Dunn was much better than I thought he was, but at the pace we were going I knew he'd fade out after 10 or 11. I'm still 34, finished and washed up and over the hill. He's 31, and he had a little more pep."

Ali acknowledged that Dunn had hurt him twice, and said he considered the Englishman, who dreamed he would bent the champion in the eighth round, merited a return match.

Dunn said at first in the ring that he thought the decision of the German referee to stop the fight was too quick, but with reflection the former construction worker said in his dressing room, "I wouldn't challenge the ref's decision. He's the boss, and I'm only the foreman, but I thought it could have gone on a bit."

After a disastrous preflight promotion in which the fight was threatened with cancellation because of a shortfall by the German promoters in paying Ali's purse, the Munich Olympiahalle had about threequarters of its 12,000 seats filled for the bout.

All, who shelled out $100,000 to buy 2,000 seats for American servicemen, got a message of thanks from President Ford for the gesture, but it wasn't clear how much Ali's help meant to the promoters.

Bob Arum, the American copromoter who handled U.S. televison rights, said he believed that a large part of the crowd came on free tickets or cut-rate tickets sold at the last minute.

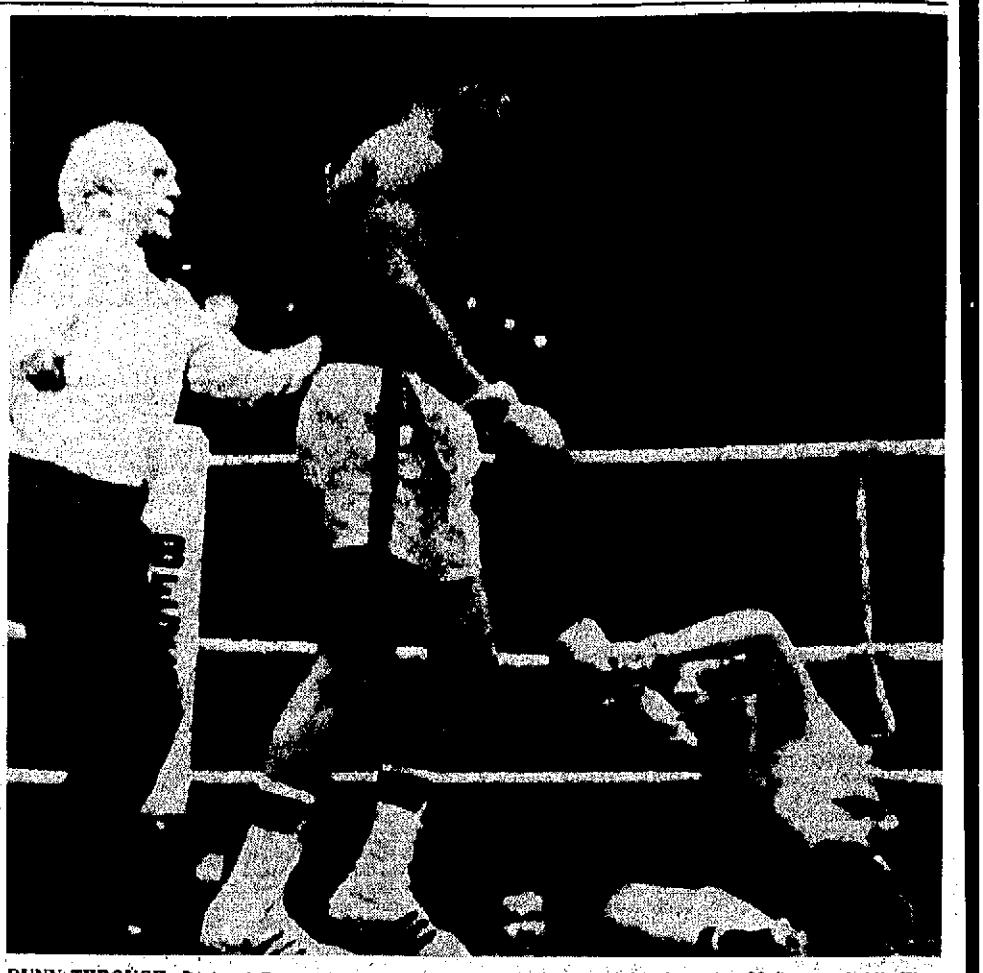

Arum estimated two days ago that the German promoters would lose close to a half million dollars, but Rudolfo Sabbatini, a respected matchmaker from Rome, said he understood the loss could be in excess of $600,000.

Arum said the 160,000-mark ($60,000) rent for the Olympiahalle had been paid only 10 hours before the championship and that there was a measure of doubt until the last minute about whether it would come off.

Guthrie Eyes World 600

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Janet Guthrie, 38, balked in an attempt to become the first woman to qualify for the Indianapolis 500, will try to run the same day, next Sunday, in the world's longest stock car race, the $249,155 World 600 at the Charlotte Motor Speedway.

She is being backed by a woman officer of a Charlotte bank, Linda Ferreri.

Miss Ferreri is buying a Chevrolet built by Hoss Ellington of Wilmington, N.C., and Miss Guthrie will try to qualify it for the 400-lap, 600-mile race. If she does, she will become the first woman to compete in the World 600, in which such stock car greats as Richard Petty, Buddy Baker, David Pearson and Cale Yarborough will run.

Yarborough, who had said that women were not strong enough to race the fastest machines, has agreed to shake the car down for her, giving it some trial runs before Miss Guthrie gets behind the wheel later this week.

"I've still got doubts about a woman having the physical strength to handle a racer, especially a big ol' stock car weighing 3,700 pounds," Yarborough said. "But after keeping up with the Indy time trials — where she could have been successful with a good car and a break or two — I feel she's sincere in her efforts and I admire her for wanting to try and make the race down here. I'll be glad to help her any way I can."

Another stock car driver, Bobby Allison, who also had criticized Miss Guthrie's attempt at Indy, was mollified as well. "Obviously she can drive a race car," he said in a telephone interview from his shop in Hueytown, Ala. He noted that she did 181 m.p.h. in an Indy practice.

Ellington said the purchase price for the car was about $21,000, minus engine. The power plant will be provided by veteran racing mechanic Ralph Moody of Charlotte. "They'll have at least $27,000 in it by the time they get through," Ellington said.

Miss Ferrari, a vice president of advertising and promotions for First Union National Bank, has been active in the women's movement. She admitted that she doesn't know much about auto racing and has never seen a race at the Charlotte Motor Speedway. "I got into this last week when a friend observed during a conversation that Janet Guthrie was a hoax," she said. "I differed and one thing led to another, I just decided to do it. For me, it's a sports issue and an emotional issue. I knew the economics weren't an impossibility." She refused to say where the money is coming from.

BOB HATCH REAL ESTATE PRO:

Bob Hatch, one of our capable residential sales associates, is a fourth generation St. Josephite. His family settled in this area over 130 years ago and were, incidentally, large real estate purchasers from the East.

Bob graduated from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio where he was active in track and field events, histronics and fraternity life.

He entered the business world and spent 25 active years in manufacturing, engineering and management with St. Joe Machines. This 85 year old company was dissolved in 1965 when the Urban Renewal Program purchased its real estate, and the high-rise St. Joe Towers has been erected since on its former site.

Bob then started his own manufacturing company which he ran successfully until he sold it in 1970 to Chicago interests.

Although Bob has held a real estate license for 28 years, he did not devote full time to real estate until 1971. He is now a licensed broker, a three year member of the Million Dollar Club, a member of the Southwest Michigan Board of Realtors and a member of Multiple Listing System.

Bob's hobbies are music, ham radio (his call is WBJFW), and flying. He is a pilot and owns a Skyhawk with several other members of a local flying club.

Bob is always ready to assist you with the purchase or sale of a home. Feel free to call him on any questions you might have concerning real estate.

Downing Extends Streak

Wise Blanks Tigers With Two-Hitter

ANAHEIM (AP) — Brian Downing belted a two-out, three-run double in the eighth inning Monday night as the Chicago White Sox rallied for a 5-3 victory over the California Angels, extending their winning streak to eight games.

Downing, who also drove in Chicago's first run with a fourth-inning single, connected off veteran reliever Jim Brewer, 3-1, to enable rookie Pete Vuckovich to post his second straight victory.

Vuckovich, 2-1, fired a sevenhitter, surrendering three of those hits in the first inning when the Angels scored two runs. Vuckovich struck out eight and walked four.

Trailing 2-1 entering the eighth, the White Sox used singles by Bucky Dent and Lamar Johnson and a walk to Jim Spencer to load the bases with two out before Downing unloaded his double to left-center field.

Downing scored the fourth run of the inning on Chet Lemon's single.

Meanwhile, Dennis Eckersley gave up one hit too many and one walk too many. But some of the fans leaving Baltimore's Memorial Stadium were saying that Cleveland Manager Frank Robinson made one move too many.

It was the old argument of whether or not team success should play second string to individual accomplishment. Robinson, who is paid for victories, cast his vote for the team. So relief pitcher Stan Thomas got the final three outs to preserve Eckersley's one-hitter, as the Indians blanked the Orioles 4-0 Monday night.

"He was tired after the seventh but I let him go back and he got them out in the eighth," said Robinson. "But when he walked the first batter in the ninth, it looked like he was struggling."

Eckersly's ninth-inning walk to Al Bumbry was the Cleveland righthander's fourth walk of the game.

Thomas then walked Mark Belanger, but put his stamp on Eckersley's one-hitter by striking out the next three batters.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox beat the Detroit Tigers 3-0; the New York Yankees downed the Milwaukee Brewers 5-2; the Kansas City Royals outscored the Texas Rangers 14-11, and the Oakland A's whipped the Minnesota Twins 12-7.

Rick Wise stopped Detroit on a two-hitter for his second victory in five decisions.

Alex Johnson singled in the first inning and Ron LeFlore extended his hitting streak to 26 games with a single in the third for the only Detroit hits.

"It was just the worst game we've had all year," said Texas Manager Frank Lucchesi after the Rangers committed a club-record seven errors to help Kansas City score six unearned runs.

George Brett, Hal McRae and Frank White blasted solo homers in the first inning to start the Royals off right.

New York scored five times off Jim Colborn in the first inning on RBI singles by Chris Chambliss and Graig Nettles plus Oscar Gamble's three-run homer.

Ed Figueroa tossed a seven-hitter for his fourth victory in seven decisions.

The adventurous A's stole seven bases, five by Bert Campaneris, and ended an eight-game losing streak by blasting Minnesota with a seven-run fifth inning.

Claudell Washington's two-run double keyed the rally, which turned a 5-1 Minnesota lead into an 8-5 Oakland advantage and helped the A's end their worst slump since they moved to Oakland in 1968.

Expos' Tim Foli Finds HR Range, Belts Bucs

From Associated Press

Tim Foli spent his first five years in the major leagues just warming up. This year he's found the range.

"A trivia question: Who's leading this club in home runs?" asked Montreal's Nate Colbert after the Expos defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 42 Monday night.

"The answer," Colbert said, "is Foli with four."

In his first five years, the Montreal shortstop hit a grand total of five roundtrippers, his biggest season prior to this being 1974 when he had three.

In other National League games Monday, Philadelphia downed the New York Mets 7-1, San Francisco stopped Houston 5-1 and San Diego blanked Los Angeles 2-0.

Foli's fifth-inning homer came one pitch after Pittsburgh pitcher John Candelaria walked Larry Parrish. That tied the score at 2-2 and Montreal catcher Barry Foote untied it an out later when he lined his first home run of the season over the left field fence.

"Candelaria was giving us a lot of fast balls, and we just happened to get two home runs off him," said Foote.

The Expos added a single run in the seventh to give pitcher Woody Fryman his sixth victory of the season against two losses.

"I was a lucky pitcher," said Philadelphia's Larry Christenson after he scattered seven hits to beat the New York Mets. "I was just throwing the ball over the plate and challenging them to hit it at somebody ... I'm not here to be a strikeout pitcher. I'm here to win. And that's all that counts."

Greg Luzinski's first inning two-run homer gave Christenson a quick 2-0 lead, and the the Phillies added four more in the second — all unearned because of an error by Mets loser Mickey Lolich, 2-6.

The Mets' lone run came in the ninth on John Milner's triple and Joe Torre's RBI single.

Rookie Larry Herndon belted his first major league homer and scored twice to lead San Francisco to its victory over Houston. Herndon had a leadoff walk that triggered a three-run first inning off loser Mike Cosgrove, 1-3, then smacked his roundtripper in the second. The hot-hitting rookie finished with three hits to lift his average to .471.

The Giants' Rob Dressler, 11, who needed relief help from Gary Lavelle, gave up an unearned run in the second on Enos Cabell's two-out single, a stolen base and Chris Speier's throwing error. It was the first time in a month that San Francisco has won two games in a row.

Making his first start since being called up from the minors last week, San Diego righthander Dave Freisleben tossed a six-hit shutout over Los Angeles. The loss snapped a Dodgers six-game winning streak.

Freisleben, 0-1, stranded seven Dodger runners while going the distance.

Doug Rader singled home Merv Rettenmund in the first inning and Willie Davis' sacrifice fly in the fifth sent Enzo Hernandez home with an insurance run.

Dodgers starter Tommy John was handed his third defeat in five decisions.

Michigan, Eastern Meet In Regional

MISSION, Kan. (AP) — Big Ten runner-up Minnesota was named on Monday as an at-large entry in the NCAA Division I baseball playoffs and will play Memphis State, 31-9, in the Rocky Mountain Regional Tournament, scheduled at Tempe, Ariz.

Selection of sites and pairings for the eight double-elimination regional tournaments, which will determine the field for the College World Series scheduled in Omaha, Neb., June 11-18, were completed Monday by the NCAA.

Defending champion Texas drew Lamar as its first opponent in its regional tournament. The Longhorns put together a 39-14 record in their quest of a second straight championship.

One regional was completed Monday. Clemson, 35-13, won a trip to Omaha by defeating Furman 6-2 in the Atlantic Regional final. The South Regional, being held in Tallahassee, Fla., could be completed today. Florida State plays Jacksonville in a loser's bracket game and the winner plays Auburn, which is unbeaten.

Big Ten champion Michigan, 19-18, meets Eastern Michigan, 40-13, in the Mideast Regional, which was awarded to Eastern Michigan on Monday. Illinois State, 40-19, meets Southern Illinois, 39-12, in the other opening-round game.

Pairings, dates and sites for opening-round play in other regionals:

South Central at Arlington, Tex., May 28-31 — Oklahoma, 59-16, vs. Miami (Fla.), 40-13; Texas vs. Lamar, 33-9.

West at Pullman, Wash., May 28-30 — Fullerton State, 45-13, vs. Northern Colorado, 27-8; Pepperdine, 28-16, vs. Washington State, 38-12.

Northeast at Middletown, Conn., May 27-30 — Temple, 356, vs. Columbia, 17-10; Seton Hall, 28-15, vs. St. John's, 32-5; Maine, 23-7, vs. Penn State, 186.

Rocky Mountain at Tempe, Ariz., May 28-31 — Minnesota, 36-9, vs. Memphis State, 31-9; Arizona State, 59-8, vs. Gonzaga, 41-20.

Midwest at Edinburg, Tex., May 28-30 — Texas A&M, 34-9, vs. Missouri, 45-20; Arizona, 46-16, or South Alabama, 26-19, vs. Pan American, 53-17.

Bock Keys Bear Win

Kathy Bock drove in three runs with a pair of doubles Monday as St. Joseph's girls softball team outlasted Battle Creek Lakeview 24-19.

The game featured 22 hits and 28 walks in addition to the 43 runs.

Terryie Collis, Mary Ciaravino, Paula Wedde and Cheryl Hemmingway each added a pair of hits for St. Joe, now 7-11.

Mat Tourney At Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE — There will be a United States Wrestling Federation freestyle tourney at Eau Claire high school on Saturday, May 29.

There will be two divisions — junior and open. The first division is for any grappler up to 18 years old. The open will be for anyone over 18.

Weigh-in will take place from 8:30 a.m. until 9:30 a.m. and the wrestling will start at 10:30 a.m.

There is a $3 entry fee for each participant, and admission to the event is $1.

River Valley coach Jerry Hinman was worried about his team's pitching staff at the beginning of the baseball season.

But that same mound corp has been the key to the Mustangs' success this season.

Dennie Busse, just a junior, hurled his second straight shutout Monday, pitching River Valley past Coloma 8-0 in a Class B district qualifying game.

The Mustangs have given up just two runs in their past 33 innings. The victory, River Valley's 20th in 24 games, moved the Mustangs into Saturday's pre-district round against Three Rivers.

Busse had just three innings of varsity experience before this year, but it certainly didn't stop him Monday. Busse ran his record to 8-2, giving up only a first-inning single to Al Page.

"Just watching him in practice last year I felt he was going to be ready this season," Hinman said. And Busse will probably get the call again Saturday.

In other qualifying games Monday, Edwardsburg and Berrien Springs both advanced in Class C. The Eddies outlasted Eau Claire 10-6 and Berrien blasted Constantine 19-2 in five innings.

Edwardsburg goes against White Pigeon and Berrien faces Lake Michigan Catholic in the pre-district round Saturday.

River Valley gave Busse the only two runs he needed in the third inning. Roger Shermak walked. Busse then bunted to third and the Coloma third sacker couldn't come up with the ball, putting runners at first and second. Jeff Jackson's flyball and another error brought the two runs in.

The Mustangs broke the game open with six more runs in the fifth.

Dave North slammed two singles and drove in three runs for the winners. Jackson also collected a pair of hits.

Edwardsburg, now 4-11, raced out to a 7-2 lead in the first three innings and held on for the win.

Dan Correll picked up the win for Edwardsburg and Mike Cochran took the loss for the Beavers, who fell to 4-16.

Chip Mellen belted a triple and two singles for the Eddies. Dennis Mock added a home run and three runs batted in and Randy Burmeister slapped out a pair of hits.

Dan Newman collected a double and a single for the Beavers.

Berrien Springs scored 10 runs in the first inning in running their record to 16-0.

Barry Adams picked up his seventh win without a loss with a four-hitter. Adams fanned nine and walked just two.

Adams was also the Shamrock star at the plate with a triple, two singles and three runs batted in. Adams is now hitting .467.

Rick Thiele added a home run and two singles, Tim Sunday slammed a triple and a single, Joe Lunneen a double and a single and Don Kuball two singles.

LMC Golfers Miss Qualifying

Lake Michigan College's Lon Kipfer and Jim Morris came up short in qualifying for the national junior college golf tournament.

Kipfer shot a two-round score of 161 and Morris had a 163 in region 12 qualifying action at the Bedford Valley Country Club in Battle Creek. It took a 157 score to make the nationals.

Season award winners for LMC include Kipfer, Golfer of the Year; Morris, Will Frantz Mayor's Cup for being the Florida medalist, and Dean Dixon, Sam Drake Award for contributions to the team.

Point Hosts Annual Michigan Outing

Orr Glows Over Cage Prospects

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

Johnny Orr has never been accused of being excitable.

But even the Michigan basketball coach can't help but be enthusiastic about his team's prospects for the 1976-77 season.

Orr, recovering from a auto accident, was at Point O'Woods County Club Monday for the annual University of Michigan outing for Southwestern Michigan. He received minor hip and leg injuries as well as numerous cuts and bruises in the accident which occurred last Friday.

But start talking about this year's team and the accident becomes secondary on Orr's mind.

Orr was named Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches for his efforts last season. Michigan won more games than any Wolverine team in history in posting a 25-7 record. The Wolverines finished runner-up in the NCAA tourney, falling to powerful Indiana 86-68 in the finals.

And Michigan loses only forward Wayman Britt from last season's starting lineup.

"It was just great," Orr said. "The fact that the team came together and played so well together was the most satisfying thing. I think we really inspired teams all over the country by the fact that we were so small and still did what we did."

Standout guard Rickey Green originally placed his name in the NBA hardship draft but last week withdrew, something which didn't exactly make Orr unhappy.

"Rickey is about as good a guard as there is in the country," he said. "He's the most exciting college basketball player in American and the fastest I've ever seen.

"He's just quick and has great body control. I've never had a better player."

The Wolverines did not possess a regular over 6' 7" last year, but Orr is still hopeful of picking up a big man in his recruiting. Mike Davis, a 6-11 junior college standout from Trenton, N.J., is the big center which Orr hopes to pick up.

"He can run and he can jump," Orr says. "He's a great shot blocker and can run faster than (Phil) Hubbard."

Davis has narrowed his choices down to Southern California, Maryland and Michigan.

Orr does not plan to give up, however, if he doesn't get the big man he wants.

"We still have a chance to get a big man," he says. "But I feel Hubbard is a good enough center if we don't. And the person coming in for Britt is going to be bigger, also."

Britt stood just 6' 2", but the three players seeking to replace him all stand 6' 7". Battling for the spot will probably be Joel Thompson, Alan Hardy and Tom Staton.

Hubbard was Michigan's tallest starter last year at 6' 7" and Orr wouldn't hesitate to go with him again.

"Hubbard is going to be a super player," Orr observes. "He's a natural rebounder with natural instincts. When the ball is shot, no matter where it is, Hubbard goes and gets it."

While Orr prepares for a possible national championship, Michigan's football express is already in full swing.

Assistant athletic director Don Lund was also at the outing Monday and said football ticket sales are up 77 per cent over last year when the Wolverines led the nation in attendance.

"It's just amazing," Lund said. "Naturally, we're pleased. But if you want to project a little bit, I think I know why ticket sales are up so much this year.

"In 1979, Michigan plays both Notre Dame and Ohio State at home. People are already preparing for that by getting season tickets now. They want to get in line for the tickets because they know by 1979 it will be a little more difficult."

Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler continues to improve after last week's open heart surgery. Lund says Schembechler plans to be back on the job by the time fall practice begins in August.

"Bo got four opinions before having the operation," Lund said. "The conclusion was that there was some blockage on the heart. It was difficult to say how much.

"He decided to have the operation and is pleased that he did because what the doctors suspected was true. The doctors performed four by-passes during the operation.

"He's stable and seems to be fine. He was sitting up Sunday and his wife said that he was his old ornery self."

League Track Meets Slated

Area track teams will be involved in more big events this week, with most running in their conference meets.

Tonight, three girls meets will be run. The Blossomland conference will hold its meet at River Valley beginning at 4 p.m. with the preliminaries. The field events will follow that and the finals will start at 6 p.m.

St. Joseph and Niles will be involved in the Big Seven meet at Lakeview. Field events and preliminaries begin at 4:30 p.m. South Haven and Paw Paw will run at Plainwell in the Wolverine meet, beginning at 5:00 p.m. with the field events. Preliminaries start at 5:30 and the finals will begin at 7:30.

Wednesday night, May 26, three more meets will be run. The Red Arrow meet for both boys and girls will get underway at Bridgman at 4 p.m. with the field events and prelims. River Valley will host the boys Blossomland meet starting at 4 with the prelims. The Bud field events will start at the conclusion of the preliminaries and the finals will begin at 7:00 p.m.

The Big Seven boys meet will be at Loy Norrix, with the festivities getting under way at 4:30 p.m.

Benton Harbor's boys and girls will battle in the LMAC meet at Mona Shores on Friday, May 28th, beginning at 9 a.m.

Gargus Sparks Bangor

BANGOR — Tim Gargus belted out four hits Monday night to lead Bangor to a narrow 6-5 win over Kalamazoo Christian in a KVA baseball game here.

The win kept Bangor's league title hopes alive. The Vikings are now 10-3 in the league and trail only Delton (9-2). Bangor is 12-7 overall.

It was Gargus who drove in the winning run in the last of the seventh. With the score tied 5-5, Fred Dukes walked to open the frame and then scored all the way from first on Gargus' double. The sophomore third baseman also collected three singles.

Winning pitcher John Dentzman belted a double and a single and drove in two runs for the Vikings.

Lutheran Rally Defeats Bees

BRIDGMAN — Michigan Lutheran came up with nine runs in the seventh inning to defeat Bridgman 16-12 in non-league baseball action here Monday.

Lutheran, now 10-5, finished with 12 hits, including a and a triple and four RBIs by Bruce Morris. Brett Morris had a double and a triple and Brian Herter a double and a single. Steve Hasse was the winning pitcher in relief.

Bridgman, now 6-14, collected eight hits, with John Jones having a homer, a single and three RBIs. Al Barker added two singles and two RBIs and Mark Krieger contributed two singles. Joe Jones was the losing pitcher in relief.

Area U.S. Open Golfers Blanked

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Southwestern Michigan was shutout Monday in the U.S. Open local qualifying at the South Bend Country Club.

None of the eight local entries gained one of the five qualifying spots for sectional qualifying in Chicago. The U.S. Open will be played at the Atlanta Athletic Club in mid-June.

George Thomas of Elkhart, Ind. and Bill Schumaker of Columbia City, Ind. tied for top honors with 146s. Schumaker's 70 during the 18-hole morning round was the only sub-par round of the day.

Al Semrad of Ludington was the only Michigan qualifier, carding a 150 total for third.

Bob Placido of Ft. Wayne, Ind. and Dick Heelzer of South Bend rounded out the qualifying spots with 151 totals.

Bridgman's Bob Ackerman and Dowagiac's Steve Wells headed the local contingent with 153 totals. Ackerman stood in fifth place after shooting a 73 in the morning round. But he soared to an 80 in the afternoon and out of the competition.

Tim Sowinski of Benton Harbor came in with a 154 total. Robert Marshall and Steve Kulich, both of Benton Harbor, carded 155s.

Dowagiac's Willis Fraser posted a 159, William Frantz of Benton Harbor had a 160 and Dowagiac's Charles Meyer withdrew after a 90 in the morning round.

DeYoung Stars For Bulldogs

COVERT — Mike DeYoung pitched a one-hitter Monday as Covert got by Saugatuck 3-0 in a non-league baseball game here.

DeYoung struck out 11 and walked just four in his brilliant mound effort.

Dwight McCray collected a pair of singles and scored two runs for Covert, now 2-11 on the season.

PIRELLI
A LOT OF PEOPLE THINK SO MUCH OF PIRELLI TIRES THEY THINK THEY CAN'T AFFORD THEM
Everybody doesn't know Pirelli.
But the people who do, know us for some pretty impressive things. They know that for years Pirelli tires have been standard equipment on high performance cars like Ferraris, Porsches, Mercedes, etc. And that Pirelli has been making radials for over 25 years, which is about 15 years longer than any radial made in America.
And that other tire manufacturers think so much of Pirelli radial designs that 68 of them have used our patents.
Because of all this acclaim, many people think they can't afford Pirelli tires.
This is far from true.
And if you'll just stop in we think we can show you that you can afford to put Pirelli tires on your car.
We may even be able to show you that you can't afford not to.

Memorial Day Weekend Beginning

Big Park Surge Starts

The upcoming Memorial Day weekend traditionally becomes the first-of-summer "community picnic" for hundreds of thousands of residents who are expected to stream to Michigan's 79 state parks and recreation areas.

It's the long-weekend holiday period when warm-weather outdoor enthusiasts begin "their year" by taking that exhilarating initial swim in one of Michigan's 11,000-plus lakes or by unfolding the family tent after storage in mothballs during the past winter.

While hoping for fair skies statewide to usher in the summer parks season, the Department of Natural Resources says the dedication of one new park near Lansing and million dollar-plus improvements at 29 areas in both peninsulas should easily boost the Memorial Day weekend attendance past last year's three day 450,000 estimate.

Andy Bierlein, acting parks division chief, says most of the development relates to construction of expanded campground facilities and installation of modern restroom and shower buildings.

Improvements in facilities at three areas stand out, Bierlein notes, referring to the official opening of the new 2,684-acre Sleepy Hollow State Park north of Lansing on May 29; the almost completed $320,000 Father Marquette Memorial near St. Ignace; and a new boat concession service at historic Fort Wilkins near Copper Harbor, which will take visitors for the first time two miles out into Lake Superior to the Copper Harbor Lighthouse, oldest on the largest of the Great Lakes.

Bierlein and DNR Deputy O. J. Scherschligt, former head of the parks program, plan to welcome several local government and community leaders for the Sleepy Hollow ribbon-cutting at 1:30 p.m. on May 29. The park, which centers on man-made 412-acre Lake Ovid (named after a nearby community), was developed under a DNR program designed to create lakes in areas here no natural waters existed.

The 500,000 visitors expected there in 1976 can swim, hike, bike, sail and picnic at no charge this year, as no entry permit is required, says Bierlein. However, no motorized boats, fishing or overnight camping will be allowed.

The Father Marquette Memorial will be under construction through part of the summer, but can be seen by visitors to the nearby Straits State Park, a 120-acre site containing 322 campsites that also overlooks the Mackinac Bridge.

Following is a list of improvements at other state parks that will greet visitors this summer:

UPPER PENINSULA

Baraga State Park — New $56,250 restroom-shower building to serve 75 camping families; Bewabic State Park at Crystal Falls — A new entrance road to newly constructed 144-unit campground complete with electrical-water-restroom facilities, costing $330,000; Muskellunge Lake State Park near Newberry — New $122,800 construction expanding campsites to 180 with restroom-shower facilities.

Also, Straits State Park — New restroom-shower building; Tahquamenon Falls State Park near Paradise — New boardwalk erected along river's edge, plus construction of observation platform below the falls; Twin Lakes State Park Near Winona — New $86,000 restroom building and picnic shelter; and Van Riper State Park near Champion — New bathhouse located on shore of Lake Michigamme.

NORTHERN LOWER PENINSULA

Aloha State Park near Cheboygan — Expanded day-use parking area; Cheboygan State Park — New picnic shelter-restroom building adjacent to swimming beach on Duncan Bay; Leelanau State Park — New parking area and "rustic campground" with 42 sites; Orchard Beach State Park near Manistee — New picnic shelter building; and Wilson State Park near Harrison — Major landscape renovations (to include sidewalks, sodding and tree plantings) and improvements to sandy beach on Budd Lake.

SOUTHERN LOWER PENINSULA

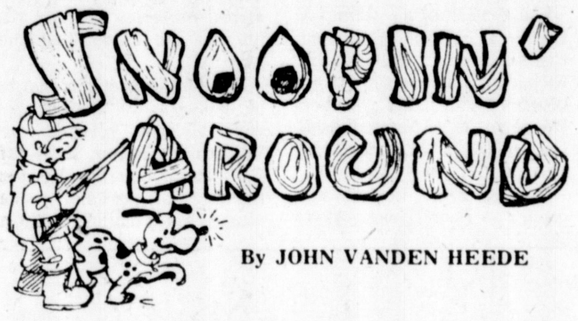

Fort Custer Recreation Area near Battle Creek — 12 miles of new horseback riding trails; Hayes State Park near Onsted — All roads and parking areas resurfaced; Highland Recreation Area near Milford — New day-use parking area; Holland State Park — New shower and restroom facilities near Lake Michigan campground; Holly Recreation Area — Five new restroom buildings, three new picnic shelters, improved boat launche area on Valley Lake, and new 285-car parking area; Ionia Recreation Area — 20 miles of new horseback riding trails.

Also, Maybury State Park near Northville — 16 miles of new bicycle riding paths and nine miles of new horseback riding trails; Muskegon State Park — New 43-site campground with restroom-shower building near Muskegon Lake; Proud Lake State Park near Milford — New nature center with outdoor-type exhibits; Rochester-Utica Recreation Area — New parking area for 300 cars; Sterling State Park near Monroe — Five new floating fishing piers; Warren Dunes State Park near Benton Harbor — Warren Woods Unit, a 300-acre stand of "virgin" Michigan hardwoods, open to the public for first time; and Waterloo Recreation Area near Chelsea — Completion of large nature center with exhibit hall, library and work rooms for students.

Bass Season Opens May 29

Four southwestern Michigan lakes have been stocked with walleye fry as part of a continuing Department of Natural Resources program to re-establish populations of the prized game fish in area waters.

Diamond and Magician Lakes in Cass county each received releases of 200,000. Donnell Lake in Cass county and Cedar Lake in Van Buren county were each stocked with 50,000 fry.

Another 90,000 walleyes have also been placed in a rearing pond near the Allegan dam along the Kalamazoo River. Biologists hope to raise the Allegan fish to fingerling size before planting them out.

Diamond is the only southwestern Michigan lake that consistently produces walleyes, but there is no guarantee that the latest releases will add to the fishery there or in other waters.

"It's a big gamble with fry," explains DNR district biologist Dave Johnson. "You either get success or zero. We would prefer to put fingerlings in those places...that's the best way. But our hatcheries don't have the facilities to raise them to that size."

Rearing ponds, such as the one at the Allegan dam, could be the answer until adequate hatchery space becomes available.

If the Allegan 14-acre pond works out, fingerling-size walleyes from it will be divided between the St. Joseph and Kalamazoo Rivers.

Johnson is also working with the St. Joseph Whirlpool Sportsmen's Club in an effort to find a walleye rearing pond along the St. Joseph River.

The largemouth and smallmouth bass season gets underway Saturday statewide, except in the St. Clair and Detroit Rivers and Lake St. Clair.

Top waters in southwestern Michigan, according to the Department of Natural Resources, should include Swan and Miner Lakes in Allegan county; the St. Joseph River in Berrien county: Barron, Diamond, Juno and Painter Lakes in Cass county, and Jeptha, Rush, Muskrat, Christie, Eagle and Bankson Lakes in Van Buren county.

Meanwhile, the DNR says success for pike, muskie and walleye since the May 15 opener has been "fairly low key." The lower Kalamazoo River in Allegan county has been about the best area spot, with live minnows a good bait.

Bluegills are moving onto their beds across southwestern Michigan, with Little Bankson Lake in Van Buren county among top producers. Poppers and spiders have been good baits.

A good trout lake has been Harwood in Cass county. DNR field men say rainbows between 2 and 2½ pounds have been taken while trolling slowly with small "Christmas trees."

Out on Lake Michigan, lake trout are being taken from the surface down to 80 feet while fishing over 70 to 160 feet of water. The tadpolly continues as a good bait, along with flutterspoons.

Many of the salmon are hitting from the surface down to 25 feet while fishing over 30 to 60 feet of water. The tadpolly, small cleo, loco and be-no eel lures are producing.

Free Tours

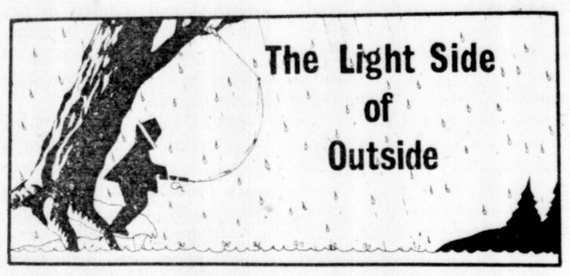

Free nature tours will be offered from 3 to 6 p.m. on Sundays during June, July and August (except July 4) at the Michigan Audubon Society's Bernard W. Baker Wildlife Sanctuary. The 900-acre site is located between Marshall and Bellevue on Junction road, just west of I-69.

Parks Ban Alcohol

The Department of Natural Resources has established a "no alcohol" rule at 15 state parks and recreation areas in an effort to control expected large numbers of visitors this summer.

The ban is already in effect on a year-round basis at these state parks: Dodge No. 4, Oakland County; Hoffmaster, south of Muskegon; Holland, Ottawa county; Warren Dunes (except campground), Berrien county; and Brighton (off-road vehicle area only), Livingston county.

Alcoholic beverages are prohibited through June 15 at Hayes State Park near Onsted, Ludington, Mears at Pentwater, Muskegon (Lake Michigan campgrounds only), and South Higgins Lake state parks; through June 23 at Rochester-Utica Recreation Area; and through Labor Day at Grand Haven State Park; Island Lake near Brighton; Silver Lake near Mears; and Pinckney Recreation Area (beach and picnic areas at Silver Lake and Halfmoon Lake), Livingston County.

Each spring when snowbanks hatch roadside signs, it's pretty obvious that many hunters still do most of their stalking within sight. . .or at least sound. . .of an established highway or road.

It's also obvious that most of these road hunters are not meat hunters, because there isn't an ounce of nutrition or flavor in a "stop" sign or a state forest boundary marker. It's further apparent that sign-hunters are a very affluent society, for even at current prices, ammunition has been expended with great glee and abandoned along every road I travel.

I suppose there is a little bit of challenge in sign-hunting, at that. Along heavily used highways, it must take a great sense of timing to get a 30-30 slug in a "SLOW" sign without being observed or hitting anyone. . .concern for either possibility being about equal, I suspect.

And with lighter caliber rifles it's imperative that the sign-hunter face his target head on — an angle shot will only result in a ricochet and that doesn't count as a "kill". Unless, of course, it does. . .

Wooden signs aren't much fun because they don't clang or whine. And yet at close range it makes a rather exciting sport to see how many blasts from a 12 gauge it takes to make two signs out of one.

So congratulations all you sign-hunters for another successful season when bag limits seem to have been the rule. Yours is an elite brotherhood, enjoying total public support — thousands of dollars worth of support each year.

If only you had to eat everything you shot. . .

Kalamazoo Boat Contest Winner

SOUTH HAVEN — The Nancy Ann, captained by Fred Reeves of Kalamazoo, won the $1,875 first prize Saturday in the fourth annual Great Lakes Fishing Tournament.

There were 76 boats entered in the contest, sponsored by the South Haven Chamber of Commerce and the South Haven chapter of the Michigan Salmon and Steelhead Fishermen's Association. Contestants caught 330 coho, lake trout, steelhead and chinook weighing 1,699 pounds.

The Nancy Ann finished with 184 points. It was followed by the Bandit, captained by Richard Britzen of Muskegon (177 points); the Tight Line, captained by Don Nichols of South Haven (173); the Sue Ya II, captained by Donald Goodwillie Jr. of South Haven (166); the Carol Ann, captained by Leon Steinmiller of South Haven (162); the No End, captained by Vern Shindeldecker of Hartford (156); the Debra Lee II, captained by Howard Christians of Benton Harbor (154); the Sea Dog, captained by Steve Otterbein of Grand Rapids (152); the Thumbs Up, captained by Laverne Adkin of South Haven (144), and the Torpedo Lee, captained by Jim Hulet of Roseville (142).

The biggest fish caught was a 22-pound chinook taken by the Eagle I, captained by Bob Elkins of South Haven.

Other leaders were a 15-pound, 9-ounce lake trout taken by the Run-N-Late, captained by Charles Peters of Three Rivers; an 8-pound, 8-ounce steelhead caught by the Carol Ann, and a 3-pound, 11-ounce coho landed by the Queen Bee, captained by Andy Meekhoff of Muskegon.

ORV Owners Must Register

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Off-road vehicles may be registered beginning this week at any secretary of state field office.

Under Michigan law, an "offthe-road vehicle" (ORV) is any motor driven vehicle capable of cross-country travel without road or trail. This does not include snowmobiles, farm vehicles or road motorcycles.

ORV registration will be in a three-year cycle, similar to snowmobile registration, a secretary of state spokesman said.

First-year registration — which is good for three years — costs $9. The second year, owners register for a two-year period at a cost of $6. And in 1978, one year of registration costs $3.

Fees will be used to construct ORV trails and conduct safety education programs.

'Big Day' In Berrien Produces 165 Birds

By WALTER BOOTH

How many kinds of birds is it possible to see in one day? Several decades ago some chap with sharp eyes and strong legs discovered he could identify more than 100 species of birds in one day, thus inaugurating the idea among bird-watchers of a big day — a one-day quest for as many species of birds as possible.

Big Days are now held all over the country during the peak of northward migration of songbirds. In the northern states this would be in mid-May. The secret of success is to cover as many types of bird-habitats as possible — swamps, woodlands, beaches, fields, etc.

Quick travel between strategic areas is part of the game. And because some birds are easier to identify by song than by sight, a good ear also helps.

Local ornithologists have been engaging in Big Days for over a decade. This year's participants, led by C. Roy Smith of Berrien Springs, were able to identify 165 species — all in Berrien county — on May 16. The total is the highest ever recorded here in one day and ties the record for the Chicago area.

Included among the areas covered were St. Joseph — Benton Harbor waterfront, Grand Mere, Warren Woods, New Buffalo and Andrews University.

Honors for most unusual birds recorded go to a Little Blue Heron at Benton Harbor and a Yellow-throated Warbler at New Buffalo. These are southern birds which barely get into Michigan. The latter has been recorded dependably in Michigan only along the south branch of the Galien River.

Downing Extends Streak

Wise Blanks Tigers With Two-Hitter

ANAHEIM (AP) — Brian Downing belted a two-out, three-run double in the eighth inning Monday night as the Chicago White Sox rallied for a 5-3 victory over the California Angels, extending their winning streak to eight games.

Downing, who also drove in Chicago's first run with a fourth-inning single, connected off veteran reliever Jim Brewer, 3-1, to enable rookie Pete Vuckovich to post his second straight victory.

Vuckovich, 2-1, fired a sevenhitter, surrendering three of those hits in the first inning when the Angels scored two runs. Vuckovich struck out eight and walked four.

Trailing 2-1 entering the eighth, the White Sox used singles by Bucky Dent and Lamar Johnson and a walk to Jim Spencer to load the bases with two out before Downing unloaded his double to left-center field.

Downing scored the fourth run of the inning on Chet Lemon's single.

Meanwhile, Dennis Eckersley gave up one hit too many and one walk too many. But some of the fans leaving Baltimore's Memorial Stadium were saying that Cleveland Manager Frank Robinson made one move too many.

It was the old argument of whether or not team success should play second string to individual accomplishment. Robinson, who is paid for victories, cast his vote for the team. So relief pitcher Stan Thomas got the final three outs to preserve Eckersley's one-hitter, as the Indians blanked the Orioles 4-0 Monday night.

"He was tired after the seventh but I let him go back and he got them out in the eighth," said Robinson. "But when he walked the first batter in the ninth, it looked like he was struggling."

Eckersly's ninth-inning walk to Al Bumbry was the Cleveland righthander's fourth walk of the game.

Thomas then walked Mark Belanger, but put his stamp on Eckersley's one-hitter by striking out the next three batters.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox beat the Detroit Tigers 3-0; the New York Yankees downed the Milwaukee Brewers 5-2; the Kansas City Royals outscored the Texas Rangers 14-11, and the Oakland A's whipped the Minnesota Twins 12-7.

Rick Wise stopped Detroit on a two-hitter for his second victory in five decisions.

Alex Johnson singled in the first inning and Ron LeFlore extended his hitting streak to 26 games with a single in the third for the only Detroit hits.

"It was just the worst game we've had all year," said Texas Manager Frank Lucchesi after the Rangers committed a club-record seven errors to help Kansas City score six unearned runs.

George Brett, Hal McRae and Frank White blasted solo homers in the first inning to start the Royals off right.

New York scored five times off Jim Colborn in the first inning on RBI singles by Chris Chambliss and Graig Nettles plus Oscar Gamble's three-run homer.

Ed Figueroa tossed a seven-hitter for his fourth victory in seven decisions.

The adventurous A's stole seven bases, five by Bert Campaneris, and ended an eight-game losing streak by blasting Minnesota with a seven-run fifth inning.

Claudell Washington's two-run double keyed the rally, which turned a 5-1 Minnesota lead into an 8-5 Oakland advantage and helped the A's end their worst slump since they moved to Oakland in 1968.

Expos' Tim Foli Finds HR Range, Belts Bucs

From Associated Press

Tim Foli spent his first five years in the major leagues just warming up. This year he's found the range.

"A trivia question: Who's leading this club in home runs?" asked Montreal's Nate Colbert after the Expos defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 Monday night.

"The answer," Colbert said, "is Foli with four."

In his first five years, the Montreal shortstop hit a grand total of five roundtrippers, his biggest season prior to this being 1974 when he had three.

In other National League games Monday, Philadelphia downed the New York Mets 7-1, San Francisco stopped Houston 5-1 and San Diego blanked Los Angeles 2-0.

Foli's fifth-inning homer came one pitch after Pittsburgh pitcher John Candelaria walked Larry Parrish. That tied the score at 2-2 and Montreal catcher Barry Foote untied it an out later when he lined his first home run of the season over the left field fence.

"Candelaria was giving us a lot of fast balls, and we just happened to get two home runs off him," said Foote.

The Expos added a single run in the seventh to give pitcher Woody Fryman his sixth victory of the season against two losses.

"I was a lucky pitcher," said Philadelphia's Larry Christenson after he scattered seven hits to beat the New York Mets. "I was just throwing the ball over the plate and challenging them to hit it at somebody ... I'm not here to be a strikeout pitcher. I'm here to win. And that's all that counts."

Greg Luzinski's first inning two-run homer gave Christenson a quick 2-0 lead, and the the Phillies added four more in the second — all unearned because of an error by Mets loser Mickey Lolich, 2-6.

The Mets' lone run came in the ninth on John Milner's triple and Joe Torre's RBI single.

Rookie Larry Herndon belted his first major league homer and scored twice to lead San Francisco to its victory over Houston. Herndon had a leadoff walk that triggered a three-run first inning off loser Mike Cosgrove, 1-3, then smacked his roundtripper in the second. The hot-hitting rookie finished with three hits to lift his average to .471.

The Giants' Rob Dressler, 11, who needed relief help from Gary Lavelle, gave up an unearned run in the second on Enos Cabell's two-out single, a stolen base and Chris Speier's throwing error. It was the first time in a month that San Francisco has won two games in a row.

Making his first start since being culled up from the minors last week, San Diego righthander Dave Freisleben tossed a six-hit shutout over Los Angeles. The loss snapped a Dodgers six-game winning streak.

Freisleben, 0-1, stranded seven Dodger runners while going the distance.

Doug Rader singled home Merv Rettenmund in the first inning and Willie Davis' sacrifice fly in the fifth sent Enzo Hernandez home with an insurance run.

Dodgers starter Tommy John was handed his third defeat in five decisions.

River Valley coach Jerry Hinman was worried about his team's pitching staff at the beginning of the baseball season.

But that same mound corp has been the key to the Mustangs' success this season.

Dennie Busse, just a junior, hurled his second straight shutout Monday, pitching River Valley past Coloma 8-0 in a Class B district qualifying game.

The Mustangs have given up just two runs in their past 33 innings. The victory, River Valley's 20th in 24 games, moved the Mustangs into Saturday's pre-district round against Three Rivers.

Busse had just three innings of varsity experience before this year, but it certainly didn't stop him Monday. Busse ran his record to 8-2, giving up only a first-inning single to Al Page.

"Just watching him in practice last year I felt he was going to be ready this season," Hinman said. And Busse will probably get the call again Saturday.

In other qualifying games Monday, Edwardsburg and Berrien Springs both advanced in Class C. The Eddies outlasted Eau Claire 10-8 and Berrien blasted Constantine 19-2 in five innings.

Edwardsburg goes against White Pigeon and Berrien faces Lake Michigan Catholic in the pre-district round Saturday.

River Valley gave Busse the only two runs he needed in the third inning. Roger Shermak walked, Busse then bunted to third and the Coloma third sacker couldn't come up with the ball, putting runners at first and second. Jeff Jackson's flyball and another error brought the two runs in.

The Mustangs broke the game open with six more runs in the fifth.

Dave North slammed two singles and drove in three runs for the winners. Jackson also collected a pair of hits.

Edwardsburg, now 4-11, raced out to a 7-2 lead in the first three innings and held on for the win.

Dan Correll picked up the win for Edwardsburg and Mike Cochran took the loss for the Beavers, who fell to 4-16.

Chip Mellen belted a triple and two singles for the Eddies. Dennis Mock added a home run and three runs batted in and Randy Burmeister slapped out a pair of hits.

Dan Newman collected a double and a single for the Beavers.

Berrien Springs scored 10 runs in the first inning in running their record to 16-6.

Barry Adams picked up his seventh win without a loss with a four-hitter. Adams fanned nine and walked just two.

Adams was also the Shamrock star at the plate with a triple, two singles and three runs batted in. Adams is now hitting .467.

Rick Thiele added a home run and two singles, Tim Sunday slammed a triple and a single, Joe Lunneen a double and a single and Dan Kuball two singles.

LMC Golfers Miss Qualifying

Lake Michigan College's Lon Kipfer and Jim Morris came up short in qualifying for the national junior college golf tournament.

Kipfer shot a two-round score of 161 and Morris had a 163 in region 12 qualifying action at the Bedford Valley Country Club in Battle Creek. It took a 157 score to make the nationals.

Season award winners for LMC include Kipfer, Golfer of the Year; Morris, Will Frantz Mayor's Cup for being the Florida medalist, and Dean Dixon, Sam Drake Award for contributions to the team.

Michigan, Eastern Meet In Regional

MISSION, Kan. (AP) — Big Ten runner-up Minnesota was named on Monday as an at-large entry in the NCAA Division I baseball playoffs and will play Memphis State, 31-9, in the Rocky Mountain Regional Tournament, scheduled at Tempe, Ariz.

Selection of sites and pairings for the eight double-elimination regional tournaments, which will determine the field for the College World Series scheduled in Omaha, Neb., June 11-18, were completed Monday by the NCAA.

Defending champion Texas drew Lamar as its first opponent in its regional tournament. The Longhorns put together a 39-14 record in their quest of a second straight championship.

One regional was completed Monday. Clemson, 35-13, won a trip to Omaha by defeating Furman 6-2 in the Atlantic Regional final. The South Regional, being held in Tallahassee, Fla., could be completed today. Florida State plays Jacksonville in a loser's bracket game and the winner plays Auburn, which is unbeaten.

Big Ten champion Michigan, 19-18, meets Eastern Michigan, 40-13, in the Mideast Regional, which was awarded to Eastern Michigan on Monday. Illinois State, 40-19, meets Southern Illinois, 39-12, in the other opening-round game.

Pairings, dates and sites for opening-round play in other regionals:

South Central at Arlington, Tex., May 28-31 — Oklahoma, 58-16, vs. Miami (Fla.), 40-13; Texas vs. Lamar, 33-9.

West at Pullman, Wash., May 28-30 — Fullerton State, 45-13, vs. Northern Colorado, 27-8; Pepperdine, 28-16, vs. Washington State, 38-12.

Northeast at Middletown, Conn., May 27-30 — Temple, 356, vs. Columbia, 17-10; Seton Hall, 28-15, vs. St. John's, 32-5; Maine, 23-7, vs. Penn State, 186.

Rocky Mountain at Tempe, Ariz., May 28-31 — Minnesota, 36-9, vs. Memphis State, 31-9; Arizona State, 59-8, vs. Gonzaga, 41-20.

Midwest at Edinburg, Tex., May 28-30 — Texas A&M, 34-9, vs. Missouri, 45-20; Arizona, 46-16, or South Alabama, 26-19, vs. Pan American, 53-17.

Bock Keys Bear Win

Kathy Bock drove in three runs with a pair of doubles Monday as St. Joseph's girls softball team outlasted Battle Creek Lakeview 24-19.

The game featured 22 hits and 28 walks in addition to the 43 runs.

Terryle Collis, Mary Claravino, Paula Wedde and Cheryl Hemmingway each added a pair of hits for St. Joe, now 7-11.

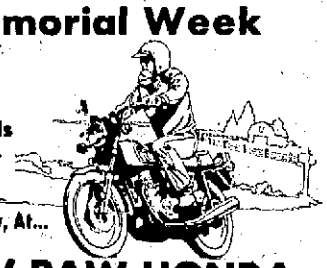

Mat Tourney At Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE — There will be a United States Wrestling Federation freestyle tourney at Eau Claire high school on Saturday, May 29.

WOMAN GETS 2-15

SJ Bandit Given 20-50 Years

A Lansing man was sentenced Monday in Berrien Circuit court to 20 to 50 years in prison for robbing a St. Joseph jewelry store and a Benton township woman got a 2 to 15-year prison sentence for manslaughter.

Sentenced to 20 to 50 years by Judge Julian E. Hughes was Robert Lee Williams, 34, for armed robbery at Green's jewelry store, 315 State street, on Nov. 28. Williams was charged with robbing owner Robert Green at gunpoint of more than $7,000 worth of rings and about $251 cash, all of which was recovered.

Hughes noted Williams had cooperated with the prosecutor's office, and although he called the sentence "severe," he added it was "much shorter than it would have been under other circumstances."

Two co-defendants, Rolanda Carter and Diane Stokes, were previously placed on probation after pleading guilty to unarmed robbery.

Hughes also imposed a 2 to 15-year prison term on Jacqueline Simmons, 28, of 1018 Blossom lane, Benton township, for voluntary manslaughter. Miss Simmons on Oct. 13 shot and killed Leroy Alexander at her apartment.

Miss Simmons, prior to sentencing, maintained the shooting was in self-defense, and Hughes said he had taken that into consideration, along with her good record.

In other sentences by Hughes:

Ricky Norwood, 18, of 375 North Winans street, Benton Harbor, was placed on three years probation, with the first five months in jail, for entering without breaking the residence of Johnny Clay, at 1041 Pavone street, Benton Harbor, on Feb. 6.

Joe W. Porter, 18, of 696 Columbus avenue, Benton Harbor, was also ordered to spend the first five months of a two-year probation in jail for larceny in a building—the theft of 32 cases of pop Feb. 24 from the R.C. Cola warehouse in Benton township.

Darel K. Bankston, 26, of 1331 Country Club drive, Niles township, was placed on five years probation, and assessed $400 fine and costs, for fourth degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly indecent liberties) Sept. 19 with a woman in her 20's in Niles township.

William S. Harper, 21, of Toledo, Ohio, was placed on two years probation and assessed $400 fine and costs for carrying a concealed weapon—a pistol—Sept. 13 in Niles.

Willie G. Humphreys, 34, of Flint, was placed on two years probation and ordered to pay $400 fine and costs for attempted carrying a concealed weapon—a revolver—Feb. 3 in Benton township.

Anthony L. Wallace, 17, of 187 East Britain avenue, Benton Harbor, was sentenced to two years probation and assessed $250 fine and costs for larceny in a building—the theft of pens, coupon books, and a coin envelope March 24 from Empire Cleaners in Benton Harbor.

In arraignments before Judge Chester J. Byrns:

Michael G. Jasper, 17, of 2219 Yankee street, Niles, pleaded innocent to a charge of second degree criminal sexual conduct (contact) with an 8-year-old boy March 23 in Niles township.

Warren Legget, 30, of Chicago, pleaded guilty to receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $100—five CB radios—April 21 in Sodus township.

Raymond Freyer, 17, and Byron L. Davis, 18, both of Sand Ridge road, Sawyer, both pleaded innocent to charges of breaking and entering and malicious destruction of property over $100 at Bridgman high school April 25. School officials said vandals caused about $5,000 worth of damage.

David Denton, 18, of 3502 Niles road, Royalton township, pleaded innocent to charges of delivery of marijuana and LSD Feb. 3 in Royalton township and Feb. 11 in St. Joseph township.

James Ray Denton, 17, of the same address, pleaded innocent to charges of delivery of marijuana March 8 in Benton Harbor and delivery of hashish Feb. 2 in Royalton township.

Van Buren 'Pot' Penalty: Prison

PAW PAW — A man who allegedly tried to bring some 710 pounds of marijuana into the state during 1975 was sentenced yesterday in Van Buren circuit court to serve from two to four years in prison.

Judge Meyer Warshawsky imposed the sentence on Richard Castillo, 29, Ennis, Texas, who had pleaded guilty April 29 to a charge of possession of marijuana with intent to deliver.

Castillo's car had been stopped on I-94 near Lawrence on April 5, 1975, by state police at Paw Paw after troopers had received a report that a car containing marijuana was believed headed from Texas to Michigan. Police said some 248 packages, containing about $220,000 worth of the controlled substance, were seized from the trunk.

Also sentenced as a result of earlier guilty pleas were:

Robert D. Griffith, 22, 860 East Vineyard, Benton Harbor, from one to two years in prison on a charge of attempted larceny from a building, a wallet and adding machine from Reinertson's Texaco, Lawrence, on May 18, 1975.

Kenton L. Pratt, 22, 309 East Arlington, Bangor, 70 days in jail, two years probation, and $100 fine on a charge of passing a no account check for $23 March 7 at the Corner Store, Waverly township. He was also ordered to make restitution for the check.

Diane Tinker, 25, route 2, Paw Paw, 40 days in jail, $200 fine, and two years probation on a charge of attempted delivery of amphetamines in Lawrence during November, 1974.

In an arraignment, Charles L. Colbert, 21, Hartford, pleaded innocent to a charge of first-degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly rape) in connection with a complaint by a 15-year-old Decatur girl that she was attacked April 16.

TO PRISON: Freddie Sills sits at his Florida Memorial College graduation in Miami Monday where he received a standing ovation when he finished with honors. But he's heading back to prison where he's serving a manslaughter sentence. Twenty-Seven Face Judges

Two men accused of possessing 46 pounds of suspected marijuana valued at an estimated $15,000 demanded preliminary examinations in Berrien Fifth District court Monday.

Jailed under $10,000 bonds after arraignments on charges of possession of marijuana with intent to deliver were Gary B. Lynn, 25, of El Paso, Texas, and John M. Harvel, 26, of Kalamazoo. They were arrested after their auto was stopped by state police of the Benton Harbor post Friday in St. Joseph township. Harvel was also sentenced to three days in jail and fine and costs of $90 or 30 days in jail for driving while license suspended.

Others demanding examinations were:

Gary A. Peek, 17, of 624 Manitou road, St. Joseph township, charged with embezzling stereo equipment valued over $100 from the Belscot Department store, Benton township, March 27. He was released on $1,500 personal recognizance bond.

Charles L. Fitzner, 18, of 1172 Summer court, Benton township, on a charge of unlawful use of an auto May 19 in Benton township. Bond of $1,000 was not posted, and he was jailed.

Daniel L. Gardner, 22, of Johnson road, Coloma, charged with possession of brass knuckles in Coloma township May 22.

Robert Greer, 62, of Gary, Ind., accused of carrying a concealed .38 caliber revolver in Lincoln township May 22. He was jailed under $2,500 bond.

John T. Avery (also known as Arvirse York), 59, of Chicago, on a charge of carrying a concealed pistol May 23 in Coloma township. $2,500 bond was not met.

Bound over to Circuit court was Sanford A. Spears, 18, of 2159 Red Arrow highway, Benton Harbor, charged with receiving and concealing a stolen citizens' band radio valued over $100 in Benton Harbor May 16. He posted $500 bail.

Sentenced were:

Raymond N. Smith, 22, of Westmont, Ill., $100 or 20 days in jail for possession in an auto of a police radio monitor without a permit, and $1,000 or one year in jail for possession of marijuana, May 24 in St. Joseph township. He was sentenced by District Judge Hugh Black. He was not charged for possession of other suspected drugs allegedly found in his auto.

Michael G. Yates, 22, of Green street, South Haven, $45 for assault and battery against Craig Rose April 14 at Rose Die Cast Co., Watervliet township.

Russell P. Wilson, 25, of Royal Oak, $5 for receiving and concealing a stolen bicycle April 14 in Bridgman.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Use of marijuana — James A. Lovell, 17, of 604 West John Beers road, Stevensville; Richard T. Samuelson, 19, of Crawfordsville, Ind.; Robert Workman, 22, of North Judson, Ind., and Jamie M. Hake, 18, of Portage, Ind., each $50.

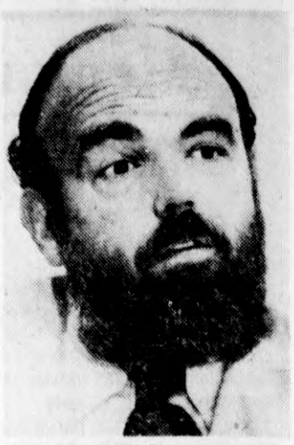

Driving while license suspended — Daniel Jones, 43, of 291 Walnut, Benton township, three days in jail and $90 or 30 days in jail total; Calvin T. Outlaw, 26, of 558 Bridgman, Benton township, five days in jail, $200, and loss of his license plates for third offense.

Driving while intoxicated — Homer L. Bunch, 39, of Winter Garden, Fla., and Ronald T. Kuzma, 22, of Hammond, Ind., each $152 or 30 days in jail; Johnny H. Hill, 30, of Battle Creek, $102; Tony D. Krasoczka, 19, of Hobart, Ind., $155 or 30 days in jail; Santiago R. Gallegos, 23, of Brownsville, Texas, $155; Thomas W. Nelson, 28, of Baldwin road, Sawyer, $152.

Impaired driving — Noah A. Shealy, 47, of 811 Iroquois, Niles, and Roy L. Eddings, 26, of Benton township, each $105; David Carruthers, 37, of Ostego, $200.

Two armed robbery charges against Duncan E. Williams, of 170 Bellview street, Benton Harbor, were dismissed yesterday. Although he told police he was 17, he is actually a juvenile, according to the prosecutor's office. Williams and two other Benton Harbor youths were charged in connection with armed robberies of Hazel Rye May 14 and Linda Rosenthal May 15.

Pleading innocent to charges of fleeing police and driving while license revoked was William A. Newton, 24, of 6539 Paw Paw, Coloma. He was released on personal recognizance bonds totaling $2,000.

Stevensville Driver Waives Examination

Marvin H. Guess, charged with negligent homicide in connection with the May 2 death of a bicyclist, waived preliminary examination Monday in Berrien Fifth District court and was bound over to Circuit court.

Guess, 30, of 5203 Lincoln avenue, Stevensville, remained free on $5,000 bond following his court appearance.

According to the warrant, Guess and another man are accused of racing their autos southbound on Cleveland avenue in Baroda township. Guess, in an attempt to keep the other car from passing his auto, swerved across the centerline of the road, the warrant claims.

The other auto allegedly struck and killed John Greathouse, 14, of 8774 Ruggles road, Baroda, according to the warrant. The other driver was identified as Norman W. Lewis, 29, of 1558 West Shawnee road, Baroda, according to the warrant. Lewis has not been charged.

HEAD-ON FATALITY

HASTINGS, Mich. (AP) — A head-on collision along Michigan 37 south of Hastings killed Gary W. Covey, 26, of Springfield.

Apartment Project Outside City Asks Hartford For Water, Sewer

HARTFORD — The Hartford city council disclosed last night that developers of a proposed 48-unit apartment development have asked for access to city water and sewer services for their project although it would be built just outside the city in Hartford township.

The request came in recent days from Hartford real estate broker LaVerne Rice who said he represents investors who want to erect the apartments outside the city limits, to the north and adjacent to Paras Hills subdivision.

According to City Clerk Jewell Story, Rice reportedly said the yet unidentified investors would pay to have sewer and water lines extended to the city limits, thus making them accessible to the proposed apartments.

But the council last night said it wants the request in writing and wants more details on the planned construction before it takes any action.

Approval might include voluntary annexation of the project to the city, several councilmen said.

In other action, the council ordered a study of traffic on Red Arrow highway within the city limits.

The traffic study order came at the request of representatives of the Block Parents association which has been pressing both city and school officials for more safeguards for children who walk to and from school.

A major point of contention has been a state highway department recommendation that the speed limit on Red Arrow highway in the city be boosted from 25 to 35 miles per hour.

The highway divides the community and many elementary children have to cross the busy street in order to get to school.

Also last night, the council voted to keep the city property tax levy for the coming year at 15 mills, the current rate.

Included are 14 mills for operations, six-tenths of a mill for local streets and two-tenths of a mill each for sidewalks and the city recreation program.

The council voted permission for Joe Hagenbarth of Watervliet to sell ice cream from a truck in the city providing he has insurance and a city license. It also learned that T.A.B. Inc., has nearly completed construction of cable television lines in the city.

Todd Borst, Kalamazoo, representing T.A.B., added, however, that some 100 homes in Hartford won't have access to cable television because some property owners refused to let the firm bury its cable across their property lines.

Memorial Day Weekend Beginning

Big Park Surge Starts

The upcoming Memorial Day weekend traditionally becomes the first-of-summer "community picnic" for hundreds of thousands of residents who are expected to stream to Michigan's 79 state parks and recreation areas.

It's the long-weekend holiday period when warm-weather outdoor enthusiasts begin "their year" by taking that exhilarating initial swim in one of Michigan's 11,000-plus lakes or by unfolding the family tent after storage in mothballs during the past winter.

While hoping for fair skies statewide to usher in the summer parks season, the Department of Natural Resources says the dedication of one new park near Lansing and million dollar-plus improvements at 29 areas in both peninsulas should easily boost the Memorial Day weekend attendance past last year's three day 450,000 estimate.

Andy Bierlein, acting parks division chief, says most of the development relates to construction of expanded campground facilities and installation of modern restroom and shower buildings.

Improvements in facilities at three areas stand out, Bierlein notes, referring to the official opening of the new 2,684-acre Sleepy Hollow State Park north of Lansing on May 29; the almost completed $320,000 Father Marquette Memorial near St. Ignace; and a new boat concession service at historic Fort Wilkins near Copper Harbor, which will take visitors for the first time two miles out into Lake Superior to the Copper Harbor Lighthouse, oldest on the largest of the Great Lakes.

Bierlein and DNR Deputy O. J. Scherschligt, former head of the parks program, plan to welcome several local government and community leaders for the Sleepy Hollow ribbon-cutting at 1:30 p.m. on May 29. The park, which centers on man-made 412-acre Lake Ovid (named after a nearby community), was developed under a DNR program designed to create lakes in areas here no natural waters existed.

The 500,000 visitors expected there in 1976 can swim, hike, bike, sail and picnic at no charge this year, as no entry permit is required, says Bierlein. However, no motorized boats, fishing or overnight camping will be allowed.

The Father Marquette Memorial will be under construction through part of the summer, but can be seen by visitors to the nearby Straits State Park, a 120-acre site containing 322 campsites that also overlooks the Mackinac Bridge.

Following is a list of improvements at other state parks that will greet visitors this summer:

UPPER PENINSULA

Baraga State Park — New $56,250 restroom-shower building to serve 75 camping families; Bewabic State Park at Crystal Falls — A new entrance road to newly constructed 144-unit campground complete with electrical-water-restroom facilities, costing $330,000; Muskellunge Lake State Park near Newberry — New $122,800 construction expanding campsites to 160 with restroom-shower facilities.

Also, Straits State Park — New restroom-shower building; Tahquamenon Falls State Park near Paradise — New boardwalk erected along river's edge, plus construction of observation platform below the falls; Twin Lakes State Park Near Winona — New $86,000 restroom building and picnic shelter; and Van Riper State Park near Champion — New bathhouse located on shore of Lake Michigamme.

NORTHERN LOWER PENINSULA

Aloha State Park near Cheboygan — Expanded day-use parking area; Cheboygan State Park — New picnic shelter-restroom building adjacent to swimming beach on Duncan Bay; Leelanau State Park — New parking area and "rustic campground" with 42 sites; Orchard Beach State Park near Manistee — New picnic shelter building; and Wilson State Park near Harrison — Major landscape renovations (to include sidewalks, sodding and tree plantings) and improvements to sandy beach on Budd Lake.

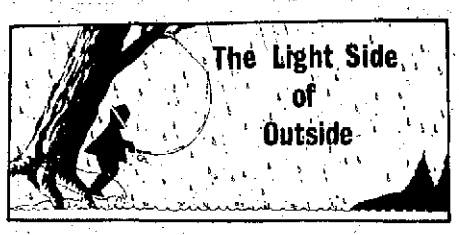

SOUTHERN LOWER PENINSULA

Fort Custer Recreation Area near Battle Creek — 12 miles of new horseback riding trails; Hayes State Park near Onsted — All roads and parking areas resurfaced; Highland Recreation Area near Milford — New day-use parking area; Holland State Park — New shower and restroom facilities near Lake Michigan campground; Holly Recreation Area — Five new restroom buildings, three new picnic shelters, improved boat launche area on Valley Lake, and new 285-car parking area; Ionia Recreation Area — 20 miles of new horseback riding trails.

Also, Maybury State Park near Northville — 16 miles of new bicycle riding paths and nine miles of new horseback riding trails; Muskegon State Park — New 43-site campground with restroom-shower building near Muskegon Lake; Proud Lake State Park near Milford — New nature center with outdoor-type exhibits; Rochester-Utica Recreation Area — New parking area for 300 cars; Sterling State Park near Monroe — Five new floating fishing piers; Warren Dunes State Park near Benton Harbor — Warren Woods Unit, a 300-acre stand of "virgin" Michigan hardwoods, open to the public for first time; and Waterloo Recreation Area near Chelsea — Completion of large nature center with exhibit hall, library and work rooms for students.

Each spring when snowbanks hatch roadside signs, it's pretty obvious that many hunters still do most of their stalking within sight. . .or at least sound. . .of an established highway or road.

It's also obvious that most of these road hunters are not meat hunters, because there isn't an ounce of nutrition or flavor in a "stop" sign or a state forest boundary marker. It's further apparent that sign-hunters are a very affluent society, for even at current prices, ammunition has been expended with great glee and abandoned along every road I travel.

I suppose there is a little bit of challenge in sign-hunting, at that. Along heavily used highways, it must take a great sense of timing to get a 30-30 slug in a "SLOW" sign without being observed or hitting anyone. . .concern for either possibility being about equal; I suspect.

And with lighter caliber rifles it's imperative that the sign-hunter face his target head on — an angle shot will only result in a ricochet and that doesn't count as a "kill". Unless, of course, it does. . .

Wooden signs aren't much fun because they don't clang or whine. And yet at close range it makes a rather exciting sport to see how many blasts from a 12 gauge it takes to make two signs out of one.

So congratulations all you sign-hunters for another successful season when bag limits seem to have been the rule. Yours is an elite brotherhood, enjoying total public support — thousands of dollars worth of support each year.

If only you had to eat everything you shot. . . .

Kalamazoo Boat Contest Winner

SOUTH HAVEN — The Nancy Ann, captained by Fred Reeves of Kalamazoo, won the $1,875 first prize Saturday in the fourth annual Great Lakes Fishing Tournament.

There were 78 boats entered in the contest, sponsored by the South Haven Chamber of Commerce and the South Haven chapter of the Michigan Salmon and Steelhead Fishermen's Association. Contestants caught 330 coho, lake trout, steelhead and chinook weighing 1,659 pounds.

The Nancy Ann finished with 184 points. It was followed by the Bandit, captained by Richard Britzen of Muskegon (177 points); the Tight Line, captained by Don Nichols of South Haven (173); the Sue Ya II, captained by Donald Goodwillie Jr. of South Haven (166); the Carol Ann, captained by Leon Steinmiller of South Haven (162); the No End, captained by Vern Shindeldecker of Hartford (156); the Debra Lee II, captained by Howard Christians of Benton Harbor (154); the Sea Dog, captained by Steve Offerbein of Grand Rapids (152); the Thumbs Up, captained by Laverne Adkin of South Haven (144), and the Torpedo Leo, captained by Jim Hulet of Roseville (142).

The biggest fish caught was a 22-pound chinook taken by the Eagle I, captained by Bob Elkins of South Haven.

Other leaders were a 15-pound, 9-ounce lake trout taken by the Run-N-Late, captained by Charles Peters of Three Rivers; an 8-pound, 8-ounce steelhead caught by the Carol Ann, and a 3-pound, 11-ounce coho landed by the Queen Bee, captained by Andy Meekhoff of Muskegon.

Outdoor Trail

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDE

Four southwestern Michigan lakes have been stocked with walleye fry as part of a continuing Department of Natural Resources program to re-establish populations of the prized game fish in area waters.

Diamond and Magician Lakes in Cass county each received releases of 200,000, Donnell Lake in Cass county and Cedar Lake in Van Buren county were each stocked with 50,000 fry.

Another 90,000 walleyes have also been placed in a rearing pond near the Allegan dam along the Kalamazoo River. Biologists hope to raise the Allegan fish to fingerling size before planting them out.

Diamond is the only southwestern Michigan lake that consistently produces walleyes, but there is no guarantee that the latest releases will add to the fishery there or in other waters.

"It's a big gamble with fry," explains DNR district biologist Dave Johnson. "You either get success or zero. We would prefer to put fingerlings in those places...that's the best way. But our hatcheries don't have the facilities to raise them to that size."

Rearing ponds, such as the one at the Allegan dam, could be the answer until adequate hatchery space becomes available.

If the Allegan 14-acre pond works out, fingerling-size walleyes from it will be divided between the St. Joseph and Kalamazoo Rivers.

Johnson is also working with the St. Joseph Whirlpool Sportsmen's Club in an effort to find a walleye rearing pond along the St. Joseph River.

Bass Season Opens May 29

The largemouth and smallmouth bass season gets underway Saturday statewide, except in the St. Clair and Detroit Rivers and Lake St. Clair.

Top waters in southwestern Michigan, according to the Department of Natural Resources, should include Swan and Miner Lakes in Allegan county; the St. Joseph River in Berrien county; Barron, Diamond, Juno and Painter Lakes in Cass county, and Jeptha, Rush, Muskrat, Christie, Eagle and Bankson Lakes in Van Buren county.

Meanwhile, the DNR says success for pike, muskie and walleye since the May 15 opener has been "fairly low key." The lower Kalamazoo River in Allegan county has been about the best area spot, with live minnows a good bait.

Bluegills are moving onto their beds across southwestern Michigan, with Little Bankson Lake in Van Buren county among top producers. Poppers and spiders have been good baits.

A good trout lake has been Harwood in Cass county. DNR field men say rainbows between 2 and 2½ pounds have been taken while trolling slowly with small "Christmas trees."

Out on Lake Michigan, lake trout are being taken from the surface down to 80 feet while fishing over 70 to 160 feet of water. The tadpolly continues as a good bait, along with flutterspoons.

Many of the salmon are hitting from the surface down to 25 feet while fishing over 30 to 60 feet of water. The tadpolly, small elen, loco and be-no eel lures are producing.

'Big Day' In Berrien Produces 165 Birds

By WALTER BOOTH

How many kinds of birds is it possible to see in one day? Several decades ago some chap with sharp eyes and strong legs discovered he could identify more than 100 species of birds in one day, thus inaugurating the idea among bird-watchers of a big day — a one-day quest for as many species of birds as possible.

Big Days are now held all over the country during the peak of northward migration of songbirds. In the northern states this would be in mid-May. The secret of success is to cover as many types of bird-habitats as possible — swamps, woodlands, beaches, fields, etc.

Quick travel between strategic areas is part of the game. And because some birds are easier to identify by song than by sight, a good ear also helps.

Local ornithologists have been engaging in Big Days for over a decade. This year's participants, led by C. Roy Smith of Berrien Springs, were able to identify 165 species — all in Berrien county — on May 16. The total is the highest ever recorded here in one day and ties the record for the Chicago area.

Included among the areas covered were St. Joseph — Benton Harbor waterfront, Grand Mere, Warren Woods, New Buffalo and Andrews University.

Honors for most unusual birds recorded go to a Little Blue Heron at Benton Harbor and a Yellow-throated Warbler at New Buffalo. These are southern birds which barely get into Michigan. The latter has been recorded dependably in Michigan only along the south branch of the Gallen River.

Parks Ban Alcohol

The Department of Natural Resources has established a "no alcohol" rule at 15 state parks and recreation areas in an effort to control expected large numbers of visitors this summer.

The ban is already in effect on a year-round basis at these state parks: Dodge No. 4, Oakland County; Hoffmaster, south of Muskegon; Holland, Ottawa county; Warren Dunes (except campground), Berrien county; and Brighton (off-road vehicle area only), Livingston county.

Alcoholic beverages are prohibited through June 15 at Hayes State Park near Onsted, Ludington, Mears at Pentwater, Muskegon (Lake Michigan campgrounds only), and Smith Higgins Lake state parks; through June 23 at Rochester-Utica Recreation Area; and through Labor Day at Grand Haven State Park; Island Lake near Brighton; Silver Lake near Mears; and Pinckney Recreation Area (beach and picnic areas at Silver Lake and Half-moon Lake), Livingston County.

ORV Owners Must Register

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Off-road vehicles may be registered beginning this week at any secretary of state field office.

Under Michigan law, an "offthe-road vehicle" (ORV) is any motor driven vehicle capable of cross-country travel without road or trail. This does not include snowmobiles, farm vehicles or road motorcycles.

ORV registration will be in a three-year cycle, similar to snowmobile registration, a secretary of state spokesman said.

First-year registration — which is good for three years — costs $9. The second year, owners register for a two-year period at a cost of $6. And in 1978, one year of registration costs $3.

Fees will be used to construct ORV trails and conduct safety education programs.

WOMAN GETS 2-15

SJ Bandit Given 20-50 Years

A Lansing man was sentenced Monday in Berrien Circuit court to 20 to 50 years in prison for robbing a St. Joseph jewelry store and a Benton township woman got a 2 to 15-year prison sentence for manslaughter.

Sentenced to 20 to 50 years by Judge Julian E. Hughes was Robert Lee Williams, 34, for armed robbery at Green's jewelry store, 315 State street, on Nov. 28. Williams was charged with robbing owner Robert Green at gunpoint of more than $7,000 worth of rings and about $251 cash, all of which was recovered.

Hughes noted Williams had cooperated with the prosecutor's office, and although he called the sentence "severe," he added it was "much shorter than it would have been under other circumstances."

Two co-defendants, Rolanda Carter and Diane Stokes, were previously placed on probation after pleading guilty to unarmed robbery.

Hughes also imposed a 2 to 15-year prison term on Jacqueline Simmons, 28, of 1018 Blossom lane, Benton township, for voluntary manslaughter. Miss Simmons on Oct. 13 shot and killed Leroy Alexander at her apartment.

Miss Simmons, prior to sentencing, maintained the shooting was in self-defense, and Hughes said he had taken that into consideration, along with her good record.

In other sentences by Hughes:

Ricky Norwood, 18, of 375 North Winans street, Benton Harbor, was placed on three years probation, with the first five months in jail, for entering without breaking the residence of Johnny Clay, at 1041 Pavone street, Benton Harbor, on Feb. 6.

Joe W. Porter, 18, of 696 Columbus avenue, Benton Harbor, was also ordered to spend the first five months of a two-year probation in jail for larceny in a building—the theft of 32 cases of pop Feb. 24 from the R.C. Cola warehouse in Benton township.

Darel K. Bankston, 26, of 1331 Country Club drive, Niles township, was placed on five years probation, and assessed $400 fine and costs, for fourth degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly indecent liberties) Sept. 19 with a woman in her 20's in Niles township.

William S. Harper, 21, of Toledo, Ohio, was placed on two years probation and assessed $400 fine and costs for carrying a concealed weapon—a pistol—Sept. 13 in Niles.

Willie G. Humphreys, 34, of Flint, was placed on two years probation and ordered to pay $400 fine and costs for attempted carrying a concealed weapon—a revolver—Feb. 3 in Benton township.

Anthony L. Wallace, 17, of 187 East Britain avenue, Benton Harbor, was sentenced to two years probatinn and assessed $250 fine and costs for larceny in a building—the theft of pens, coupon books, and a coin envelope March 24 from Empire Cleaners in Benton Harbor.

In arraignments before Judge Chester J. Byrns:

Michael G. Jasper, 17, of 2216 Yankee street, Niles, pleaded innocent to a charge of second degree criminal sexual conduct (contact) with an 8-year-old boy March 23 in Niles township.

Warren Legget, 30, of Chicago, pleaded guilty to receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $100—five CB radios—April 21 in Sodus township.

Raymond Freyer, 17, and Byron L. Davis, 18, both of Sand Ridge road, Sawyer, both pleaded innocent to charges of breaking and entering and malicious destruction of property over $100 at Bridgman high school April 25. School officials said vandals caused about $5,000 worth of damage.

David Denton, 18, of 3502 Niles road, Royalton township, pleaded innocent to charges of delivery of marijuana and LSD Feb. 3 in Royalton township and Feb. 11 in St. Joseph township.

James Ray Denton, 17, of the same address, pleaded innocent to charges of delivery of marijuana March 8 in Benton Harbor and delivery of hashish Feb. 2 in Royalton township.

Van Buren 'Pot' Penalty: Prison

PAW PAW — A man who allegedly tried to bring some 710 pounds of marijuana into the state during 1975 was sentenced yesterday in Van Buren circuit court to serve from two to four years in prison.

Judge Meyer Warshawsky imposed the sentence on Richard Castillo, 29, Ennis, Texas, who had pleaded guilty April 29 to a charge of possession of marijuana with intent to deliver.

Castillo's car had been stopped on I-94 near Lawrence on April 5, 1975, by state police at Paw Paw after troopers had received a report that a car containing marijuana was believed headed from Texas to Michigan. Police said some 248 packages, containing about $220,000 worth of the controlled substance, were seized from the trunk.

Also sentenced as a result of earlier guilty pleas were:

Robert D. Griffith, 22, 860 East Vineyard, Benton Harbor, from one to two years in prison on a charge of attempted larceny from a building, a wallet and adding machine from Reinertsen's Texaco, Lawrence, on May 18, 1975.

Kenton L. Pratt, 22, 309 East Arlington, Bangor, 70 days in jail, two years probation, and $100 fine on a charge of passing a no account check for $23 March 7 at the Corner Store, Waverly township. He was also ordered to make restitution for the check.

Diane Tinker, 25, route 2, Paw Paw, 40 days in jail, $200 fine, and two years probation on a charge of attempted delivery of amphetamines in Lawrence during November, 1974.

In an arraignment, Charles L. Colbert, 21, Hartford, pleaded innocent to a charge of first-degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly rape) in connection with a complaint by a 15-year-old Decatur girl that she was attacked April 16.

TO PRISON: Freddie Sills sits at his Florida Memorial College graduation in Miami Monday where he received a standing ovation when he finished with honors. But he's heading back to prison where he's serving a manslaughter sentence., Sills had been in a state study-release program for the college terms but was denied the work-release program after graduation. Twenty-Seven Face Judges

Two men accused of possessing 48 pounds of suspected marijuana valued at an estimated $15,000 demanded preliminary examinations in Berrien Fifth District court Monday.

Jailed under $10,000 bonds after arraignments on charges of possession of marijuna with intent to deliver were Gary B. Lynn, 25, of El Paso, Texas, and John M. Harvel, 26, of Kalamazoo. They were arrested after their auto was stopped by state police of the Benton Harbor post Friday in St. Joseph township. Harvel was also sentenced to three days in jail and fine and costs of $90 or 30 days in jail for driving while license suspended.

Others demanding examinations were:

Gary A. Peek, 17, of 624 Manitou road, St. Joseph township, charged with embezzling stereo equipment valued over $100 from the Belcel Department store, Benton township, March 27. He was released on $1,500 personal recognizance bond.

Charles L. Fitzner, 18, of 1172 Summer court, Benton township, on a charge of unlawful use of an auto May 19 in Benton township. Bond of $1,000 was not posted, and he was jailed.

Daniel L. Gardner, 22, of Johnson road, Coloma, charged with possession of brass knuckles in Coloma township May 22.

Robert Greer, 62, of Gary, Ind., accused of carrying a concealed .38 caliber revolver in Lincoln township May 22. He was jailed under $2,500 bond.

John T. Avery (also known as Arvirse Yurk), 59, of Chicago, on a charge of carrying a concealed pistol May 23 in Coloma township. $2,500 bond was not met.

Bound over to Circuit court was Sanford A. Spears, 18, of 2159 Red Arrow highway, Benton Harbor, charged with receiving and concealing a stolen citizens' band radio valued over $100 in Benton Harbor May 16. He posted $500 bail.

Sentenced were:

Raymond N. Smith, 22, of Westmont, Ill., $100 or 20 days in jail for possession in an auto of a police radio monitor without a permit, and $1,000 or one year in jail for possession of marijuana, May 24 in St. Joseph township. He was sentenced by District Judge Hugh Black. He was not charged for possession of other suspected drugs allegedly found in his auto.

Michael G. Yates, 22, of Green street, South Haven, $45 for assault and battery against Craig Rose April 14 at Rose Die Cast Co., Watervliet township.

Russell P. Wilson, 25, of Royal Oak, $5 for receiving and concealing a stolen bicycle April 14 in Bridgman.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Use of marijuana — James A. Lovell, 17, of 604 West John Beers road, Stevensville; Richard T. Samuelson, 19, of Crawfordsville, Ind.; Robert Workman, 22, of North Judson, Ind., and Jamie M. Hake, 18, of Portage, Ind., each $50.

Driving while license suspended — Daniel Jones, 43, of 291 Walnut, Benton township, three days in jail and $90 or 30 days in jail total; Calvin T. Outlaw, 26, of 558 Bridgman, Benton township, five days in jail, $200, and loss of his license plates for third offense.

Driving while intoxicated — Homer L. Bunch, 39, of Winter Garden, Fla., and Ronald T. Kuzma, 22, of Hammond, Ind., each $152 or 30 days in jail; Johnny H. Hill, 30, of Battle Creek, $102; Tony D. Krasoczkn, 19, of Hobart, Ind., $155 or 30 days in jail; Santiago R. Gallegos, 23, of Brownsville, Texas, $155; Thomas W. Nelson, 28, of Baldwin road, Sawyer, $152.

Impaired driving — Noah A. Sheely, 47, of 811 Iroquois, Niles, and Roy L. Eddings, 26, of Benton township, each $105; David Carruthers, 37, of Ostego, $200.

Two armed robbery charges against Duncan E. Williams, of 170 Bellview street, Benton Harbor, were dismissed yesterday. Although he told police he was 17, he is actually a juvenile, according to the prosecutor's office. Williams and two other Benton Harbor youths were charged in connection with armed robberies of Hazel Rye May 14 and Linda Rosenthal May 15.

Pleading innocent to charges of fleeing police and driving while license revoked was William A. Newton, 24, of 6539 Paw Paw, Coloma. He was released on personal recognizance bonds totaling $2,000.

Stevensville Driver Waives Examination

Marvin H. Guess, charged with negligent homicide in connection with the May 2 death of a bicyclist, waived preliminary examination Monday in Berrien Fifth District court and was bound over to Circuit court.

Guess, 30, of 5203 Lincoln avenue, Stevensville, remained free on $5,000 bond following his court appearance.

According to the warrant, Guess and another man are accused of racing their autos southbound on Cleveland avenue in Baroda township. Guess, in an attempt to keep the other car from passing his auto, swerved across the centerline of the road, the warrant claims.

The other auto allegedly struck and killed John Greathouse, 14, of 8774 Ruggles road, Baroda, according to the warrant. The other driver was identified as Norman W. Lewis, 29, of 1558 West Shawnee road, Baroda, according to the warrant. Lewis has not been charged.

HEAD-ON FATALITY

HASTINGS, Mich. (AP) — A head-on collision along Michigan 37 south of Hastings killed Gary W. Covey, 26, of Springfield.

Apartment Project Outside City Asks Hartford For Water, Sewer

HARTFORD — The Hartford city council disclosed last night that developers of a proposed 48-unit apartment development have asked for access to city water and sewer services for their project although it would be built just outside the city in Hartford township.

The request came in recent days from Hartford real estate broker LaVerne Rice who said he represents investors who want to erect the apartments outside the city limits, to the north and adjacent to Paras Hills subdivision.

According to City Clerk Jewell Story, Rice reportedly said the yet unidentified investors would pay to have sewer and water lines extended to the city limits, thus making them accessible to the proposed apartments.

But the council last night said it wants the request in writing and wants more details on the planned construction before it takes any action.

Approval might include voluntary annexation of the project to the city, several councilmen said.

In other action, the council ordered a study of traffic on Red Arrow highway within the city limits.

The traffic study order came at the request of representatives of the Block Parents association which has been pressing both city and school officials for more safeguards for children who walk to and from school.

A major point of contention has been a state highway department recommendation that the speed limit on Red Arrow highway in the city be boosted from 25 to 35 miles per hour.

The highway divides the community and many elementary children have to cross the busy street in order to get to school.

Also last night, the council voted to keep the city property tax levy for the coming year at 15 mills, the current rate.

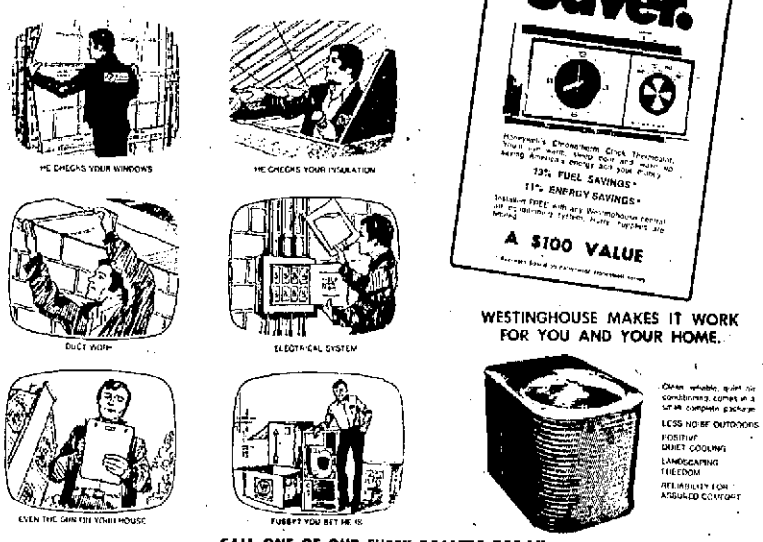

Included are 14 mills for operations, six-tenths of a mill for local streets and two-tenths of a mill each for sidewalks and the city recreation program.

The council voted permission for Joe Hagenbarth of Watervliet to sell ice cream from a truck in the city providing he has insurance and a city license. It also learned that T.A.B. Inc., has nearly completed construction of cable television lines in the city.

Todd Borst, Kalamazoo, representing T.A.B., added, however, that some 100 homes in Hartford won't have access to cable television because some property owners refused to let the firm bury its cable across their property lines.

Covert Listing Young Students

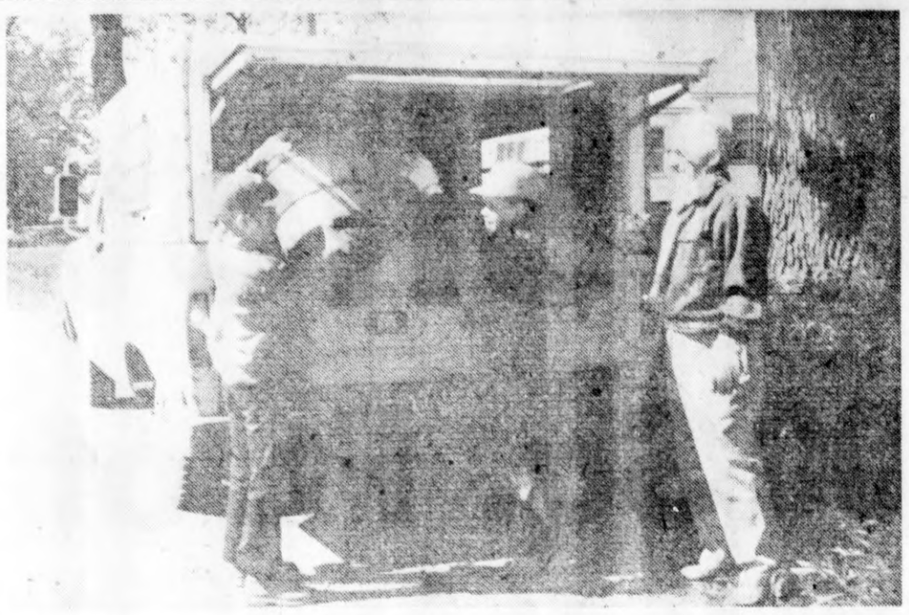

COVERT — The Covert school district is holding a registration for next fall's kindergarten and pre-kindergarten students daily from now through Friday, May 28, the school has announced.

To begin kindergarten next fall, a child must be five years old before Dec. 1, and to begin pre-kindergarten classes, a child must be four before Dec. 1.

A birth certificate and proof of immunization are required before a child begins classes, the school said.

Block Parent Group Forms In Hartford

HARTFORD — A Block Parent organization has formed in Hartford, according to Mrs. Joyce Empson, chairman of the organizing committee. She said that by the start of school next fall, the group plans to have a marked house on every block. An adult will be available at each house to come to the aid of any child in a threatening situation, she said.

Casco Man Seeks Return To Office

ALLEGAN — Vernon Sill, Republican incumbent Allegan county commissioner from district one, has announced he will seek re-election to the seat he has held since 1969.

Sill, 51, a Casco township fruit and vegetable grower, faces a GOP primary battle in August. Carlton Woodhams of Pullman has already announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination for the seat. The district includes Cheshire, Lee and Casco townships.

Sill was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the late Earl Osman in 1969. He was first elected to his present seat in 1970, and re-elected in 1972 and 1974.

Currently, Sill serves on the Allegan county Key Mens' committee, which consists of representatives from seven southwestern Michigan counties. He is a member of the county parks and recreation board, mental health board, Manpower committee, finance committee, and is vice chairman of the county board of commissioners.

Sill has previously served as a member of the Casco township board of review and a 4-H leader. As a Farm Bureau member, Sill has also worked with the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing association (MACMA) cherry division.

He is currently chairman of the board of trustees of Casco Methodist church.

Sill and his wife, Esther, along with two of their sons, reside on their farm, 68th avenue, Casco township. They also have two other children.

Paw Paw Schedule Approved

PAW PAW — The Paw Paw Education association and school board have both ratified an agreement setting up next year's school calendar, according to Supt. Norval Bovee.

Bovee said the calendar calls for 187 working days for teachers, including 180 full days of instruction. Teachers will report for an orientation day Aug. 26, with classes beginning Aug. 30. Classes will end on June 9, 1977 for students and June 10 for teachers.

Christmas vacation has been set for Dec. 20-31, and spring vacation from April 4-8, 1977.

Bovee also said that under the agreement, sixth grade teachers will have the same working hours as seventh and eighth grade teachers. Sixth grade teachers had been on the same schedule as K-5 instructors.

Bovee said the calendar is set yearly as part of a three-year master contract with the teachers which expires on Aug. 15, 1977.

POSTAL CUTBACK LOOMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospect of a cutback in mail service appears to be growing as sentiment hardens in Congress against pumping large new federal subsidies into the financially ailing Postal Service.

Three Pine Grove Officers Retiring

GOBLES — At least three Pine Grove township officials will not be seeking re-election this year.

Supervisor Marshall Howrigan, Clerk Henry Van Eeuwen and Treasurer Robert Richards have said they will be stepping down from their elected posts.

Howrigan, 37, has served since June, 1974. Van Eeuwen, 36, won a four-year trustee term in November, 1974, and was appointed to the clerk's position in December, 1975. He announced his resignation from the post earlier this month.

Richards, 52, is completing his eighth year as township treasurer.

Candidates for election to the township offices must file nominating petitions with the township clerk by June 1.

South Haven Seeks U.S. Grant

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — The preparation of the final application for a federal community development block grant was authorized by the South Haven city council last night.

Council gave approval to seek $286,500 from the federal government for public works, code enforcement and housing rehabilitation projects on the city's southwest side.

Council approved the issue by a 6-0 vote. A motion at a special meeting last week not to file the application ended in a 3-3 deadlock, causing it to be placed on the agenda again.

In favor last night were Mayor Richard Lewis and Aldermen Matthew Goerg, Wilbur Ingrham, Ronald Kozlik, Robert Warren and Joseph Seiler. Councilman Norvan Books was absent.

Councilmen who voted against the application last week had expressed concern over possible federal government regulations pertaining to the eligibility of property owners needing financial assistance for housing rehabilitation.

Alderman Warren noted that he visited Berrien Springs this past weekend and talked with officials who are concluding their first year of a similar program. He concluded that local officials retained control of their program without federal government interference.

Mayor Lewis concurred, noting that "this is something that we are not going into blindly. If we can write our own script then we can't go wrong."

In other matters, council approved $1,262,315 budget for fiscal 1976-77. The budget is only 1.1 per cent higher than the current year's budget and can be accomplished by the same millage levy of 15.61 mills per thousand dollars of state equalized value.

Council also accepted a five-year capital improvement program projected to cost $1,279,750.

Among projects scheduled for fiscal 1976-77 are downtown beautification, $75,000; improvement of Black river property, $80,500; additional boat slips along city-owned riverfront property, $85,000; demolition of the city's old power plant, $60,000; land acquisition for a future fire station, $15,000; purchase of former railroad station for community activity center, $25,000; airport improvements, $25,000 street construction, $65,000.

Among major projects projected for the future are construction of both a new police and fire station.

Council accepted the low bid of Newell Sanitation of Covert to pickup trash at the marina and city beaches this summer for $198 a month. The price from the firm is estimated to save city nearly $2,200 that would have been spent on overtime for street department crews that previously conducted the pickup.

Council by 4-2 vote accepted $5,928 bid of Telford & Doolen, Inc. of Grand Rapids for a leaf loader. Councilmen Seiler and Kozlik voted no because only one bid had been submitted for equipment.

A request from Abe Ashen of South Haven that he be allowed to rent the former north beach concession stand for an amusement arcade was tabled until the next meeting.

Council expressed its appreciation to the wives of the city's firemen for their devotion and service to their husbands' duties. Councilmen Ingrham introduced the idea after observing the wife of a firemen serving refreshments to the fire fighters at a late night blaze last week.

Residents were asked not to place grass clippings in the gutters. Street crews are conducting a special spring pickup this week.

Council approved several reappointments to commissions and boards. Appointees and their terms of office are: board of public works, Douglas Wattrick, 1981; zoning board of appeals, William J. Brown, 1979; housing board of appeals, Joseph Nook and Ruth Kowieski, 1978; housing commission, Paul Frazier, 1981; Liberty Hyde Bailey board, Mrs. James Dissette, 1980; library board, Mrs. Dale Brown, 1980; and construction board of appeals, James Faux, 1981.

Mayor Lewis noted there is a vacancy on the planning commission as Robert Putman did not wish to be reappointed. Lewis invited interested citizens to contact him.

First In, First Out

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — State Sen. John Otterbacher, the first Democrat to announce his candidacy for the U.S. Senate this year, became the first to bow out of the race Monday. "Let them slug it out," said Otterbacher, 33, of the three major contenders left in the Democratic contest. Finances were the major problem for the freshman state senator from Grand Rapids. Otterbacher said he raised about $20,000 and spent nearly $40,000 during his 10-month campaign. He said he needed at least $125,000 in contributions to do "a winning job." Otterbacher's withdrawal leaves Michigan Secretary of State Richard Austin and Congressmen Donald Riegle of Flint and James O'Hara of Utica as the major contenders for the party's Senate nomination.

Covert Readies 4-Day Bicentennial Celebration

COVERT — A variety of events will be held here over the four-day Memorial Day weekend, Friday through Monday, May 28-31, when Covert township holds its Bicentennial celebration.

Highlighting the program will be dedication ceremonies Sunday, May 30, to mark the Covert township library building as a Michigan Historical site. An official plaque will be presented to the library board at 3:30 p.m. Then a Bicentennial park will also be dedicated near the library.

On Saturday, May 29, a festival parade through downtown Covert, featuring the Covert junior high band, floats, decorated bicycles, motorcycles, pets, scouts, horses, and Miss Covert of 1976, will begin at 10 a.m.

In addition to special events, there will be a museum display of early Covert, exhibit halls, an outdoor art show, and demonstrations of butter churning, curtain stretching, candle dipping, quilting and other occupations. The demonstrations and exhibits will be in store fronts, the fire station and the Van Buren civic center.

Here's a day-by-day schedule of events with times:

Friday

7:30 p.m. — Festival kickoff outside the township hall.

8:30 p.m. — Free outdoor movies in the Bicentennial tent in downtown Covert.

Saturday

10 a.m. — Festival parade.

10 a.m. to 6 p.m. — Museum and exhibit halls open to the public.

Noon to 2 p.m. — Daily demonstrations.

2 p.m.and 7:30 p.m. — Chautauqua shows in the Bicentennial tent. Chautauqua is a reinactment of early road shows. $1 for adults, 50 cents for children.

SUNDAY

10 a.m. to 6 p.m. — Museum and exhibit halls open.

1 to 3 p.m. — Daily demonstrations.

3:30 p.m. — Dedication program at library and park.

4 p.m. — Historical trail bus rides through township. Begin at Bicentennial tent, terminate at Van Buren Civic center. Fare is 25 cents and children must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

5 p.m. — Food festival featuring various food dishes representing all states at the civic center.

MONDAY

Morning — Township Memorial Day observance.

10 a.m. to 6 p.m. — Museum and exhibit halls open.

1 to 3 p.m. — Daily demonstrations.

4 p.m. — Free movies at civic center.

African Foes Trade By Rail

'Sealed' Border Proves Leaky

By JOHN EDLIN
Associated Press Writer

VICTORIA FALLS, Rhodesia (AP) — Two or three times a day, vacationers lounging under the trees in this resort town see a strange sight on the railroad bridge over the Zambezi River.

As troops on both the Rhodesian and Zambian banks of the river look on, freight cars are pushed from one side to a white line in the center of the bridge. There a locomotive from the opposite side hooks on and hauls them off. By mutual agreement the locomotives never cross the white line, which marks the border between Rhodesia and Zambia, nations hostile to each other.

Officially, the border between white-governed Rhodesia and the black independent state of Zambia has been sealed for three-years — initially, by Prime Minister Ian Smith of Rhodesia to protest black nationalist guerrilla incursions, and later by President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia to shear all ties with this breakaway British colony.

But freight cars crammed with a wide range of cargo continue to cross the bridge, 200 feet above the Zambezi River, and every few months both Zambian and Rhodesian transport officials meet to ensure that the traffic continues to flow freely.

"We call them the ghost trains of the Zambezi," a railman in this far northwestern town said. "That's because they're not supposed to exist."

However, examinations of the freight manifests on cars at the rail siding here indicate that all the cargo is hauled between the former Belgian colony of Zaire — Zambia's northern neighbor — and South Africa which is south of Rhodesia.

Fuel and machinery for the multibillion dollar mining inudstry in the Zairian province of Shaba — formerly Katanga — is freighted through Zambia along with foodstuffs.

According to the Rhodesian transport minister, Roger Hawkins, all of Zaire's copper output is channeled out on returning freight cars for shipment from South African ports. Zaire's dependence on a transport artery controlled by the white minority government of Rhodesia is a source of embarrassment to Zaire's government.

But Rhodesian officials in Salisbury point out that since the Angolan civil war, when Zaire supported the Western — aligned factions that were defeated by the Soviet-backed Popular Liberation Movement — MPLA — the Benguela Railroad to the Atlantic Ocean has been unable to cope with traffic traditionally fed out from the Shaba mines.

The Zambian government has repeatedly denied that cargo from South Africa is unloaded in Zambia en route to Zaire.

But former railmen from Zambia now working on the Rhodesian system have claimed that coal from the Rhodesian mine of Wankie is dumped in copper-mining towns before reaching Shaba.

Parrots Are New Bootleg Item

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — What do you say to a naked Mexican swimming across the Rio Grande while pulling a raft full of parrots?

Customs agents told him he was under arrest — one more in a recent rash of parrot smugglers.

"Pound for pound there's more money in parrots than marijuana," says Senior Special Agent Duke Reeves of U.S. Customs.

Federal customs inspectors on the Mexican border are finding drunken parakeets concealed in car doors, under dashboards and even between the springs of rear seat back rests. Ingenious bird runners always have new hiding places.

Reeves says the birds are usually fed eye droppers full of whiskey, to keep them quiet (unlike humans, birds apparently aren't prone to singing while drunk), and carefully wrapped in stockings or other soft material to prevent feather damage during transportation.

A Scarlet Macaw that costs $150 south of the border brings $700 from American bird lovers. Double Yellowheads, Spectacled Amazons and Redheads can be purchased for $12 to $25 in Mexico and sold for $175 to $350 on the U.S. pet market.

Customs' biggest bird haul was made in 1973 when agents arrested a couple in Fabens, Tex., who had a planeload of 1,500 parrots valued at $177,000.

Most smugglers use cars and pickup trucks. Between October and December last year, customs men seized 677 parrots and arrested 22 smugglers at regular border crossing points in California and Texas.

The feathered contraband was either sniffed out by U.S. Customs dogs or given away by a telltale squawk from a hungover parrot that woke up at the wrong time, while an inspector was examining the vehicle.

DEALER JOSEPH GRIFFITH AND PARROT
Birds Are Worth Plenty

Big or small, each smuggling case is treated seriously by federal authorities. Parrots are no laughing matter to the nation's $6 billion poultry industry because they can carry Exotic Newcastle Disease, which has repeatedly devastated flocks in the Southwest since 1970.

Eight Southern California counties suffered the worst epidemic of Newcastle in 1972. It led to the destruction of 12 million chickens and turkeys in an emergency eradication program that cost U.S. taxpayers $52 million.

Parrots can also infect humans with psitticosis, or parrot fever. Young children and elderly people are particularly susceptible to its flu-like symptoms, which can sometimes be fatal.

"The only way for these diseases to enter the United States is through imported birds that avoid quarantine," says Dr. Ralph Holte of the state Agriculture Department. "One parrot is enough to start a disastrous epidemic."

Legally imported birds have to go through a one to threemonth quarantine at stations licensed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is an expensive process that accounts for the big price markup between point of origin and pet store.

Eight of the nation's 22 bird quarantine stations are located in the Los Angeles area, which also attracts smugglers because Southern California is a major bird buying center.

"A lot of smuggling is going on, and it's increased the risk for legitimate bird dealers," says Joseph Griffith, owner of the Ornis Quarantine Station in El Segundo. "When risk goes up, prices go up.

"I deal in lots of 4,000 to 6,000 birds, an investment of $20,000 to $30,000. If one bird is diseased the entire lot is destroyed, and I go broke. For that reason I won't touch a bird that I haven't imported myself, unless some buyer wants to buy my station for a month."

Large quarantine stations like Ornis and Pacific Bird usually won't handle another importer's birds unless he posts a $60,000 to $70,000 bond. Small parrot dealers can't afford this on top of the $125-a-day quarantine fee, thus providing a market for smugglers.

Parrot smugglers who get caught face a maximum penalty of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine. Their birds are always destroyed.

Reef Lights Use Solar Power

By DAVID POWELL
Associated Press Writer

CARYSFORT LIGHT, Fla. (AP) — The sunshine that by day toasts mariners plying the Florida Straits soon will aid them at night, powering lights that warn them of 200 miles of coral reefs between Miami and Key West. Atop this 110-foot light seven miles into the Atlantic off Key Largo, the Coast Guard is refining a system that converts sunlight into electricity — fueling a lamp mariners can see for 15 miles.

FINE-TUNING: George Matrigali works on solar panel that powers 110-foot Carysfort Reef lighthouse in the Florida Straits. Coast Guard plans to use solar panels to power major lights this summer. (AP Wirephoto)

"This is about as simple a system as we're going to come by," said George Matrigali, a civilian Coast Guard engineer who built the solar unit from similar devices used on offshore oil rigs.

While local Coast Guard officials say the project is not unique — similar devices power small buoys off Massachusetts and the West Coast — it is part of a growing trend to use natural energy in Coast Guard operations. Matrigali's system gathers sunlight through a bank of solar collection cells that transform the energy into electricity. The electric charge then is funneled into batteries which, in turn, power the lamp.

Officials say the ultimate goals of the system are to save money and to increase the reliablity of the reef lights, six towering beacons which point the way for ships steaming the passage between the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico. The lights were built in the 19th century to mark the shallow, vividly colorful reefs along the Keys. The resident operators who once tended the lights are gone now, but marine life still gathers around them.

Sometime this summer, 50 small buoys in Florida waters will be equipped with solar units. And officials say plans are on the boards to build a complete Coast Guard base in Fort Myers which will use solar energy for everything from heating water to running the air-conditioners.

But sun power is not the only natural energy with which the Coast Guard is experimenting. Matrigali devised a wind-powered system for the reef light on Fowey Rocks, off Miami.

The godfather of the solar and wind systems is Lt. Cmdr. John R. Wells, head of the civil engineering branch in Miami for the Coast Guard district stretching from Charleston, S.C., to Florida.

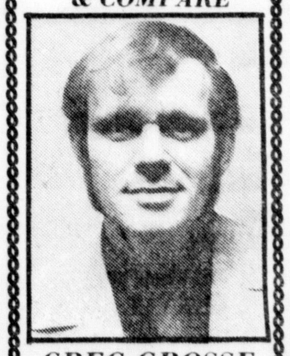

Ray Fires One Of His Lawyers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, who pleaded guilty to the slaying of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has fired another of his attorneys.

Attorney Bernard Fensterwald of Washington filed a motion with the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati on Monday asking to be dismissed from the case. The motion said Ray had fired him by letter.

Covert Listing Young Students

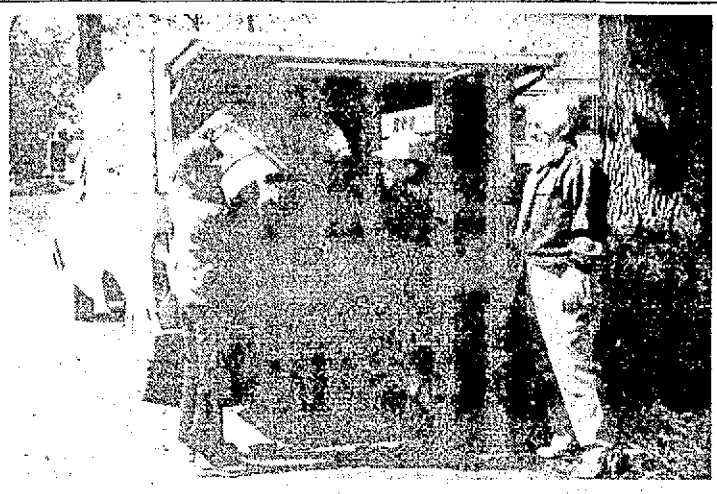

COVERT — The Covert school district is holding a registration for next fall's kindergarten and pre-kindergarten students daily from now through Friday, May 28, the school has announced.

To begin kindergarten next fall, a child must be five years old before Dec. 1, and to begin pre-kindergarten classes, a child must be four before Dec. 1.

A birth certificate and proof of immunization are required before a child begins classes, the school said.

Block Parent Group Forms In Hartford

HARTFORD — A Block Parent organization has formed in Hartford, according to Mrs. Joyce Empson, chairman of the organizing committee. She said that by the start of school next fall, the group plans to have a marked house on every block. An adult will be available at each house to come to the aid of any child in a threatening situation, she said.

Casco Man Seeks Return To Office

ALLEGAN — Vernon Sill, Republican incumbent Allegan county commissioner from district one, has announced he will seek re-election to the seat he has held since 1969.

Sill, 51, a Casco township fruit and vegetable grower, faces a GOP primary battle in August. Carlton Woodhams of Pullman has already announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination for the seat. The district includes Cheshire, Lee and Casco townships.

Sill was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the late Earl Osman in 1969. He was first elected to his present seat in 1970, and re-elected in 1972 and 1974.

Currently, Sill serves on the Allegan county Key Mens' committee, which consists of representatives from seven southwestern Michigan counties. Paw Paw Schedule Approved

PAW PAW — The Paw Paw Education association and school board have both ratified an agreement setting up next year's school calendar, according to Supt. Norval Bovee.

Bovee said the calendar calls for 187 working days for teachers, including 180 full days of instruction. Teachers will report for an orientation day Aug. 26, with classes beginning Aug. 30. Classes will end on June 9, 1977 for students and June 10 for teachers.

Christmas vacation has been set for Dec. 20-31, and spring vacation from April 4-8, 1977.

Bovee also said that under the agreement, sixth grade teachers will have the same working hours as seventh and eighth grade teachers. Sixth grade teachers had been on the same schedule as K-5 instructors.

Bovee said the calendar is set yearly as part of a three-year master contract with the teachers which expires on Aug. 15, 1977.

Howrigan, 37, has served since June, 1974. Van Eeuwen, 36, won a four-year trustee term in November, 1974, and was appointed to the clerk's position in December, 1975. He announced his resignation from the post earlier this month.

Richards, 52, is completing his eighth year as township treasurer.

Candidates for election to the township offices must file nominating petitions with the township clerk by June 1.

South Haven Seeks U.S. Grant

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — The preparation of the final application for a federal community development block grant was authorized by the South Haven city council last night.

Council gave approval to seek $286,500 from the federal government for public works, code enforcement and housing rehabilitation projects on the city's southwest side.

Council approved the issue by a 5-0 vote. A motion at a special meeting last week not to file the application ended in a 3-3 deadlock, causing it to be placed on the agenda again.

In favor last night were Mayor Richard Lewis and Aldermen Matthew Guerg, Wilbur Ingrham, Ronald Kozlik, Robert Warren and Joseph Seiler. Councilman Norvan Banks was absent.

Councilmen who voted against the application last week had expressed concern over possible federal government regulations pertaining to the eligibility of property owners needing financial assistance for housing rehabilitation.

Alderman Warren noted that he visited Berrien Springs this past weekend and talked with officials who are concluding their first year of a similar program. He concluded that local officials retained control of their program without federal government interference.

Mayor Lewis concurred, noting that "this is something that we are not going into blindly. If we can write our own script then we can't go wrong."

In other matters, council approved $1,262,315 budget for fiscal 1976-77. The budget is only 1.1 per cent higher than the current year's budget and can be accomplished by the same millage levy of 15.61 mills per thousand dollars of state equalized value.

Council also accepted a five-year capital improvement program projected to cost $1,279,750.

Among projects scheduled for fiscal 1976-77 are downtown beautification, $75,0000; improvement of Black river property, $80,500; additional boat slips along city-owned riverfront property, $85,000; demolition of the city's old power plant, $60,000; land acquisition for a future fire station, $15,000; purchase of former railroad station for community activity center, $25,000; airport improvements, $25,000 street construction, $65,000.

Among major projects projected for the future are construction of both a new police and fire station.

Council accepted the low bid of Newell Sanitation of Covert to pickup trash at the marina and city beaches this summer for $198 a month. The price from the firm is estimated to save city nearly $2,200 that would have been spent on overtime for street department crews that previously conducted the pickup.

Council by 4-2 vote accepted $5,928 bid of Telford & Doolen, Inc. of Grand Rapids for a leaf loader. Councilmen Seiler and Kozlik voted no because only one bid had been submitted for equipment.

A request from Abe Ashen of South Haven that he be allowed to rent the former north beach concession stand for an amusement arcade was tabled until the next meeting.

Council expressed its appreciation to the wives of the city's firemen for their devotion and service to their husbands' duties. Councilmen Ingrham introduced the idea after observing the wife of a firemen serving refreshments to the fire fighters at a late night blaze last week.

Residents were asked not to place grass clippings in the gutters. Street crews are conducting a special spring pickup this week.

Council approved several reappointments to commissions and boards. Appointees and their terms of office are: board of public works, Douglas Waltrick, 1981; zoning board of appeals, William J. Brown, 1979; housing board of appeals, Joseph Nook and Ruth Kowieski, 1978; housing commission, Paul Frazier, 1981; Liberty Hyde Bailey board, Mrs. James Dissette, 1980; library board, Mrs. Dale Brown, 1980; and construction board of appeals, James Faux, 1981.

Mayor Lewis noted there is a vacancy on the planning commission as Robert Putman did not wish to be reappointed. Lewis invited interested citizens to contact him.

First In, First Out

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — State Sen. John Otterbacher, the first Democrat to announce his candidacy for the U.S. Senate this year, became the first to bow out of the race Monday. "Let them slug it out," said Otterbacher, 39, of the three major contenders left in the Democratic contest. Finances were the major problem for the freshman state senator from Grand Rapids. Otterbacher said he raised about $20,000 and spent nearly $40,000 during his 10-month campaign. He said he needed at least $125,000 in contributions to do "a winning job." Otterbacher's withdrawal leaves Michigan Secretary of State Richard Austin and Congressmen Donald Riegle of Flint and James O'Hara of Utica as the major contenders for the party's Senate nomination.

Covert Readies 4-Day Bicentennial Celebration

COVERT — A variety of events will be held here over the four-day Memorial Day weekend, Friday through Monday, May 28-31, when Covert township holds its Bicentennial celebration.

Highlighting the program will be dedication ceremonies Sunday, May 30, to mark the Covert township library building as a Michigan Historical site. An official plaque will be presented to the library board at 3:30 p.m. Then a Bicentennial park will also be dedicated near the library.

On Saturday, May 29, a festival parade through downtown Covert, featuring the Covert junior high band, floats, decorated bicycles, motorcycles, pets, scouts, horses, and Miss Covert of 1976, will begin at 10 a.m.

In addition to special events, there will be a museum display of early Covert, exhibit halls, an outdoor art show, and demonstrations of butter churning, curtain stretching, candle dipping, quilting and other occupations. The demonstrations and exhibits will be in store fronts, the fire station and the Van Buren civic center.

Here's a day-by-day schedule of events with times:

Friday

7:30 p.m. — Festival kickoff outside the township hall.

8:30 p.m. — Free outdoor movies in the Bicentennial tent in downtown Covert.

Saturday

10 a.m. — Festival parade.

10 a.m. to 6 p.m. — Museum and exhibit halls open to the public.

Noon to 2 p.m. — Daily demonstrations.

2 p.m.and 7:30 p.m. — Chautauqua shows in the Bicentennial tent. Chautauqua is a reinactment of early road shows. $1 for adults, 50 cents for children.

SUNDAY

10 a.m. to 6 p.m. — Museum and exhibit halls open.

1 to 3 p.m. — Daily demonstrations.

3:30 p.m. — Dedication program at library and park.

4 p.m. — Historical trail bus rides through township. Begin at Bicentennial tent, terminate at Van Buren Civic center. Fare is 25 cents and children must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

5 p.m. — Food festival featuring various food dishes representing all states at the civic center.

MONDAY

Morning — Township Memorial Day observance.

10 a.m. to 6 p.m. — Museum and exhibit halls open.

1 to 3 p.m. — Daily demonstrations.

4 p.m. — Free movies at civic center.

Candidates Differ On Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Three Democratic presidential hopefuls favor increasing U.S. foreign aid, but President Ford thinks domestic opinion wouldn't allow it and Ronald Reagan prefers private investment, according to a survey released today by the U.N. Association of the United States. Democrats Jimmy Carter, Rep. Morris K. Udall and Sen. Frank Church endorsed more aid. Gov. George Wallace said the aid goal set by the United Nations — 0.7 per cent of a nation's gross national product — was too high. California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., a late entry in the Democratic presidential nomination race, and former California Gov. Reagan did not respond to the association's questionnaire.

African Foes Trade By Rail

'Sealed' Border Proves Leaky

By JOHN EDLIN
Associated Press Writer

VICTORIA FALLS, Rhodesia (AP) — Two or three times a day, vacationers lounging under the trees in this resort town see a strange sight on the railroad bridge over the Zambezi River.

As troops on both the Rhodesian and Zambian banks of the river look on, freight cars are pushed from one side to a white line in the center of the bridge. There a locomotive from the opposite side hooks on and hauls them off. By mutual agreement the locomotives never cross the white line, which marks the border between Rhodesia and Zambia, nations hostile to each other.

Officially, the border between white-governed Rhodesia and the black independent state of Zambia has been sealed for three years — initially, by Prime Minister Ian Smith of Rhodesia to protest black nationalist guerrilla incursions, and later by President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia to shear all ties with this breakaway British colony.

But freight cars crammed with a wide range of cargo continue to cross the bridge, 200 feet above the Zambezi River, and every few months both Zambian and Rhodesian transport officials meet to ensure that the traffic continues to flow freely.

"We call them the ghost trains of the Zambezi," a railman in this far northwestern town said. "That's because they're not supposed to exist."

However, examinations of the freight manifests on cars at the rail siding here indicate that all the cargo is hauled between the former Belgian colony of Zaire — Zambia's northern neighbor — and South Africa which is south of Rhodesia.

Fuel and machinery for the multibillion dollar mining industry in the Zairian province of Shaba — formerly Katanga — is freighted through Zambia along with foodstuffs.

According to the Rhodesian transport minister, Roger Hawkins, all of Zaire's copper output is channeled out on returning freight cars for shipment from South African ports. Zaire's dependence on a transport artery controlled by the white minority government of Rhodesia is a source of embarrassment to Zaire's government.

But Rhodesian officials in Salisbury point out that since the Angolan civil war, when Zaire supported the Western — aligned factions that were defeated by the Soviet-backed Popular Liberation Movement — MPLA — the Benguela Railroad to the Atlantic Ocean has been unable to cope with traffic traditionally fed out from the Shaba mines.

The Zambian government has repeatedly denied that cargo from South Africa is unloaded in Zambia en route to Zaire.

But former railmen from Zambia now working on the Rhodesian system have claimed that coal from the Rhodesian mine of Wankie is dumped in copper-mining towns before reaching Shaba.

Parrots Are New Bootleg Item

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — What do you say to a naked Mexican swimming across the Rio Grande while pulling a raft full of parrots?

Customs agents told him he was under arrest — one more in a recent rash of parrot smugglers.

"Pound for pound there's more money in parrots than marijuana," says Senior Special Agent Duke Reeves of U.S. Customs.

Federal customs inspectors on the Mexican border are finding drunken parakeets concealed in car doors, under dashboards and even between the springs of rear seat back rests. Ingenious bird runners always have new hiding places.

Reeves says the birds are usually fed eye droppers full of whiskey, to keep them quiet (unlike humans, birds apparently aren't prone to singing while drunk), and carefully wrapped in stockings or other soft material to prevent feather damage during transportation.

A Scarlet Macaw that costs $150 south of the border brings $700 from American bird lovers. Double Yellowheads, Spectacled Amazons and Redheads can be purchased for $12 to $25 in Mexico and sold for $175 to $350 on the U.S. pet market.

Customs' biggest bird haul was made in 1973 when agents arrested a couple in Fabens, Tex., who had a planeload of 1,500 parrots valued at $177,000.

Most smugglers use cars and pickup trucks. Between October and December last year, customs men seized 677 parrots and arrested 22 smugglers at regular border crossing points in California and Texas.

The feathered contraband was either sniffed out by U.S. Customs dogs or given away by a telltale squawk from a hungover parrot that woke up at the wrong time, while an inspector was examining the vehicle.

DEALER JOSEPH GRIFFITH AND PARROT
Birds Are Worth Plenty

Big or small, each smuggling case is treated seriously by federal authorities. Parrots are no laughing matter to the nation's $6 billion poultry industry because they can carry Exotic Newcastle Disease, which has repeatedly devastated flocks in the Southwest since 1970.

Eight Southern California counties suffered the worst epidemic of Newcastle in 1972. It led to the destruction of 12 million chickens and turkeys in an emergency eradication program that cost U.S. taxpayers $52 million.

Parrots can also infect humans with psitticosis, or parrot fever. Young children and elderly people are particularly susceptible to its flu-like symptoms, which can sometimes be fatal.

"The only way for these diseases to enter the United States is through imported birds that avoid quarantine," says Dr. Ralph Holte of the state Agriculture Department. "One parrot is enough to start a disastrous epidemic."

Legally imported birds have to go through a one to threemonth quarantine at stations licensed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is an expensive process that accounts for the big price markup between point of origin and pet store.

Eight of the nation's 22 bird quarantine stations are located in the Los Angeles area, which also attracts smugglers because Southern California is a major bird buying center.

"A lot of smuggling is going on, and it's increased the risk for legitimate bird dealers," says Joseph Griffith, owner of the Ornis Quarantine Station in El Segundo. "When risk goes up, prices go up.

"I deal in lots of 4,000 to 6,000 birds, an investment of $20,000 to $30,000. If one bird is diseased the entire lot is destroyed, and I go broke. For that reason I won't touch a bird that I haven't imported myself, unless some buyer wants to buy my station for a month."

Large quarantine stations like Ornis and Pacific Bird usually won't handle another importer's birds unless he posts a $80,000 to $70,000 bond. Small parrot dealers can't afford this on top of the $125-a-day quarantine fee, thus providing a market for smugglers.

Parrot smugglers who get caught face a maximum penalty of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine. Their birds are always destroyed.

Twenty Honored At SMC

DOWAGIAC — Twenty southwestern Michigan resident who graduated from Southwestern Michigan college here this month have been named to the president's or dean's honors list.

Mary E. Broekhuizen, Decatur, and Maureen P. Pagan, Niles, were named to the president's list for maintaining perfect 4.0 grade point averages throughout their careers at SMC.

Other graduates maintained 3.5 or higher grade point averages and were named to the dean's list. They were Joan Durm, Barbara Grant, Laura Clark, Johnny Hunt, Ann Forsgren, and James Schuyler, all of Niles; Jamy Courtney, Katherine Spencer, Debra Garrelts, Duane Hall and John Symunds, all of Dowagiac; Susan K. Brown, William Strand and John Stanley, all of Edwardsburg;

Rhonda Avery, Stevensville; Dora Federowski, Vandalia; Karla Janing, Marcellus and Nancy Thomas, Bangor.

Ray Fires One Of His Lawyers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, who pleaded guilty to the slaying of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has fired another of his attorneys.

Attorney Bernard Fensterwald of Washington filed a motion with the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati on Monday asking to be dismissed from the case. The motion said Ray had fired him by letter.

Reef Lights Use Solar Power

By DAVID POWELL
Associated Press Writer

CARYSFORT LIGHT, Fla. (AP) — The sunshine that by day toasts mariners plying the Florida Straits soon will aid them at night, powering lights that warn them of 200 miles of coral reefs between Miami and Key West. Atop this 110-foot light seven miles into the Atlantic off Key Largo, the Coast Guard is refining a system that converts sunlight into electricity — fueling a lamp mariners can see for 15 miles.

"This is about as simple a system as we're going to come by," said George Matrigall, a civilian Coast Guard engineer who built the solar unit from similar devices used on offshore oil rigs.

While local Coast Guard officials say the project is not unique — similar devices power small buoys off Massachusetts and the West Coast — it is part of a growing trend to use natural energy in Coast Guard operations. Matrigall's system gathers sunlight through a bank of solar collection cells that transform the energy into electricity. The electric charge then is funneled into batteries which, in turn, power the lamp.

Officials say the ultimate goals of the system are to save money and to increase the reliability of the reef lights, six towering beacons which point the way for ships steaming the passage between the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico. The lights were built in the 19th century to mark the shallow, vividly colorful reefs along the Keys. The resident operators who once tended the lights are gone now, but marine life still gathers around them.

Sometime this summer, 50 small buoys in Florida waters will be equipped with solar units. And officials say plans are on the boards to build a complete Coast Guard base in Fort Myers which will use solar energy for everything from heating water to running the air-conditioners.

But sun power is not the only natural energy with which the Coast Guard is experimenting. Matrigali devised a wind-powered system for the reef light on Fowey Rocks, off Miami.

The godfather of the solar and wind systems is Lt. Cmdr. John R. Wells, head of the civil engineering branch in Miami for the Coast Guard district stretching from Charleston, S.C., to Florida.

FINE-TUNING: George Matrigali works on solar panel that powers 110-foot Carysfort Reef lighthouse in the Florida Straits. Coast Guard plans to use solar panels to power major lights this summer. (AP Wirephoto)

College Construction

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Community College will begin construction later this year on a campus in downtown Detroit, school officials say. Officials announced Monday the plans to build the campus straddling the John Lodge Freeway at the old Union Station site. The new complex is estimated to cost $16 million and will be funded from construction bonds. It is expected to open in late 1978. The campus is one five major centers planned by the college.

Trustees Want Social Security Taxes Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP) — American workers must begin paying higher Social Security taxes in order to guarantee that the system can continue paying benefits into the 1980s, program trustees say.

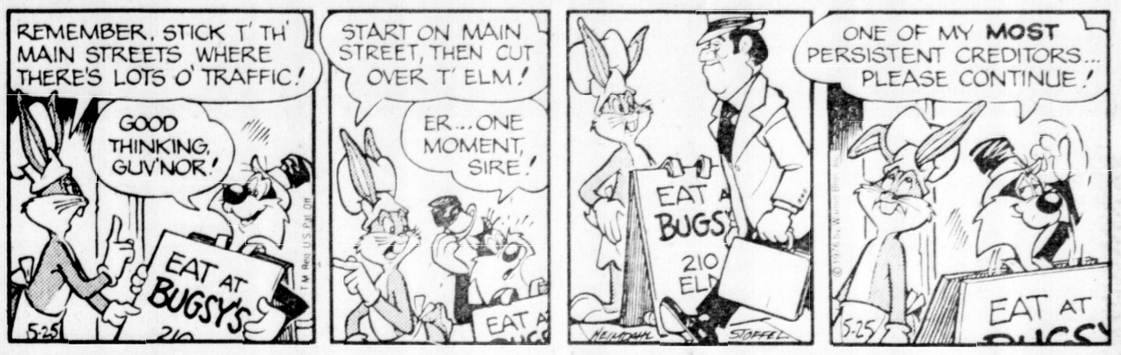

Congress so far has refused Ford Administration efforts to raise Social Security taxes deducted from workers' paychecks.

Calling for a tax increase to eliminate short-term deficits, the trustees also said threats to the system's solvency after the year 2000 are more serious than had been thought, unless the present law is changed.

Candidates Differ On Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Three Democratic presidential hopefuls favor increasing U.S. foreign aid, but President Ford thinks domestic opinion wouldn't allow it and Ronald Reagan prefers private investment, according to a survey released today by the U.N. Association of the United States. Democrats Jimmy Carter, Rep. Morris K. Udall and Sen. Frank Church endorsed more aid. Gov. George Wallace said the aid goal set by the United Nations — 0.7 per cent of a nation's gross national product — was too high. California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., a late entry in the Democratic presidential nomination race, and former California Gov. Reagan did not respond to the association's questionnaire.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Declines Broadly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined broadly today in a carryover of Monday's steep drop.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off more than a point in the early going, and losers outpaced gainers by more than a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers said the market was still caught up in concern over rising interest rates.

Wall Streeters were watching closely to see if the Dow could hold its ground at the bottom of the 965-1,015 range in which it has fluctuated for the past three months.

Today's early prices included Royal Dutch Petroleum, down 3/8 at 47 3/8; PPG Industries, off 1/8 at 53 3/4; Hilton Hotels, up 1/8 at 18 3/8, and Deseret Pharmaceutical, unchanged at 21 1/2.

Monday's decline drove the Dow Jones industrial average down 19.22 to 971.53, its lowest closing level in six weeks.

It was the largest loss for the average since May 6, 1975, when it fell 20.88 points.

Declines overwhelmed gainers by more than a 5-1 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index dropped .96 to 53.01.

Big Board volume was a relatively light 16.56 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index tumbled 1.35 to 103.41.

He Really Didn't Ask For Tar

BUCHANAN — Warren Ransburg Sr. of 1930 Bakertown road, Buchanan, got an unwanted load of hot tar in his back yard yesterday when a tank at a nearby Berrien county highway department garage ruptured.

Ransburg called state police from the Niles post shortly before 9:30 a.m. yesterday to report that a small pond of hot tar was covering a 110-foot area in his back yard.

Police said an 8,000-gallon tank of hot tar rolled off a platform after a seam broke and crashed through a wire fence on Ransburg's property where spillage began.

County highway officials told police that the fence would be repaired, the tar would be cleaned up and new top soil would be provided to repair the damage to the yard.

Dowagiac To Break Ground

DOWAGIAC — Mayor Graham Woodhouse has announced ground breaking ceremonies for the $4 million addition to the Dowagiac waste water treatment plant will be held Tuesday, June 1, at 5:15 p.m. in front of the treatment plant on M-62 West.

The ground breaking follows approximately 10 years of planning. Sollitt Construction company, South Bend, is getting ready to prepare the site for construction. According to Henry Graper Jr., city manager, the project will take approximately 580 days to complete.

Tonight at a special meeting, the city council will be opening bids on $800,000 in bonds being sold to raise the city's portion of the plant's cost. The city was recently put under court order by Cass county Circuit Judge James E. Hoff to undertake and complete the project as soon as possible.

Interstate Gas Supply Falling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Natural gas supplies destined for interstate pipelines dropped 10.1 per cent last year and may run out by 1985, the Federal Power Commission warns.

The FPC said in a report Monday that more gas must be discovered or usage curtailed to keep from extinguishing the interstate supply.

Allegan Derailment Rips Mile Of Track

NEW RICHMOND — The derailment of 18 freight cars on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad track about 2 p.m. yesterday left over a mile of track damaged here, according to Allegan sheriff's deputies.

There were no injuries when the cars of an 80-car train bound for Chicago derailed, officers said. Cause for the derailment had not been determined this morning, officers said.

A railroad spokesman in Grand Rapids said all the derailed cars had been put back on the tracks by early this morning and track repairs were expected to be completed by 3 p.m. today.

The derailment occurred near the intersection of 58th street and 132nd avenue in Allegan county's Manlius township, about three miles north of Fennville.

Mystery Million

DETROIT (AP) — An unemployed, inner-city Detroit community leader says he has received $1 million from a suburban businessman for use in a housing rehabilition program. Christopher Alston, chairman of the Forest Park Citizens District Council, told Detroit City Council the millionaire "lives modestly in the suburbs" and has never been in the public eye. Alston refused to identify the man. Alston also described the millionaire as a "private businessman" who wants to encourage other businessmen to contribute to the project and an "oldline Detroiter who wants to see if he can do something" about abandoned houses in the inner city. Eliot Charlip, a Bloomfield Hills attorney, said he was handling the arrangements for the millionaire and two other men, who he said were willing to invest the $1 million, "or more, if more is needed," in the project. He refused to identify any of the participants.

Trouble At Cody High

DETROIT (AP) — Police arrested five persons and forced about 300 Cody High School students to disperse Monday after whites and blacks threw stones and taunted each another. The incident was one of three at city high schools with drug arrests and a shooting also reported. The two groups gathered at Cody after 1,000 of the west side school's 4,000 students were dismissed at noon. Principal Alfred Freeman said two fights, both apparently racial in origin, led the groups — each about the same size — to gather. Two students were arrested on charges of being disorderly when a group of blacks boarded a city bus. In an unrelated incident, a 19-year-old woman, Reha Gaines, was shot at Denby High School in a fight which stemmed from an argument over a boy, police said.

Smoking Ban At MSU

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — No butts about it, smoking is now banned from any Michigan State University room where "organized academic activity" takes place. The smoking ban, imposed by the school's board of trustees, will affect the school's 40,808 spring term enrollment and its 3,300 faculty members, who will have to enforce the ban in individual classrooms. Earlier this spring, some 7,400 MSU students said they wanted the smoking ban. The vote was in a special referendum conducted by the MSU student government. Trustees approved the ban Friday on a 7-1 vote, with smoker Pat Carrigan dissenting. She said the ban was unenforceable, adding it could hurt some students' class performance, especially on exams. Oakland University in Rochester also has a smoking ban in effect.

Noise Is Top City Beef

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although a new Census Bureau study shows that crime ranks sixth among Americans' complaints about their neighborhoods, a bureau analyst says that doesn't necessarily mean people consider the other problems to be more serious. A census study released Monday showed that in the 1974 annual housing survey, the most frequently cited inadequacy in neighborhoods was noise. Nearly half the households complained about noise, while only about a third complained about crime. Charles Elkins, top noise-control official at the Environmental Protection Agency, said the findings were consistent with EPA's impression that people's awareness of noise is increasing, even though the volume isn't going up that much.

Bank Firm Declares Dividend

NILES — A 20 cent quarterly dividend to be paid July 1 has been declared by Western Michigan Corp., the bank holding company owner of First National bank of Southwestern Michigan. In the action this week, the company's board voted the dividend payment to stockholders as of June 1.

A bank spokesman said first quarter net earnings of 72 cents a share compared to 65 cents a year ago were reported. Total net earnings in 1975 produced a per share net for the year of $2.57.

Western Michigan Corp. shareholders had their first annual meeting earlier this month.

At that meeting, the bank spokesman said, Board Chairman Donald F. Walter told them that over the last five year, the bank's deposits have increased 51 per cent, its loans are up by 43 per cent and net operating earnings — probably the most important indicator — increased by 114 per cent, to $1,049,000.

Walter is also president and chairman of First National bank.

In commenting on the remainder of 1976, Walter said he expect the prime lending rate to increase moderately, lending activity to increase and short term interest rates on deposits to be slightly higher. He described himself as being "cautiously optimistic about the remainder of 1976".

Walter told stockholders that the merger of First National Bank of Cassopolis into Western Michigan Corp. has advanced to the Federal Reserve board where application for approval is pending.

Hot Kiln Blamed For Fire

BERRIEN SPRINGS — An overheated kiln in the Art building at Andrews university here was blamed for a fire that did minor damage to the building this morning.

Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police said improper ventilation of the kiln caused rafters in a room in the building to catch fire. Police said that by the time firemen arrived, shortly before 7 a.m. the fire was out.

Damage to the building was confined to the rafters and was minor, police said. No damage estimate was available.

Yanks Misled By China Bluster

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles on the U.S.-China trade.

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — China's campaign against "capitalist roaders" has misled many Americans into believing that the People's Republieople's Republic isn't interested in expanding trade with the United States, a China authority asserts.

The opposite is true, said Harned Pettus Hoose, a China-born trade negotiator who already has been involved in several deals with the Chinese as a representative of U.S. corporations.

Not only do they wish to trade with us, said the Los Angeles lawyer, who since 1972 has made eight extending trips to China, where he maintains top level contacts with trade officials, but they have been trying to communicate their wishes.

But, he said, in the past two years he and other China authorities have observed that the United States has shown official disinterest in the subject, and in fact, with much of the Far East area.

Meanwhile, he said, other nations are eager to develop trade with that country and have been actively seeking to enlarge their ties. "Only the United States is hanging back," he said in an interview.

"In this 'year of almost anything but Asia,' our State Department does not indicate any particular interest in China," he said, broadening his reference to include any kind of influence in the area.

He blamed "the top echelon of the State Department" for ignoring what he said was China's desire not only to develop trade with the United States but to develop closer ties in general with this country and Japan.

Hoose, son of missionaries, lived in China through World War II, when he joined U.S. Navy intelligence forces there. Bilinqual and bicultural, he helped brief President Richard M. Nixon for his visit to China in 1972.

Sometimes, he said, the Chinese wonder if their messages get through, although he conceded that some Chinese communiques appear to have been sent through unofficial rather than established channels.

"There is a terrible lack of communication," he said. "I contend it is one thing if we study the situation and then decide not to trade," but he said it was inexcusable to default, politically and commercially, because of disinterest.

Hoose nevertheless maintains that U.S. trade with The People's Republic, which amounted to $450 million in 1975, will grow swiftly and enormously, reaching $5 billion by 1980 and much more than that by the middle of that decade.

This he said is because the Chinese, for economic and security reasons, are eager to industrialize, and many nations and individual U.S. companies are just as eager to provide them with the technology needed to begin.

"Heavy correspondence between U.S. corporations in New York, Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, Seattle and other najor industrial centers goes out almost daily to Peking's trading corporations," Hoose said.

Several negotiating teams from the United States are involved in prolonged talks with the Chinese, he said, noting that a U.S. team of steel and oil construction executives currently was in China.

He noted that Premier Hua Kuo-feng was the nation's most successful agricultural developer, having made Hunan Province's agribusiness grow rapidly in the 1960s, and that he likely would be inclined to continue such development.

Moreover, said Hoose, the new premier is supported and assisted today by very large group of financially, technically and professionally skilled people, all heavily involved in China's economic program and contacts with the West and Japan.

These aides are capable of turning China's light industry exports and natural wealth, especially oil, minerals and rice, into trade for sophisticated machinery, equipment, technology and entire plants, he said.

Utility Rate Hikes Granted In 3 Areas

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — About $1.4 million in higher rates for small utilities in three corners of Michigan were approved Monday by the Public Service Public Service Commission. The PSC granted rate increases of $679,000 to Edison Sault Electric Co., $609,513 to the Thumb Electric Cooperative and $89,374 to the Southern Telephone Co.

The increases will affect some 15,000 Sault Edison customers, 8,200 Thumb Electric customers and 7,500 Southern Telephone customers. Under the rate hikes, the average residential customers of Sault Edison will pay $14.35 a month, an increase of $1.48 or 11.5 per cent over current bills. Edison Sault's customers are located in Chippewa, Mackinac and Schoolcraft counties, and on Mackinac Island.

Thumb Electric residential customers, located in Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties, will pay an average 21.7 per cent increase. One-party phone customers of Southern Telephone will pay higher bills under their first rate increase in 10 years. Their monthly rates will range from $6.95 to $7.95. Current rates range from $5.50 to $8.

The PSC said rate increases for both Sault Edison and Thumb Electric were due in part to higher prices they had to pay for wholesale power they bought from Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison Co., respectively. A PSC official said Sault Edison's electric rates are still the lowest in the state.

Review Of Hickory Phone Hike Billed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A rate request which allowed Hickory Telephone Company's rates to soar by 54 per cent will be thoroughly reviewed, says the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The commission agreed earlier to reconsider certain limited aspects of the case, but said Monday it would hear the entire case again to avoid further delays.

The commission told the small southwest Michigan company last November it could raise rates 54 per cent. Rates of basic one-party service to the utility's 950 customers jumped from $10.60 a month to $15.35, making the rates the highest in the state for phone service.

Since then, more than 100 customers have discontinued their service in protest and lobbied for the PSC to reconsider the case and reverse its decision.

The commission also said Monday the subscribers could have access to documents dating back to 1970 for Hickory's parent company, Telephone Data Systems, Inc., of Chicago.

The commission denied the subscribers' request to have the rehearing held in Hickory Corners, where most of the company's customers reside. It also refused a request that Hickory reimburse the customers for their expense in hiring attorneys and witnesses to argue their case.

Collection of the higher rates was suspended April 13 by Ingham County Circuit Court, but ordered resumed last week by the state Court of Appeals. That appeals court ruling may be challenged in the state Supreme Court.

Credit Tightened In April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government money managers confirm they tightened credit in April in response to a sharp rise in the nation's money supply.

The action by the Federal Open Market Committee spurred slightly higher interest rates in recent weeks. Under a new policy, the committee released a report of its April meeting Monday after only a month's delay instead of the usual 45-day wait.

The amount of money in circulation and in checking accounts grew at an explosive annual rate of nearly 16 per cent in April, Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and the committee, said Monday. The annual growth rate was only 3 per cent in the first quarter of 1976.

The committee agreed at its regular monthly meeting on April 20 to set a new target for money growth of 4.5 per cent to 7 per cent during a 12-month period including April. The old target was 4.5 to 7.5 per cent.

The committee said it tightened credit in order to "encourage continued economic recovery, while resisting inflationary pressures and contributing to a sustainable pattern of international transactions."

"Most members" said "they would tolerate some modest firming in money market conditions," the committee's report said.

April's rapid money growth was due in part to a "substantial decline" in the money balances of the Treasury Department, it added.

The committee consists of Burns, the six other Federal Reserve Board governors, the chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank and a rotating group of four of the other 11 Federal Reserve Bank presidents.

Committee decisions are carried out by the Federal Reserve through actions to buy and sell government securities in financial markets. When securities are sold, money is taken out of the market, and when they are bought, money is put into circulation.

Under its old system, the report on the committee's April 20 meeting would have been withheld until June 7. The committee decided to accelerate the release of decisions at its May 18 meeting.

Burns said at a news briefing that the decision to cut the waiting time was unrelated to a suit pending in U.S. District Court that would require the committee to immediately disclose its actions.

Burns said he will continue to oppose immediate release, saying it would give "financial sophisticates" an opportunity to make a quick profit in financial markets, while small investors would be at a disadvantage.

CITY OF
ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN

The request and certification of the following projects will be submitted to HUD by the City of St. Joseph on May 28, 1976.

This request and certification relates to the application made for a grant of funds to the City of St. Joseph, under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

Funds granted to the City of St. Joseph under the Title I heading will be used to initiate the following projects:

A) Grant and Interest Subsidy Residential Rehabilitation Program

B) Acquisition and Demolition of the Sub-standard housing unit

The City of St. Joseph has prepared an environmental review record which is available for public review Monday through Friday, 8 A.M. — 4 P.M., in Room 21, City Assessor's Office, City Hall, 620 Broad Street, St. Joseph, Michigan.

The City of St. Joseph, 620 Broad Street, is the applicant for this project and its chief executive is Mayor Franklin H. Smith.

The City of St. Joseph will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

The City of St. Joseph is certifying to HUD that the City of St. Joseph and Franklin H. Smith in his official capacity as Mayor, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the City of St. Joseph may use the Block Grant Funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Envionmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept any objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases: (a) That the applicant; or (b) That applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to HUD at Community Planning and Development Representative, 5th Floor, First National Building, 660 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226 or Department of Housing and Urban Development, Denver Regional Office, Federal Building, 1961 Stout Street, Denver, Colorado 80202. Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after June 28, 1976 will be considered by HUD.

College Construction

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Community College will begin construction later this year on a campus in downtown Detroit, school officials say. Officials announced Monday the plans to build the campus straddling the John Lodge Freeway at the old Union Station site. The new complex is estimated to cost $16 million and will be funded from construction bonds. It is expected to open in late 1978. The campus is one five major centers planned by the college.

Trustees Want Social Security Taxes Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP) — American workers must begin paying higher Social Security taxes in order to guarantee that the system can continue paying benefits into the 1980s, program trustees say.

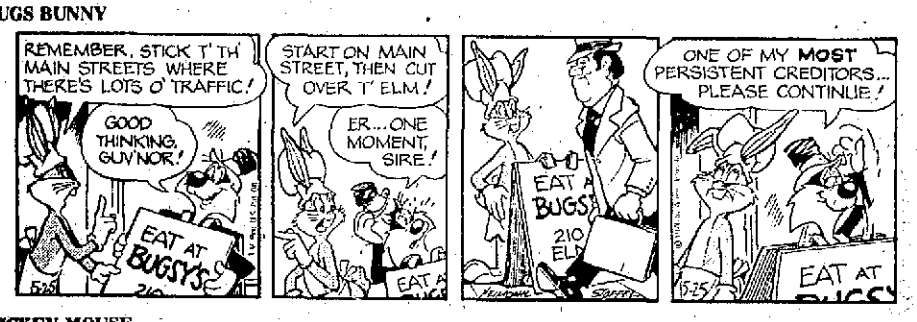

Congress so far has refused Ford Administration efforts to raise Social Security taxes deducted from workers' paychecks.

Calling for a tax increase to eliminate short-term deficits, the trustees also said threats to the system's solvency after the year 2000 are more serious than had been thought, unless the present law is changed.

In Rememberance of Sally Ann Pflugradt
We can never hold her,
We can never scold her.
We can never watch her walk or talk.
We can never see her,
We can never hear her.
But our hearts will still be near her;
And we will always wonder why
A girl like Sally had to die.

Broken Hearts

When death takes a loved one,
From within the family tree
There always are broken hearts,
And loads of misery.
It doesn't seem possible, like a
Dream we say
Hoping that we'll wake up, and
The dream will have gone away.
Yet not really knowing how, the
Days they come and go
Nothing seems to be the same,
The world has lost its glow.
Then we try to change things
With a million if's and why's
My God we pray, Why did our
Loved one have to die.
We live on, with all our
Memories of years gone by
Somehow they bring us closer
Through the laughs the tears
The sighs
Our hearts are oh so heavy tho,
And the pain is so great.
Because we try to keep alive all
The plans that were made.
If only we could learn to stop
Holding onto things that cannot be
And try to see and understand
God's plans for you and me.
Oh God, won't you please help
Us, as we try to see your way
Ease the pain of broken hearts,
There's many every day.
Bring us closer to thy will dear God
So one day we will be reunited
With our loved ones
In your land of eternity.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Declines Broadly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined broadly today in a carryover of Monday's steep drop.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off more than a point in the early going, and losers outpaced gainers by more than a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers said the market was still caught up in concern over rising interest rates.

Wall Streeters were watching closely to see if the Dow could hold its ground at the bottom of the 965-1,015 range in which it has fluctuated for the past three months.

Today's early prices included Royal Dutch Petroleum, down ⅜ at 47⅝; PPG Industries, off ⅛ at 53¾; Hilton Hotels, up ⅛ at 18⅝, and Deseret Pharmaceutical, unchanged at 21½.

Monday's decline drove the Dow Jones industrial average down 19.22 to 971.53, its lowest closing level in six weeks.

It was the largest loss for the average since May 6, 1975, when it fell 20.88 points.

Declines overwhelmed gainers by more than a 5-1 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index dropped .96 to 53.01.

Big Board volume was a relatively light 16.56 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index tumbled 1.35 to 103.41.

He Really Didn't Ask For Tar

BUCHANAN — Warren Ransburg Sr. of 1930 Bakertown Road, Buchanan, got an unwanted load of hot tar in his back yard yesterday when a tank at a nearby Berrien county highway department garage ruptured.

Ransburg called state police from the Niles post shortly before 9:30 a.m. yesterday to report that a small pond of hot tar was covering a 110-foot area in his back yard.

Police said an 8,000-gallon tank of hot tar rolled off a platform after a seam broke and crashed through a wire fence on Ransburg's property where spillage began.

County highway officials told police that the fence would be repaired, the tar would be cleaned up and new top soil would be provided to repair the damage to the yard.

Dowagiac To Break Ground

DOWAGIAC — Mayor Graham Woodhouse has announced ground breaking ceremonies for the $4 million addition to the Dowagiac waste water treatment plant will be held Tuesday, June 1, at 5:15 p.m. in front of the treatment plant on M-62 West.

The ground breaking follows approximately 10 years of planning. Sullitt Construction company, South Bend, is getting ready to prepare the site for construction. According to Henry Graper Jr., city manager, the project will take approximately 580 days to complete.

Tonight at a special meeting, the city council will be opening bids on $800,000 in bonds being sold to raise the city's portion of the plant's cost. The city was recently put under court order by Cass county Circuit Judge James E. Hoff to undertake and complete the project as soon as possible.

Interstate Gas Supply Falling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Natural gas supplies destined for interstate pipelines dropped 10.1 per cent last year and may run out by 1985, the Federal Power Commission warns.

The FPC said in a report Monday that more gas must be discovered or usage curtailed to keep from extinguishing the interstate supply.

Allegan Derailment Rips Mile Of Track

NEW RICHMOND — The derailment of 18 freight cars on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad track about 2 p.m. yesterday left over a mile of track damaged here, according to Allegan sheriff's deputies.

There were no injuries when the cars of an 80-car train bound for Chicago derailed, officers said. Cause for the derailment had not been determined this morning, officers said.

A railroad spokesman in Grand Rapids said all the derailed cars had been put back on the tracks by early this morning and track repairs were expected to be completed by 3 p.m. today.

The derailment occurred near the intersection of 58th street and 132nd avenue in Allegan county's Manlius township, about three miles north of Fennville.

Mystery Million

DETROIT (AP) — An unemployed, inner-city Detroit community leader says he has received $1 million from a suburban businessman for use in a housing rehabilition program. Christopher Alston, chairman of the Forest Park Citizens District Council, told Detroit City Council the millionaire "lives modestly in the suburbs" and has never been in the public eye. Alston refused to identify the man. Alston also described the millionaire as a "private businessman" who wants to encourage other businessmen to contribute to the project and an "oldline Detroiter who wants to see if he can do something" about abandoned houses in the inner city. Eliot Churlip, a Bloomfield Hills attorney, said he was handling the arrangements for the millionaire and two other men, who he said were willing to invest the $1 million, "or more, if more is needed," in the project. He refused to identify any of the participants.

Trouble At Cody High

DETROIT (AP) — Police arrested five persons and forced about 300 Cody High School students to disperse Monday after whites and blacks threw stones and taunted each another. The incident was one of three at city high schools with drug arrests and a shooting also reported. The two groups gathered at Cody after 1,000 of the west side school's 4,000 students were dismissed at noon. Principal Alfred Freeman said two fights, both apparently racial in origin, led the groups — each about the same size — to gather. Two students were arrested on charges of being disorderly when a group of blacks boarded a city bus. In an unrelated incident, a 19-year-old woman, Reba Gaines, was shot at Denby High School in a fight which stemmed from an argument over a boy, police said.

Smoking Ban At MSU

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — No butts about it, smoking is now banned from any Michigan State University room where "organized academic activity" takes place. The smoking ban, imposed by the school's board of trustees, will affect the school's 40,808 spring term enrollment and its 3,300 faculty members, who will have to enforce the ban in individual classrooms. Earlier this spring, some 7,400 MSU students said they wanted the smoking ban. The vote was in a special referendum conducted by the MSU student government. Trustees approved the ban Friday on a 7-1 vote, with smoker Pat Carrigan dissenting. She said the ban was unenforceable, adding it could hurt some students' class performance, especially on exams. Oakland University in Rochester also has a smoking ban in effect.

Noise Is Top City Beef

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although a new Census Bureau study shows that crime ranks sixth among Americans' complaints about their neighborhoods, a bureau analyst says that doesn't necessarily mean people consider the other problems to be more serious. A census study released Monday showed that in the 1974 annual housing survey, the most frequently cited inadequacy in neighborhoods was noise. Nearly half the households complained about noise, while only about a third complained about crime. Charles Elkins, top noise-control official at the Environmental Protection Agency, said the findings were consistent with EPA's impression that people's awareness of noise is increasing, even though the volume isn't going up that much.

Bank Firm Declares Dividend

NILES — A 20 cent quarterly dividend to be paid July 1 has been declared by Western Michigan Corp., the bank holding company owner of First National bank of Southwestern Michigan. In the action this week, the company's board voted the dividend payment to stockholders as of June 1.

A bank spokesman said first quarter net earnings of 72 cents a share compared to 65 cents a year ago were reported. Total net earnings in 1975 produced a per share net for the year of $2.57.

Western Michigan Corp. shareholders had their first annual meeting earlier this month.

At that meeting, the bank spokesman said, Board Chairman Donald F. Walter told them that over the last five year, the bank's deposits have increased 51 per cent, its loans are up by 41 per cent and net operating earnings — probably the most important indicator — increased by 114 per cent, to $1,049,000.

Walter is also president and chairman of First National bank.

In commenting on the remainder of 1976, Walter said he expect the prime lending rate to increase moderately, lending activity to increase and short term interest rates on deposits to be slightly higher. He described himself as being "cautiously optimistic about the remainder of 1976".

Walter told stockholders that the merger of First National Bank of Cassopolis into Western Michigan Corp. has advanced to the Federal Reserve board where application for approval is pending.

Hot Kiln Blamed For Fire

BERRIEN SPRINGS — An overheated kiln in the Art building at Andrews university here was blamed for a fire that did minor damage to the building this morning.

Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police said improper ventilation of the kiln caused rafters in a room in the building to catch fire. Police said that by the time firemen arrived, shortly before 7 a.m. the fire was out.

Damage to the building was confined to the rafters and was minor, police said. No damage estimate was available.

Yanks Misled By China Bluster

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles on the U.S.-China trade.

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — China's campaign against "capitalist roaders" has misled many Americans into believing that the People's Republicanple's Republic isn't interested in expanding trade with the United States, a China authority asserts.

The opposite is true, said Harried Pettus Hoose, a China-born trade negotiator who already has been involved in several deals with the Chinese as a representative of U.S. corporations.

Not only do they wish to trade with us, said the Los Angeles lawyer, who since 1972 has made eight extending trips to China, where he maintains top level contacts with trade officials, but they have been trying to communicate their wishes.

But, he said, in the past two years he and other China authorities have observed that the United States has shown official disinterest in the subject, and in fact, with much of the Far East area.

Meanwhile, he said, other nations are eager to develop trade with that country and have been actively seeking to enlarge their ties. "Only the United States is hanging back," he said in an interview.

"In this 'year of almost anything but Asia,' our State Department does not indicate any particular interest in China," he said, broadening his reference to include any kind of influence in the area.

He blamed "the top echelon of the State Department" for ignoring what he said was China's desire not only to develop trade with the United States but to develop closer ties in general with this country and Japan.

Hoose, son of missionaries, lived in China through World War II, when he joined U.S. Navy intelligence forces there. Bilingual and bicultural, he helped brief President Richard M. Nixon for his visit to China in 1972.

Sometimes, he said, the Chinese wonder if their messages get through, although he conceded that some Chinese communiques appear to have been sent through unofficial rather than established channels.

"There is a terrible lack of communication," he said. "I contend it is one thing if we study the situation and then decide not to trade," but he said it was inexcusable to default, politically and commercially, because of disinterest.

Hoose nevertheless maintains that U.S. trade with The People's Republic, which amounted to $450 million in 1975, will grow swiftly and enormously, reaching $5 billion by 1980 and much more than that by the middle of that decade.

This he said is because the Chinese, for economic and security reasons, are eager to industrialize, and many nations and individual U.S. companies are just as eager to provide them with the technology needed to begin.

"Heavy correspondence between U.S. corporations in New York, Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, Seattle and other major industrial centers goes out almost daily to Peking's trading corporations," Hoose said.

Several negotiating teams from the United States are involved in prolonged talks with the Chinese, he said, noting that a U.S. team of steel and oil construction executives currently was in China.

He noted that Premier Hua Kuo-feng was the nation's most successful agricultural developer, having made Hunan Province's agribusiness grow rapidly in the 1960s, and that he likely would be inclined to continue such development.

Moreover, said Hoose, the new premier is supported and assisted today by very large group of financially, technically and professionally skilled people, all heavily involved in China's economic program and contacts with the West and Japan.

These aides are capable of turning China's light industry exports and natural wealth, especially oil, minerals and rice, into trade for sophisticated machinery, equipment, technology and entire plants, he said.

Utility Rate Hikes Granted In 3 Areas

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — About $1.4 million in higher rates for small utilities in three corners of Michigan were approved Monday by the Public Service Public Service Commission. The PSC granted rate increases of $679,000 to Edison Sault Electric Co., $609,513 to the Thumb Electric Cooperative and $89,374 to the Southern Telephone Co.

The increases will affect some 15,000 Sault Edison customers, 8,200 Thumb Electric customers and 7,500 Southern Telephone customers. Under the rate hikes, the average residential customers of Sault Edison will pay $14.35 a month, an increase of $1.48 or 11.5 per cent over current bills. Edison Sault's customers are located in Chippewa, Mackinac and Schoolcraft counties, and on Mackinac Island.

Thumb Electric residential customers, located in Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties, will pay an average 21.7 per cent increase. One-party phone customers of Southern Telephone will pay higher bills under their first rate increase in 10 years. Their monthly rates will range from $6.95 to $7.95. Current rates range from $5.50 to $8.

The PSC said rate increases for both Sault Edison and Thumb Electric were due in part to higher prices they had to pay for wholesale power they bought from Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison Co., respectively. A PSC official said Sault Edison's electric rates are still the lowest in the state.

Review Of Hickory Phone Hike Billed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A rate request which allowed Hickory Telephone Company's rates to soar by 54 per cent will be thoroughly reviewed, says the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The commission agreed earlier to reconsider certain limited aspects of the case, but said Monday it would hear the entire case again to avoid further delays.

The commission told the small southwest Michigan company last November it could raise rates 54 per cent. Rates of basic one-party service in the utility's 950 customers jumped from $10.60 a month to $15.35, making the rates the highest in the state for phone service.

Since then, more than 100 customers have discontinued their service in protest and lobbied for the PSC to reconsider the case and reverse its decision.

The commission also said Monday the subscribers could have access to documents dating back to 1970 for Hickory's parent company, Telephone Data Systems, Inc., of Chicago.

The commission denied the subscribers' request to have the rehearing held in Hickory Corners, where most of the company's customers reside. It also refused a request that Hickory reimburse the customers for their expense in hiring attorneys and witnesses to argue their case.

Collection of the higher rates was suspended April 13 by Ingham County Circuit Court, but ordered resumed last week by the state Court of Appeals. That appeals court ruling may be challenged in the state Supreme Court.

Credit Tightened In April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government money managers confirm they tightened credit in April in response to a sharp rise in the nation's money supply.

The action by the Federal Open Market Committee spurred slightly higher interest rates in recent weeks. Under a new policy, the committee released a report of its April meeting Monday after only a month's delay instead of the usual 45-day wait.

The amount of money in circulation and in checking accounts grew at an explosive annual rate of nearly 16 per cent in April, Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and the committee, said Monday. The annual growth rate was only 3 per cent in the first quarter of 1976.

The committee agreed at its regular monthly meeting on April 20 to set a new target for money growth of 4.5 per cent to 7 per cent during a 12-month period including April. The old target was 4.5 to 7.5 per cent.

The committee said it tightened credit in order to "encourage continued economic recovery, while resisting inflationary pressures and contributing to a sustainable pattern of international transactions."

"Most members" said "they would tolerate some modest firming in money market conditions," the committee's report said.

April's rapid money growth was due in part to a "substantial decline" in the money balances of the Treasury Department, it added.

The committee consists of Burns, the six other Federal Reserve Board governors, the chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank and a rotating group of four of the other 11 Federal Reserve Bank presidents.

Committee decisions are carried out by the Federal Reserve through actions to buy and sell government securities in financial markets. When securities are sold, money is taken out of the market, and when they are bought, money is put into circulation.

Under its old system, the report on the committee's April 20 meeting would have been withheld until June 7. The committee decided to accelerate the release of decisions at its May 18 meeting.

Burns said at a news briefing that the decision to cut the waiting time was unrelated to a suit pending in U.S. District Court that would require the committee to immediately disclose its actions.

Burns said he will continue to oppose immediate release, saying it would give "financial sophisticates" an opportunity to make a quick profit in financial markets, while small investors would be at a disadvantage.

CITY OF
ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN

The request and certification of the following projects will be submitted to HUD by the City of St. Joseph on May 28, 1976.

This request and certification relates to the application made for a grant of funds to the City of St. Joseph, under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

Funds granted to the City of St. Joseph under the Title I heading will be used to initiate the following projects:

A) Grant and Interest Subsidy Residential Rehabilitation Program

B) Acquisition and Demolition of the Sub-standard housing unit

The City of St. Joseph has prepared an environmental review record which is available for public review Monday through Friday, 8 A.M. — 4 P.M., in Room 21, City Assessor's Office, City Hall, 620 Broad Street, St. Joseph, Michigan.

The City of St. Joseph, 620 Broad Street, is the applicant for this project and its chief executive is Mayor Franklin H. Smith.

The City of St. Joseph will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

The City of St. Joseph is certifying to HUD that the City of St. Joseph and Franklin H. Smith in his official capacity as Mayor, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the City of St. Joseph may use the Block Grant Funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept any objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases: (a) That the applicant; or (b) That applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to HUD at Community Planning and Development Representative, 5th Floor, First National Building, 660 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226 or Department of Housing and Urban Development, Denver Regional Office, Federal Building, 1961 Stout Street, Denver, Colorado 80202. Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after June 28, 1976 will be considered by HUD.

THIS COULD BE IT!

Do you have just a little selling experience—or maybe none at all—but have a big desire for the prestige and above-average income of a sales professional? Do you want to earn at least $12,000 in commissions the first year and go on to earn much, much more? If you enjoy helping people—if you like working unusual hours with freedom from punching a timeclock—read on.

Our representatives are highly skilled, highly paid professionals who discuss our educational programs in various academic and technical fields with prospective students. Experience in our field isn't an asset — we prefer to fully train new representatives in our successful sales methods. If you are a mature-thinking individual with an automobile, are bondable, are available for some travel, and want a secure career with an established world wide company, this could be the opportunity you've been waiting for? Sound interesting? Call Mr. Gillespie at (616) 382-6350 Monday 10 A.M. to 7 P.M. or Tuesday 9 A.M. to 7 P.M.

In Memorium 3

In Remembrance of Sally Ann Phugrodi
We can never hold her,
We can never scold her,
We can never watch her walk or talk,
We can never see her,
We can never hear her.
But our hearts will still be near her;
And we will always wonder why
A girl like Sally had to die.
By Catrina Clark (a friend)

IN MEMORY OF SALLY PFLUGRADY
Who Passed Away May 25, 1975
Broken Hearts
When death takes a loved one,
From within the family tree
There always are broken hearts,
And loads of misery.
It doesn't seem possible, like a
Dreame we say
Hoping that we'll wake up, and
The dream will have gone away.
Yet not really knowing how, the
Days they come and go
Nothing seems to be the same,
The world has lost its glow.
There are try to change things
With a million if's and why's
My God we pray, Why did our
Loved one have to die.
We live on, with all our
Memories of years gone by
Somehow they bring us closer
Through the laughs the tears
The sighs
Our hearts are oh so heavy the,
And the pain is so great.
Because we try to keep alive all
The plans that were made.
If only we could learn to stop
Holding onto things that cannot be
And try to see and understand
God's plans for you and me.
Oh God, won't you please help
Us, as we try to see your way
Ease the pain of broken hearts,
There's many every day.
Bring us closer to thy will dear God
So one day we will be reunited
With our loved ones
In your land of eternity.

JOBS—Sales 33

THIS COULD BE IT!
Do you have just a little selling experience—or maybe none at all—but have a big desire for the prestige and above-average income of a sales professional? Do you want to earn at least $12,000 in commissions the first year and go on to earn much, much more? If you enjoy helping people—if you like working unusual hours with freedom from punching a timeclock—read on.

Our representatives are highly skilled, highly paid professionals who discuss our educational programs in various academic and technical fields with prospective students. Experience in our field isn't an asset — we prefer to fully train new representatives in our successful sales methods. If you are a mature-thinking individual with an automobile, are bondable, are available for some travel, and want a secure career with an established world wide company, this could be the opportunity you've been waiting for? Sound interesting? Call Mr. Gillespie at (616) 382-4350 Monday 10 A.M. to 7 P.M. or Tuesday 9 A.M. to 7 P.M.
